Federal Pay Hike OK Dims

Postal Dispute Hurting Chances

WASHINGTON (AP)— A deadlocked wage dispute between Uncle Sam and half a million postal workers threatened today to kill prospective pay increases this year for 1½ million federal employes.

Caught in the pay squeeze is an administration-backed bill to raise postal rates 245 million dollars a year, including a penny increase in the cost of mailing letters.

Both postal pay and rate bills are being held up in the House as the result of administration objections to any pay increases without first overhauling the hoary post office job and salary setup.

Lack Backing

Organized postal groups have tried to override the House leadership and force a pay bill to the floor, but they appear to lack the necessary backing, and Congress may adjourn before and action is taken on this or related increases for a million other federal classified workers outside the postal system.

And until the pay issue is settled and the probable size of the post office deficit can be more clearly determined, administration leaders are also holding up action on a bill to raise rates on most classes of mail.

Organized postal employes asked for across-the-board raises of $800 a year and a like request has been made by other classified government workers which, if granted, would add an estimated total of 2¼ billion dollars a year to the cost of federal employment.

The House Post Office Committe, overriding Chariman Rees (R-Kan), last month approved a bill by Rep. Corbett (R-Pa) for a 7 per cent across-the-board increase in postal pay with a $240-a-year minimum and $480 maximum. The total increase would be about 200 million dollars a year.

The committee bill omitted the job and salary classification provision asked by Postmaster General Summerfield, and referred his recommendations to a joint Senate-House committee for further study.

Pigeonhole Bill

In the fact of speculation that President Eisenhower would refuse to sign any pay bill omitting a management overhaul of Post Office Department jobs, the policy-making House Rules Committee has pigeonholed the bill.

A petition to force it to the House floor for action had only 136 signatures when the House recessed Friday. A total of 218, or a majority of the 435 members, is necessary to override the Rules Committee.

With Republican leaders shooting for congressional adjournament by July 31, there appeared little chance of getting a bill through both House and Senate even if its backers succeeded in getting the necessary 218 signatures.

Warm, Humid Weather Sends Corn Shooting Up

The busines of "hearing corn grow" has become pretty old hat. But when the hot, humid summer days arrive in eastern Nebraska after spring rains some people think they can almost see the corn grow.

Take for instance the single corn stalk pictured at the left and right. This stalk was photographed just five days apart. In that short time the plant almost exactly doubled its height. Its height at the time of the first picture—note the measuring stick—was just about 17 inches. In the latter picture the plant had shot upward to a center-of-plant height of 34 inches. This height, measured conservatively, is indicated on the stick by the arrow at right.

But the growth tells only half the story. This plant was located away from any low sections of the field which might have received unusually heavy moisture. It was shorter than its neighbors and seemed if anything one of the least promising of the plants around it. The picture was taken in a field northwest of Lincoln.

The latest crop report described the Nebraska corn crop as doing well. Laying by is about completed in much of the state. With the exception of the flood-ridden ..extreme ..southeastern counties, the Nebraska corn crop, flourishing as it is, is in need of more rain to tide it over the critical weeks just ahead.

Red Press Hits Camouflaged Vodka-Easies

MOSCOW (AP) — An illegal vodka bar camouflaged behind the front of a dress shop, and other speakeasies drew fire in the Soviet youth paper Komsomol Pravda.

The Communist Youth League paper, a consistent crusader for purity and temperance, asked an intensive government drive to close down open vodka bars in the streets.

The aim of the campaign is not total prohibition such as Imperial Russia had during the first World War but to improve morals, particularly of youth, and to dry up drink spots around factories and schools. On May 25 the Ministry of Trade closed all drink-and-rum joints.

Russia Capable Of Better H-Bomb, Physicist States

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times quoted nuclear physicist Dr. Edward Teler as saying Soviet scientists ultimately may construct a more powerful hydrogen bomb than that of the United States.

"There is no question that they can, given the time and the will," the Times quoted Teller as saying.

The scientist, who is considered the chief architect of the hydrogen bomb, was interviewer by William L. Laurence at Los Alamos, N. M., the birthplace of atomic and thermonuclear weapons. The interview was "within the limits of strict security," the newspaper said.

Teller told the Times it was evident Russia came within "a few short months" of beating the United States in the hydrogen race. He based his observation in the fact that the first thermonuclear explosion in Russit took place in Aug., 1953, nine months after the first U.S. test.

Thus, the Times quoted him as saying, it is possible Societ scientists may find a short-cut, leading to a better approach than this country in making more powerful hydrogen weapons.

County Agent:

Fertilizer Steady Aid To Pastures

Brome grass demonstration plots in the county have produced some interesting answers concerning the effects of fertilizer and chiseling on pastures.

Nitrogen fertilizer was applied last fall at the rate of 30 pounds, 60 pounds and 90 pounds of available nitrogen per acre. In each case the increase was about one ton of dry hay for each 30 pounds of available nitrogen applied.

These results are in close correlation with the fertilizer recommendation for bromegrass pasture in Lancaster County of 50 to 100 ponds of available nitrogen per acre.

Chiseling brome grass pasture on the other hand gave no increase in the vigor of the grass. The chiseling was performed at various depths and spacing—and no appreciable increase in the growth of brome was measurable. On the chiseled plots which were fertilized, the production of the grass was the same as on the unchiseled plots which were fertilized with an equal quantity of nitrogen.

HST Pronounced Out Of Danger

KANSAS CITY (AP)— Former President Harry S. Truman, recovering from a major operation, was pronounced out of danger Sunday by his physicians.

A Research hospital spokesman said in view of Truman's greatly improved condition, the twice-daily bulletins issued by the hospital would be discontinued.

He underwent surgery June 20 for removal of his gall bladder and appendix. At first his recovery ran a normal course, then hit a temporary snag when enteritis (intestinal inflammation) set in. For several days his condition was listed as serious.

Fair To Host U.S. Showing Of Herefords

Nebraska State Fair officials have announced an outstanding livestock event to be held during the 1954 exposition Sept. 5 to 10.

The event will be the Cornhusker Centennial National Hereford Show which is expected to attract entries from a wide area. A total of $5,000 in open class premium awards will be offered, according to Ed Schultz, Fair Board Secretary.

This will be the second time that a national Hereford show has been held in connection with the State Fair. The first time was in 1947 when 300 head of the finest Herefords from throughout the United States were on exhibit. National Angus and Red Poll shows also have been held in connection with the fair.

Don Thompson, superintendent of beef at the fair, said both interest and the number of entries in the show is expected to run high this year.

High Himalayan 'Snowmn' Sighted By Hilliary Group

NEW DELHI (AP) — A member of Everest conquerer Sir Edmun Hillary's mountain climbing team was reported to have sighted an "abdominable snowman" in the high Himalayas.

Four members of the New Zealand team, returning from Sir Hillary's unsuccessful attempt to scale unconquered 27,790-foot Mt. Makalu, arrived at the border town of Katmandu.

A Katmandu dispatch quoted some member of the team as claiming he saw the legendary half-human creature at 17,000 feet in the Shoyang Valley of Nepal. The report said the party's tight schedule gave it no time to chase the "abominable snowman." There have been previous reports of strange creatures in the high Himalayas.

GOP Nomination Action Is Clouded

timing would be important because Marsh has to certify the ballot to county clerks by July 16.

The court procedure may be further complicated by John Quinn, Lincoln public relations man, who also submitted a filing before midnight on Thursday. His application was pushed under the door of the secretary of state's office. He has employed attorneys to study the legality of his action.

Quinn contends his filing has more validity than Buffett's in that he waited until after Sen. Butler's death and a vacancy existed before paying his filing fee. He also argues that the law says the filing shall be made at the office not at the home of the secretary of state.

Regardless of the court's ruling, Green will be the Democratic nominee. If Buffett or Quinn should be held to have made proper filings, Hruska will be dropped as the Republican nominee and the winner of the court action will be the nominee.

Quinn, a staunch pro-Eisenhower supporter, says that he hopes that the court refuses the Buffett bid as well as any action he may take. He asserts his action was merely to head off Buffett, who has opposed the administration, from getting the nomination unopposed.

Who the Republican nominee will be cannot be determined until after the court acts.

NAM Opposes Guaranteed Pay, President States

WASHINGTON (AP) — The president of the National Assn. of Manufacturers said Sunday his organization doesn't believe a guaranteed annual wage for workers, as now sought by many labor unions, is practical.

Harold C. McClellan, NAM head, interviewed on the NBC TV-radio show "Meet the Press," said there is no way of guaranteeing a specific annual wage to workers now paid on an hourly basis unless business has some definite way of knowing ahead of time how much money it will make. This isn't possible now in most cases, he said, adding:

"We should avoid making commitments as companies which endanger the financial position of the companies and of all the employes in them."

McClellan said there is no way of knowing whether sales may drop off and a firm shouldn't be forced to pay more workers than it needs.

State's Traffic Toll Is Slowing Down

Nebraska is whittling down her traffic fatality records, according to State Safety Patrol Col. C. J. Sanders.

The state had only 14 traffic deaths during June as compared to 29 deaths in the same month a year ago. The 1954 record is the second lowest June traffic toll list since the state has kept records. The lowest was 10 deaths in June, 1946.

June marked the beginning of Gov. Robert Crosby's program to reduce deaths on the highways. On June 1, 26 patrolmen were released from truck weighing and operators' license examining duties for full time traffic enforcement work. The state also began on that date using radar and light planes to check speeding.

'Congress Taking Foreign Policy Job From Ike'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. McCormack (D-Mass) said Congress is taking the initiative on foreign policy away from President Eisenhower.

He said Congress, by taking the lead on three major foreign policy issues in a week, had showed a "lack of confidence" in administration leadership.

McCormack, deputy House Democatic leader, named two of the congressional actions as a resolution warning Communists out of the Western Hemisphere, and a proposal in the foreign aid bill to cut off aid to any nation joining a non agression pact with Asian Communists.

In each case, he said, Congress has taken over functions which rightly belong to the executive branch.

Seward Crash Fatal To Tot

Three Nebraskans and a four-year-old Iowa child died in Fourth of July weekend accidents in the state, one occuring near Seward.

The last of the four deaths occurred in the outskirts of Omaha. Mrs. Helen Laushman, 47, of Omaha was killed when the car in which she was riding collided with another at the intersection of 144th and Center.

She was riding in the car with her husband Paul, who was hospitalized with undetermined injuries, the Associated Press said.

The Safety Patrol said a car driven by Merle Browning slid into the intersection and collided with the Laushman car. Browning was taken to Douglas County jail for investigation and then released on $100 bond.

Two passengers in the Browning car are in Omaha hospitals with undetermined injuries. They are: Gary Frost, 19, of Crescent, Ia., and Margaret Pruitt, 18, of Council Bluffs.

Earlier Sunday evening, little Janet Clair Bell, 4, of Crescent, Ia., was instantly killed in a two car collision when she apparently struck a gutter post and was decapitated eight miles east of Seward on Highway 34.

She was one of nine persons riding in a car, which rolled on its top after colliding with a car approaching the highway from a county road.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bell of Crescent.

Lincolnites Hurt

Injured in the same car, driven by the father of the dead child, were two Lincolnites. They are Joy, 24, and Tommy Brow, 1, both of 1045 Hartley. They were treated at the Seward Hospital and later released.

Those injured in the car driven by Dean D. Soulek, 22, of Lake Andes, S. D., include James Bryant, 16, of 2111 K, who suffered a shoulder injury and who was treated at Seward Hospital and released; Duane Trumble, 22, of 2525½ So. 12th, who was treated at home for an injured jaw; Mrs. Marilyn Trumble, 20, and their son, Danny, 2, of the same address, who were treated in Lincoln at St. Elizabeth's Hospital for minor abrasions and later released.

Joan Bell, 17, of Council Bluffs, riding in the Bell car, suffered a deep gash in the leg, and was held overnight at the Seward Hospital.

Others in the same car who were treated and released are Elaine Bell, 29, of Crescent, Ia., Donald M. Bell, 2, of Crescent; Pearl C., 47, of Council Bluffs, Ia., and Michael Brow, 2, of Crescent, Ia.

Two Others

Others killed in state holiday accidents were Mrs. Ruth Ruffing 43, Lyman, and Frank Karges, 58, Silver Creek.

Mrs. Ruffing died Sunday afternoon during a holiday outing by two Lyman families when the car she was riding left the road 15 miles west of Scottsbluff in the Wildcat Hills and plunged into a small canyon.

Karges, a truck farmer near Silver Creek, was walking along U.S. Highway 30 three-quarters of a mile from Silver Creek when he was struck by a car driven by John W. Cerney, 53, Carroll, Iowa.

The deaths brought to 138 the number of persons killed in Nebraska traffic deaths this year, 16 more than a year ago on the same date.

Nation, 214

Traffic deaths reported nationally at the 54-hour mark of the 78-hour holiday period numbered 214. One hundred three drownings and 41 miscellaneous accident fatalities brought to 358 the overall count.

They're Together Again

Newman Grove Woman Sees Her Brother After 41 Years

By JOHN SWANSON
Star Staff Writer

NEWMAN GROVE, Neb.—There is a lot of excited conversation in the Gus Brinell house here, and the reason is easy to understand.

The excitement began with the arrival of Mrs. Brinell's brother from Sweden, an arrival which marked the first time in 41 years that she had seen any member of her immediate family in Sweden. So, conversing in Swedish because the brother, Carl Palmer, does not speak English, the two have a lot of reminiscing to catch up on.

Palmer, who celebrated his 73rd birthday on the ship coming to the United States, reported that he is bearing up well under the un-Scandinavian heat which beats down on Nebraska these days. This country, by the way, looked to Palmer about like he had visualized it.

Go To Texas

After spending some time with the Brinells here, Palmer and his hosts will drive to Texas to see some more relatives. He will return to Sweden in August on the liner Kungsholm.

Still not quite over the excitement of being reunited with part of her family after an absence of more than two score years, Mrs. Brinell proudly pointed out that she had no difficulty in recognizing her brother when he stepped from the plane in Omaha. She admits, however, that the job wouldn't have been so easy if she hadn't seen some recent photographs of him.

The night before his arrival, Palmer telephoned Mrs. Brinell from Chicago. Said she, "Until then I hardly dared believe he was really coming."

Palmer said the relations between Sweden and this country are excellent, and contrary to some reports, the experiments with the hydrogen bomb have done nothing to cause ill feeling toward America. He described the Swedish government as somewhat socialistic, and said there were few Communists in the country.

Airman, 31, Admits Gravel Pit Rape-Slaying Of Texas Tot, 3

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A 31-year-old airman admitted Sunday the brutal rape-murder of pretty, blonde 3-year-old Chere Jo Horton in an old gravel pit southwest of here Saturday night.

The tot had been abducted from her parents' car parked in front of a cafe near Lackland Air Force Base.

"I assume all responsibility for what has happened," Airman 3C Jimmy N. Shaver, a tactical instructor at Lackland, said in a written statement to officers.

Bexar County Police investigator Dean Jones said murder charges against Shaver were filed Sunday afternoon with Justice of the Peace L. H. Talbert. Shaver was remanded in jail without bond.

Jones said Shaver made a statement in which he said he remembered taking the child to the gravel pit but "blacked out" after that.

"He blamed it on drinking," Jones said.

Trainee Cleared

A 20-year-old basic trainee at Lackland from Durham, N. C. who had been questioned was completely cleared in the case, Jones said. Shaver had given officers the trainee's name.

The child's broken body was found early Sunday morning after about 200 searchers, including 100 from Lackland AFB, combed the thickly wooded area. She lay face up, her body twisted and her underclothing gone. In her right hand she clutched a whisp of blonde hair that officers believe she tore from her own head.

A hospital examination showed both jaws broken, other head injuries and both hips dislocated. A post mortem examination showed the child had been raped.

The child's father, mother and 5-year-old brother were in the cafe when the girl was taken from the car parked just outside the cafe. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Horton said the child had been gone from the cafe "just minutes" before Mrs. Horton went to see if Chere Jo was all right, and found her missing.

At first it was believed she had strayed from the car and become lost.

Shortly after the body was found County Highway Patrolman Eugene Talbert found a car parked a few hundred yards from the murder scene. On the door handle hung a pair of shredded child's underwear.

Shirtless Stumbling

Talbert waited by the car, he said, and a few minutes later a shirtless figure came stumbling down an incline from a bluff which overlooked the gravel pit. Talbert said he drew his gun and arrested Shaver. He said Shaver's pants were speckled with blood and there were many scratches on his bare arms and chest.

French, Rebels Confer

'Truce Decision Up To Geneva'

HANOI, Indochina (AP) — French Union and Vietminh officers held their first meeting Sunday at Trung Gia, Indochina's Panmunjom, to consider details of a possible cease fire in the nearly eight-year-old Indochinese War.

Trung Gia is in the center of a neutral zone about 4½ miles in diameter carved out of Vietminh-held territory 25 miles north of Hanoi.

The chief rebel representative said he considered the meeting a "step forward" toward peace, while the French spokesman was careful to emphasize that any final decision on a truce is up to the Geneva conference.

A joint communique issued after the meeting said it had been conducted in a favorable atmosphere. It said the two delegations agreed on what their job was, what the principles of the negotiations were to be and an agenda.

Concrete questions will be taken up at the next closed-door session set for Monday, the communique said.

French Pull Out

The meeting was postponed from last Monday because of uneasiness on the part of France's Vietnamese allies over what concessions might be made to the Communist-led Vietminh. It came after the French disclosed they were pulling out of the southern sector of the Red River Delta to strengthen defenses farther north—a move which was denounced by Viet Nam political leaders. French Union forces under heavy rebel attack withdrew from Phu Ly, key communications center 35 miles south of Hanoi.

"Discussions on the spot always have a greater chance of being concrete and realistic," Gen. Van Tien Dung, head of the Vietminh delegation, said. "We can say that the present meeting marks a step forward on the way toward the settlement of the Indochinese War by negotiation . . .

"The delegation of the high command of the Viet Nam People's Army (Vietminh) is aware of the important mission of this conference. It will spare no effort to bring it to a successful conclusion, not only to put into rapid execution the agreements reached by both parties at Geneva and to settle on the spot the questions they deem necessary to raise, but also to make useful suggestions to the Geneva conference with the purpose of rapidly reaching a cease fire, an armistice, and the reestablishment of peace in Indochina."

Main Conference

Col. Paul Lennuyeux, head of the French delegation, made it plain the French consider the main conference is the one at Geneva.

"It is not up to us to decide the issue of the war here," he said. "It is only our business to study concrete remedies for certain painful problems born of the war and how, if Geneva should so decide, an end can be made of the fighting locally.

He added the French delegation would carefully avoid any general, political, ideological, or propagandistic discussion. Lennuyeux declared:

"We have met to seek out together all the conditions for the practical application of the decisions made at Geneva. We also shall propose, taking into account our detailed knowledge of the situation in this country, concrete solutions which may enlighten and help the negotiators at Geneva in their work on the decisions they will have to make."

Demos Are Unanimous; Buffet Asks Court Ruling

...GOP Nomination Clouded By Action

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

With less than 24 hours notice, due to restrictions in state law, the Democratic central committee assembled in Lincoln after long auto drives and plane flights with but one thought in mind — to nominate James Green, Omaha attorney, as their candidate to succeed the late Sen. Hugh Butler.

No other person was even suggested as by acclamation the committe selected the father of seven children, who has become prominent nationally as chairman of the Americanization committee of the American Legion and statewide as commander of the Omaha Legion post. He twice has been nominated as national commander of the Legion.

The committee then heard short talks from their other candidates and stood in silent prayer for the late Nebraska senior senator. While praise was given Sen. Butler for his service to the state, it did not extend to members of his political party fighting to be his successor even before the veteran Nebraska legislator passed away in Washington following a stroke.

At the same time Republican Central Committee members were meeting as prescribed by law. Various factions were espousing the candidacy of their own choices and five were finally nominated.

Gov. Robert Crosby broke precedent of waiting until after the funeral of public officials before announcing appointment of a successor. As the meeting opened he stated that he was naming Sam Reynolds of Omaha to the vacancy until the November election.

Two ballots were taken before Rep. Roman Hruska of Omaha obtained one more than a majority of the 62 delegates present and was declared the party nominee. Others nominated included: Chief Justice Robert Simmons of Lincoln and from Omaha, Howard Buffett, Charles Reed and Ted Metcalfe.

Rep. Hruska held the lead on both ballots with Buffett in second place.

Immediately after having his bid for the nomination rejected by the party central committee, Buffett appealed to the State Supreme Court asking it to grant him leave to file an original writ of mandamus against Secretary of State Frank Marsh to require him to recognize a filing he attempted to make after the usual deadline.

Buffett had paid his filing fee in Omaha before Sen. Butler died on Thursday and maintained a "death watch" in Lincoln until the secretary of state closed his office at 5 p.m. He returned to Omaha but left his filing papers with a Lincoln attorney and they were delivered at Marsh's home after Butler's death at 9:15 p.m.

Attorney General C. S. Beck had ruled on the basis of a Minnesota Supreme Court decision and Nebraska law fixing state office hours that the filing period ended at 5 p.m. On Friday, Marsh returned the filing left at his home in behalf of Buffett.

Ruling Tuesday

Because of the Saturday afternoon closing followed by Sunday and Monday being a legal holiday, the Supreme Court will not consider the motion until the members assemble on Tuesday. At that time the court will either grant or refuse Buffett permission to be heard on an origianl motion in that court.

Buffett has announced that if he is denied a place on the Republican ballot, that after the primary he will file by petition as an independent candidate.

If the court decides to hear the Buffett petition for a writ, it is expected that it will allow a reasonable time for the attorney general on behalf of March to file an answer to the allegations made by Buffett. If the court should rule in favor of Buffett,

OMAHA (AP)—The body of Senator Hugh Butler arrived in Omaha Sunday night.

On the train which carried the wreath-covered casket were Reps. Roman Hruska and Carl Curtis, Sam Reynolds, newly appointed to serve in Butler's spot until the November election, and Lorne Kennedy, administrative assistant to Sen. Eve Bowring.

Hruska and Reynolds met and boarded the special car at Glenwood, Ia.

Many friends and associates of the senator met the train at the station.

Mundt Will Push House Package Bill

Flexible Opponents Seek Reversal Of Last Week's Parity Setback

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lawmakers opposed to the Eisenhower program of flexible farm price supports outlined a Senate strategy Sunday they hope may reverse the setback they suffered in the House last week.

Sn. Mundt (R-SD), a member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, said he plans to substitute the one-package House farm bill for one now pending in the Senate committee.

"Then we could knock out the flexible 82½ to 90 per cent section, redefine some other points and send it on to the Senate," Mundt said. "I think a bipartisan farm bloc there is strong enough to put across 90 per cent for the basic crops."

Mundt is a member of a group that favors continuation of the present system of rigid supports at 90 per cent of parity. He said if his move is successful it would send the general farm bill back to the House for two possible actions.

1. A second House test on rigid versus flexible supports in an effort to overturn last week's 228-170 vote in favor of a flexible system ranging between 82½ and 90 per cent of parity.

2. A Senate-House compromise that would raise the lower limit of flexible supports to "somewhere between 82½ and 90 per cent." This would be getting still further away from the administration request for a range of between 75 and 90 per cent.

Minimum Level

"Farm state senators know that the minimum support level will act as a floor under most farm prices in a time of surplus," Mundt said.

"If we could raise that above 82½ per cent it would help."

Mundt's proposal would amount to a rebellion within the Senate Agriculture Committee against the chairman, Sen. Aiken (R-Vt), a stronger supporter of the Eisenhower flexible program.

Aiken's plan is to continue working on a separate Senate bill, starting Wednesday, bring this to the Senate for final decisions and then let a Senate-House conference committee iron out differences between the two bills.

Sen. Young (R-ND), also a supporter of rigid supports, said he would support the Mundt move to work on the House bill.

"And I think we have the votes in committee to do it," Young added.

The Senate committee already has lined up 8-7 in favor of a one year extension of 90 per cent supports but Aiken said he is confident that the Senate would reserve this decision.

Chance Of Victory

Mundt, Young and other backers of rigid high level farm supports think they have a chance of winning on the Senate floor.

Earlier this year the Senate rejected by a 48-40 vote an effort to extend rigid supports. It was offered as a rider to a separate wool bill which the House included in its general farm bill now back on the Senate side.

Some senators who voted against rigid supports then said they might favor them later but did not want to clutter up the wool bill. Eight senators were not recorded on that test.

Near 1,000 At Band Concert; Singfests Start

About 800 to 1,000 persons attended the season's first Antelope Park band concert Sunday evening.

The band is conducted by John Shildneck. Soloists were Margaret Kroese, vocals, and a trumpet trio, Roger Brendle, Jack McKie and Norman Cizek.

The season's first singfest was also held at Pinewood Bowl at Pioneers Park, opening a series of seven singfests to be held there during the summer.

Chief Justice Robert G. Simmons of the state Supreme Court delivered the meditation.

Accidental Shot Kills Farmer Near Aurora

AURORA, Neb (AP)— J. W. (Bill) Smith, about 55, was killed Sunday on his farm 2½ miles west of here by the accidental discharge of a shotgun.

Smith had driven his tractor to a field and taken the shotgun along. He left the tractor and apparently was climbing a fence and had set his gun down on the opposite side when it discharged.

His wife found the body when she went to look for him.

She told Hamilton County Sheriff Ralph Spry that badgers had been cutting holes through irrigation ditches in the area and that her husband had taken the shotgun along for that reason.

Spry said the death was accidental.

Police Dogged By Complaints Of Fireworks

"There are just too few policemen to cover the town," Police Lieutenant Paul Beave said.

He was speaking of the approximately 50 telephone complaints of exploding firecrackers that desk operator Floyd Orr received during Fourth of July eve, Sunday night.

Beave said police do not know where the "bootleg fireworks" are coming from. The men, he said, are trying to follow up as many complaints as they can.

Only one hospital, Bryan Memorial, reported any injuries as a result of fireworks. Hospital attendants said an unidentified teen-age boy was treated and released for a minor finger burn during the day.

Man, 23, Admits Robbing Store

A 23-year-old Lincoln resident admitted to police he took $150 from Grenemeier's Liquor Store at 207 No. 9th, police said.

The Brush, Colo., man, who is being held at the city jail on an open charge pending a visit at the county attorney's office Tuesday, was nabbed in connection with the robbery less than five minutes after the robbery had been reported to police by the owner.

John Alt of 1430 So. 7th, in charge of the liquor store, said a robber pretended he had a gun by keeping his hand stuck in his pocket.

When police arrested the suspect, he was not armed.

Solons Fulbright, Short Oppose Knowland's U.N. Stand

WASHINGTON (AP)— Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) and Rep. Short (R-Mo) said Sunday they don't agree with Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) that the United States should quit the United Nations if it admits Red China to membership.

Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) said he would "seriously consider" the idea.

The three gave their views on TV-radio shows in answer to questions about Knowland's statement last week that if Communist China is seated in the U.N. he would resign as Republican Senate leader and devote his efforts to getting this country out of the organization.

Fulbright and Hickenlooper, members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, appeared on NBC's "American Forum of the Air." Short, chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, was interviewed on NBC's "Youth Wants to Know."

Short said that to admit Red China to the U.N. would be "appeasement" and would further weaken the U.S. position and that of all the free world. And while he is "fed up" by Russia's veto of vital issues, Short said, "I want us to continue, certainly for the time, as a member of the United Nations to support it."

What he would like this country to do, Short declared, is "sever all diplomatic relations with Soviet Russia and refuse to trade with any of the Communist countries." Most of this country's trouble stems from U.S. recognition of the Soviet Communist regime, he said, which "under the cloak of diplomacy, gained access to many of our secrets and much of the materials we have given to them."

Fulbright said the U.N., "as inadequate as it is, is the only alternative we have, now, for the long-term future, to the old policy of war at nearly every occasion there is a disagreement."

Hickenlooper said the United States should use its veto to keep

Sen Fulbright Rep. Short

Red China out of the U.N. because "there is a tremendous international morale problem involved if Red China is permitted to shoot itself" into the organization.

Fulbright and Hickenlooper took somewhat different views toward British Prime Minister Churchill's recent plea for a try at "peaceful coexistence" with the Russians.

It is possible, Fulbright said, adding: "The only alternative is war." He said "we have co-existed in this same world with them ever since there has been a Communist group."

Line Needed

Hickenlooper said coexistence would be possible only if a line could be drawn as to just how far the policy would be followed. This, he said, would require "complete, vigorous and sincere cooperation with the other nations and especially the other so-called powers," and "we have been unable to get that thus far."

"There is no such thing as a long range, coexistence with a philosophy whose ultimate purpose is to enslave this country and other countries," Hickenlooper declared.

Asked if this country could "go it alone," he answered "yes," but said "it would be disastrous and devastating" and "probably would destroy our economy as we know it."

Fulbright blamed "recent cleavages" between this country and Britain and France largely on "the influence or effect of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) in Europe." He said it has caused "a questioning of our capacity to lead and a capacity to manage our own affairs."

The Arknsas senator also sharply criticized Vice President Nixon for saying last week that former Secretary of State Dean Acheson's policy was responsible for the crisis in Asia.

That approach was successful during the 1952 campaign, Fulbright said, and the Republicans, "being unable to think of any affirmative policy," have "had to fall back upon a lot of scandalous statements and corruption and communism."

Such statements as Nixon's, he said, make a bipartisan foreign policy "almost impossible and it is obviously become more and more difficult to have a bipartisan or nonpartisan policy."

Senator Byrd Says He Will Oppose Increase In Debt Limit

Announcement Jolts Administration

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Byrd (D-Va) jolted administration hopes of obtaining a financial breather Sunday by announcing he will oppose any increase in the 275 billion dollar federal debt limit.

Byrd, a key member of the Senate Finance Committee, said in an interview that Senate passage of the administration's tax bill in his opinion makes it unnecessary to raise the legal limit on government borrowing.

"The revenue loss from this bill is not as much as had been anticipated," the Virginia senator said. "I don't think it is necessary to raise the limit now, particularly since the Treasury has about six billion dollars on hand and can borrow another five billion under the present limit.

"The Treasury said last year when it didn't get the increase that it would be in all kinds of financial difficulties. But they cut back expenditures by two billion dollars and the country hasn't gone to pot."

Administration officials have made it clear they will ask the Finance Committee to act on a bill approved by the House last year to lift the limit to 290 billion dollars. They have indicated they will be willing to compromise on a lesser increase.

Chairman Ferguson (Mich) of the Senate Republican Policy Committee said he expects a formal administration request for action soon. He said attempts will be made to bring the issue to a vote in the Senate before Congress adjourns, around the end of July.

But Republican leaders were not at all certain of holding their ranks intact in a controversy involving the political issue of further deficit spending.

Sen. Williams (R-Del), a Finance Committee member and one of the Senate conferees on the tax bill, said he has yet to be convinced the debt limit ought to be raised. Although the Senate version of the tax bill would mean only about 100 million dollars in revenue loss in the next year, in subsequent years the loss might exceed one billion dollars annually.

Sen. George (D-Ga), another key member of the Finance Committee, said he wants to see what sort of agreement can be reached on compromising Senate - House differences in the tax measure before he decides finally how he will vote on a debt limit increase.

Compromise Possible

There are indications that Treasury officials would be willing to settle for some sort of compromise under which some government debts could be taken out from under the statutory limitation but Byrd said he wants none of that and would rather vote for a straight increase.

There also was a possibility that a boost of from 5 to 8 billion dollars in the ceiling would be proposed within the Senate committee, rather than the 15 billion increase which the House has approved.

Demos Smile As Green Nomination Certified

Wide smiles identified Democratic Party leaders as they certified the nomination of James Green of Omaha as their candidate for the U. S. Senate. He was nominated by acclamation at a meeting of the State Central Committee. 14 Little Feet Occupy Green

Enthusiastic Democrats were urging James Green, their nominee for U. S. Senator, to take time out from receiving congratulations long enough to telephone his wife in Omaha and advise her of the action of the state central committee.

"Tell her to dress up the children as befits the family of a senatorial candidate," one advised. Green has seven children under the age of 13.

"Tell her she can now serve butter to the family rather than oleo," another was advising while Green was attempting to carry on a telephone conversation with a well wisher.

"Keep quiet," Green grinned and then offered a dour face. "If I follow your advice, when I get home she will insist that I repair the screen door. If you don't have small children you can't know how often the little feet kick holes in screens."

Cochran, Yeager Harmon Winners

NEW YORK (AP)— Miss Jacqueline Cochran and Air Force Maj. Charles E. Yeager Sunday were named the winners of the 1954 Harmon International Aviation Awards.

Miss Cochran, of New York City, was selected, the Harmon trustees said, "for becoming the first woman to break through the sound barrier on May 18, 1953, at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., when she set a closed course speed record of 652 miles per hour in an F86 Sabre jet."

Yeager, U.S. Air Force test pilot attached to the Edwards Base, was cited "for outstanding contributions to the field of supersonic flight achieved through piloting the X1A, a rocket - powered experimental aircraft, to a speed of more than 1,600 miles per hour Dec. 12, 1953" at his home base.

Earthquake Hits Island Of Java

JAKARATA, Indonesia (INS)—A locally severe earthquake shook parts of the Pacific island of Java.

The tremor reportedly smashed warehouses at the rail center and seaport of Semarang on the north central coast. Quays were swept away by gigantic waves apparently caused by the quake.

The Indonesian Meteorological Service reported the tremor broke its seismograph at Jakarata at the island's northwest corner.

Col. Armas Is Collecting 'Atrocity Proof'

GUATEMALA (AP)—Guatemala's new man of the hour, Col. Carlos Castillo Armas, said Sunday his victorious rebel command is collecting "much information" on alleged atrocity charges against ousted President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman and his Communist-backed regime.

He said in an interview the data probably will be submitted to the United Nations.

He said his rebel forces, whose two-week campaign after an invasion from exile June 18 toppled the former leftist govrenment, consider Arbenz and a number of his colleagues "criminals" and declared they "must be punished."

Take Refuge

Arbenz and Foreign Minister Guillermo Toriello have taken refuge in the steel-shuttered Mexican Embassy and have been reported preparing to fly out of the country Monday.

The declaration by Castillo Armas today indicated the junta may be building up a court case against Arbenz.

No! 2 Post

Castillo Armas has agreed to take a secondary post on the junta, with Col. Elfrego H. Monzon holding the presidency until July 17 when a "permanent" president is chosen. It is unprecedented in Latin America for the leader of a successful rebellion not to insist upon getting the top post. Castillo Armas's supporters are openly disgruntled with the present junta arrangement and want him to be president even though he has said emphatically he doesn't want the job.

Even though the rebel leader has spurned the top seat for the moment, there was no doubt in this Central American capital that he is the new public idol.

Sale Of 'Crackers By Firemen Halted

OMAHA (AP) — Chief Douglas County Deputy Sheriff Gordon Falkenberg Sunday ordered an end to sale of fireworks at the Irvington Fire Station.

The Irvington volunteer fire department had moved out its rescue squad unit to make way for a fireworks stand.

Falkenberg ordered an end to the fireworks sales because they were taking place in an unincorporated village. He explained all explosive fireworks are banned by state law but said enforcement of the law in incorporated places is up to the local law enforcement agency.

Signs at the western outskirts of Omaha advertised fireworks sales in Waterloo, also. Waterloo is incorporated, Falkenberg said.

Man Hurt By 10-Foot Leap Into Shallows

Dale Nelson, 21, of 1509 Rose suffered head and back injuries when he jumped off a 10 foot wall into three feet of water at Linoma Beach Sunday.

He was reported early Monday morning in "good condition" at St. Elizabeth's Hospital where he is being held.

Candidates, Officials Issue Statements

After the meetings of state central committees as provided by law to select candidates for the vacancy caused by the death of Sen. Hugh Butler, the following statements were made by those named or would be nominees.

James F. Green, Democratic nominee: "All of us feel a sense of the tragic that the decision was foisted on us so soon by law after the passing of a great American. We are proud of him as a Senator even though he was from the other party."

Sam Reynolds, appointed by the governor to succeed Sen. Butler until the November election: "Needless to say, I am very appreciative of the great honor. I am very humble." He explained that he was breaking a life-long rule. "Whenever I have been asked to run for public office I have said, 'No thanks; I'd rather be the cussor than the cussee.'"

Rep. Roman Hruska, GOP committee choice: "We are not today naming a United States Senator. We are naming someone who is given the privilege which—with a lot of hard work by right-thinking people—will result in the election of a United States Senator in November."

Howard Buffett, whose late filing was rejected as was his nomination by the committee, made his statement in writing in a motion filed with the Supreme Court seeking to mandamus the secretary of state to put his name on the ballot.

STAN DELAPLANE'S POSTCARD

London's unpredictable weather has been blowing hot and cold again. Cold one day, sweltering the next.

This makes little difference to the English. An Englishman dresses by the calendar rather than by the weather. Easter marks the beginning of spring. And though it may be snowing in the streets out come the bicycle riders in shorts.

The businessman on the commuter special leaves off his Burberry and appears in starched collar, Oxford gray pinstripes, bowler hat and furled umbrella.

His only concession to color is The Tie.

On bustling Regent Street, the shop windows are filled with the most startling spring apparel. Blue velvet hunting caps. Gray toppers. Tweed caps. Yellow corduroy caps. Caps in violent plaids.

I could not tell you who wears them. For I have never seen them on trains, streets or the big red doubledeck buses.

The Tie is another matter.

I had lunch the other day at at the Royal Air Club with Mr. E. A. Chris Wren. Mr. Wren wears the blue tie with tiny golden, red-crowned propellers of the club.

"The Tie," said Mr. Wren, "is the Englishman's method of swank in a sort of left-handed way.

"The Old School Tie has been expanded to the Regimental Tie, the Squadron Tie, the Tie for Men Who Were Shot Down in the Channel. The golden caterpillars of the Caterpillar Club who bailed out of planes. And so on.

The English are very reticent. If an Englishman speaks to you on the train, he usually mentions the weather.

"Now with all The Ties, it makes a great conversational gambit.

"Somebody speaks to you. He says: 'By the way, old boy, what is that tie you're wearing? The Daily Mail Abominable Snowman Expedition?'

"You say, modestly of course: 'No, chappie, the Daily Twenty Club. For the chaps who splashed 20 Huns a day. Jolly place and rather good food, what?'"

☆ ☆ ☆

As I get it, The Tie wedges you into a guarded conversation as the commute trains rattle toward London.

You may then take up sundry subjects in the news of the day.

The Daily Mail's expedition into the high Himalayas in search of the Abominable Snowman has sent back three Tibetan wolf cubs, two snowcocks, a game bird that lives at 12,000 feet, two satyr tragopan pheasants from Nepal and a small panda.

Princess Margaret has ridden a helicopter.

A four-column picture of the Queen at Ascot shows her with a long, slim white tube in her hand. This has started a fountain of printer's ink: "Was the Queen Really Smoking a Cigarette?"

There are two schools of thought. The conservative side says the Queen was holding a white pencil. Presumably for working out the Daily Double.

Marlene Dietrich opened at a West End cabaret. Frederick Alfred Short, 26, Jamaica Road, Bermondsey will appear in court after appearing in a mob of fans at the stage entrance. Charges: Insulting words and behavior and assaulting a constable.

The Sunday Express begins "The Woman Who Might Have Been Queen." In Paris, the Duke of Windsor issues a statement—"that he does not know the author, Mr. Bocca; the first article was filled with inaccurate statements; Mr. Bocca had no access to his records or documents."

An East London father appears in court, asking help in controlling his five-year-old son "who has got in with the roughs of Cable street."

This precocious youngster "kicked and pushed his mother until she was black-and-blue, used violent and bad language and wore out three pairs of trousers every week."

☆ ☆ ☆

All this could not be discussed without the opening afforded by The Tie. Quantas, the Australian air line, has a tie. Little white flying Kangaroos on a maroon base. I can hardly wait for someone to ask me about mine. "For a few of us chaps who HOPPED out of France," I'll say. Then we will go on to the news.

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—Foreign Minister Mario Esquivel said Costa Rica will receive "modern arms" from the United States next week.

Ex-Movie Director, Communist Relates Hard Times Story

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Frank W. Tuttle, 61, who once earned $50,000 a year as a movie director, said that since admitting he was once a Communist, he has been reduced to living off the "bounty" of two daughters.

The Yale-educated Tuttle, once one of Hollywood's top directors, told Los Angeles Superior Judge Elmer D. Doyle of his downfall in seeking a modification of support payments to his former wife, Tatiana.

At the same time, an attorney declared that he would start "appropriate legal action" against Tuttle for assertedly leaving his third wife, Clara, stranded in Italy.

Tuttle, who appeared before the House Un-American Activities Committee in 1951 as a "friendly" witness and admitted having been a Communist for 10 years, said in an affidavit presented in the support hearing that he has earned an average of only $75 a week during the last six years.

The document added that at present, "I have been reduced to the state where I am living on the bounty of my two adult daughters by a former marriage, through whose kindness I have been able to maintain myself."

Federal Pay Hike OK Dims

Postal Dispute Hurting Chances

WASHINGTON (AP)— A deadlocked wage dispute between Uncle Sam and half a million postal workers threatened today to kill prospective pay increases this year for 1½ million federal employes.

Caught in the pay squeeze is an administration-backed bill to raise postal rates 245 million dollars a year, including a penny increase in the cost of mailing letters.

Both postal pay and rate bills are being held up in the House as the result of administration objections to any pay increases without first overhauling the hoary post office job and salary setup.

Lack Backing

Organized postal groups have tried to override the House leadership and force a pay bill to the floor, but they appear to lack the necessary backing, and Congress may adjourn before and action is taken on this or related increases for a million other federal classified workers outside the postal system.

And until the pay issue is settled and the probable size of the post office deficit can be more clearly determined, administration leaders are also holding up action on a bill to raise rates on most classes of mail.

Organized postal employes asked for across-the-board raises of $800 a year and a like request has been madq by other classified government workers which, if granted, would add an estimated total of 2¼ billion dollars a year to the cost of federal employment.

The House Post Office Committe, overriding Chariman Rees (R-Kan), last month approved a bill by Rep. Corbett (R-Pa) for a 7 per cent across-the-board increase in postal pay with a $240-a-year minimum and $480 maximum. The total increase would be about 200 million dollars a year.

The committee bill omitted the job and salary classification provision asked by Postmaster General Summerfield, and referred his recommendations to a joint Senate-House committee for further study.

Pigeonhole Bill

In the fact of speculation that President Eisenhower would refuse to sign any pay bill omitting a management overhaul of Post Office Department jobs, the policy-making House Rules Committee has pigeonholed the bill.

A petition to force it to the House floor for action had only 136 signatures when the House recessed Friday. A total of 218, or a majority of the 435 members, is necessary to override the Rules Committee.

With Republican leaders shooting for congressional adjournment by July 31, there appeared little chance of getting a bill through both House and Senate even if its backers succeeded in getting the necessary 218 signatures.

Warm, Humid Weather Sends Corn Shooting Up

The busines of "hearing corn grow" has become pretty old hat. But when the hot, humid summer days arrive in eastern Nebraska after spring rains some people think they can almost see the corn grow.

Take for instance the single corn stalk pictured at the left and right. This stalk was photographed just five days apart. In that short time the plant almost exactly doubled its height. Its height at the time of the first picture—note the measuring stick—was just about 17 inches. In the latter picture the plant had shot upward to a center-of-plant height of 34 inches. This height, measured conservatively, is indicated on the stick by the arrow at right.

But the growth tells only half the story. This plant was located away from any low sections of the field which might have received unusually heavy moisture. It was shorter than its neighbors and seemed if anything one of the least promising of the plants around it. The picture was taken in a field northwest of Lincoln.

The latest crop report described the Nebraska corn crop as doing well. Laying by is about completed in much of the state. With the exception of the flood-ridden extreme southeastern counties, the Nebraska corn crop, flourishing as it is, is in need of more rain to tide it over the critical weeks just ahead.

Red Press Hits Camouflaged Vodka-Easies

MOSCOW (AP) — An illegal vodka bar camouflaged behind the front of a dress shop, and other speakeasies drew fire in the Soviet youth paper Komsomol Pravda.

The Communist Youth League paper, a consistent crusader for purity and ttemperance, asked an intensive government drive to close down open vodka bars in the streets.

The aim of the campaign is not total prohibition such as Imperial Russia had during the first World War but to improve morals, particularly of youth, and to dry up drink spots around factories and schools. On May 25 the Ministry of Trade closed all drink-and-rum joints.

Russia Capable Of Better H-Bomb, Physicist States

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times quoted nuclear physicist Dr. Edward Teler as saying Soviet scientists ultimately may construct a more powerful hydrogen bomb than that of the United States.

"There is no question that they can, given the time and the will," the Times quoted Teller as saying.

The scientist, who is considered the chief architect of the hydrogen bomb, was interviewer by William L. Laurence at Los Alamos, N. M., the birthplace of atomic and thermonuclear weapons. The interview was "within the limits of strict security," the newspaper said.

Teller told the Times it was evident Russia came within "a few short months" of beating the United States in the hydrogen race. He based his observation in the fact that the first thermonuclear explosion in Russit took place in Aug., 1953, nine months after the first U.S. test.

Thus, the Times quoted him as saying, it is possible Societ scientists may find a short-cut, leading to a better approach than this country in making more powerful hydrogen weapons.

County Agent:

Fertilizer Steady Aid To Pastures

Brome grass demonstration plots in the county have produced some interesting answers concerning the effects of fertilizer and chiseling on pastures.

Nitrogen fertilizer was applied last fall at the rate of 30 pounds, 60 pounds and 90 pounds of available nitrogen per acre. In each case the increase was about one ton of dry hay for each 30 pounds of available nitrogen applied.

These results are in close correlation with the fertilizer recommendation for bromegrass pasture in Lancaster County of 50 to 100 ponds of available nitrogen per acre.

Chiseling brome grass pasture on the other hand gave no increase in the vigor of the grass. The chiseling was performed at various depths and spacing—and no appreciable increase in the growth of brome was measurable. On the chiseled plots which were fertilized, the production of the grass was the same as on the unchiseled plots which were fertilized with an equal quantity of nitrogen.

HST Pronounced Out Of Danger

KANSAS CITY (AP)— Former President Harry S. Truman, recovering from a major operation, was pronounced out of danger Sunday by his physicians.

A Research hospital spokesman said in view of Truman's greatly improved condition, the twice-daily bulletins issued by the hospital would be discontinued.

He underwent surgery June 20 for removal of his gall bladder and appendix. At first his recovery ran a normal course, then hit a temporary snag when enteritis (intestinal inflammation) set in. For several days his condition was listed as serious.

Fair To Host U.S. Showing Of Herefords

Nebraska State Fair officials have announced an outstanding livestock event to be held during the 1954 exposition Sept. 5 to 10.

The event will be the Cornhusker Centennial National Hereford Show which is expected to attract entries from a wide area. A total of $5,000 in open class premium awards will be offered, according to Ed Schultz, Fair Board Secretary.

This will be the second time that a national Hereford show has been held in connection with the State Fair. The first time was in 1947 when 300 head of the finest Herefords from throughout the United States were on exhibit. National Angus and Red Poll shows also have been held in connection with the fair.

Don Thompson, superintendent of beef at the fair, said both interest and the number of entries in the show is expected to run high this year.

High Himalayan 'Snowmn' Sighted By Hilliary Group

NEW DELHI (AP) — A member of Everest conquerer Sir Edmun Hillary's mountain climbing team was reported to have sighted an "abdominable snowman" in the high Himalayas.

Four members of the New Zealand team, returning from Sir Hillary's unsuccessful attempt to scale unconquered 27,790-foot Mt. Makalu, arrived at the border town of Katmandu.

A Katmandu dispatch quoted some member of the team as claiming he saw the legendary half-human creature at 17,000 feet in the Shoyang Valley of Nepal. The report said the party's tight schedule gave it no time to chase the "abominable snowman." There have been previous reports of strange creatures in the high Himalayas.

GOP Nomination Action Is Clouded

timing would be important because Marsh has to certify the ballot to county clerks by July 16.

The court procedure may be further complicated by John Quinn, Lincoln public relations man, who also submitted a filing before midnight on Thursday. His application was pushed under the door of the secretary of state's office. He has employed attorneys to study the legality of his action.

Quinn contends his filing has more validity than Buffett's in that he waited until after Sen. Butler's death and a vacancy existed before paying his filing fee. He also argues that the law says the filing shall be made at the office not at the home of the secretary of state.

Regardless of the court's ruling, Green will be the Democratic nominee. If Buffett or Quinn should be held to have made proper filings, Hruska will be dropped as the Republican nominee and the winner of the court action will be the nominee.

Quinn, a staunch pro-Eisenhower supporter, says that he hopes that the court refuses the Buffett bid as well as any action he may take. He asserts his action was merely to head off Buffett, who has opposed the administration, from getting the nomination unopposed.

Who the Republican nominee will be cannot be determined until after the court acts.

Earlier the Pope conferred in his study with the Archbishop during a private audience. Mayor John B. Hynes of Boston is a member of the pilgrimage.

NAM Opposes Guaranteed Pay, President States

WASHINGTON (AP) — The president of the National Assn. of Manufacturers said Sunday his organization doesn't believe a guaranteed annual wage for workers, as now sought by many labor unions, is practical.

Harold C. McClellan, NAM head, interviewed on the NBC TV-radio show "Meet the Press," said there is no way of guaranteeing a specific annual wage to workers now paid on an hourly basis unless business has some definite way of knowing ahead of time how much money it will make. This isn't possible now in most cases, he said, adding:

"We should avoid making commitments as companies which endanger the financial position of the companies and of all the employes in them."

McClellan said there is no way of knowing whether sales may drop off and a firm shouldn't be forced to pay more workers than it needs.

State's Traffic Toll Is Slowing Down

Nebraska is whittling down her traffic fatality records, according to State Safety Patrol Col. C. J. Sanders.

The state had only 14 traffic deaths during June as compared to 29 deaths in the same month a year ago. The 1954 record is the second lowest June traffic toll list since the state has kept records. The lowest was 10 deaths in June, 1946.

June marked the beginning of Gov. Robert Crosby's program to reduce deaths on the highways. On June 1, 26 patrolmen were released from truck weighing and operators' license examining duties for full time traffic enforcement work. The state also began on that date using radar and light planes to check speeding.

'Congress Taking Foreign Policy Job From Ike'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. McCormack (D-Mass) said Congress is taking the initiative on foreign policy away from President Eisenhower.

He said Congress, by taking the lead on three major foreign policy issues in a week, had showed a "lack of confidence" in administration leadership.

McCormack, deputy House Democatic leader, named two of the congressional actions as a resolution warning Communists out of the Western Hemisphere, and a proposal in the foreign aid bill to cut off aid to any nation joining a non agression pact with Asian Communists.

In each case, he said, Congress has taken over functions which rightly belong to the executive branch.

Nebraska Battle Ground

By J. E. Lawrence

Events appeared to be shaping themselves for a ding-dong showdown battle between the liberal and conservative wings of the Republican party in Nebraska.

That was the thinly disguised undertone of the Quinn statement accompanying the attempted filing by one Republican following an earlier effort by former Rep. Howard Buffett of Omaha to launch his candidacy for the seat in the United States Senate vacated by the sudden death of Sen. Hugh Butler. Buffett, is the most uncompromising conservative, an implacable foe of so-called "new deal policy" both along domestic and international lines. As a member of the House he was more vocal in expressing himself on foreign policy particularly in criticism of foreign aid.

But there has been no reason to conclude that the conservatism which has characterized his utterances of foreign policy, a conservatism that in the eyes of some people has set him aside as a member of the isolationist bloc, is offset by a more liberal view on matters of purely domestic concern. It has been no party secret that Nebraska leadership which classes itself as pro-Eisenhower has looked down its nose on Buffett. It will go all out against him in the event he succeeds in getting his name on the ballot. Buffett, it will be recalled, took a post on the pre-convention staff working for the nomination of the late Robert Taft in advance of the Chicago convention of 1952.

There are the legal issues yet to be determined which naturally will be settled in due time.

At the same time it was clear that Sen. Butler's death would have an important bearing on the tight contest for the other senate seat. Rep. Curtis was reputed to have the support of Butler's formidable organization in the wide open race between Gov. Crosby, Mr. Curtis, State Sen. Terry Carpenter and former GOP State Chairman Dave Martin.

It still was too early for any estimate of the undercurrents.

Bottenfield Rides Again

F. E. Bottenfield is looking around for a good second-hand bicycle these days. Nothing fancy, mind you, but something with plenty of speed left, substantial of frame and superior of workmanship, as well befitting its passenger.

Mr. Bottenfield has outgrown cars, or they have outgrown him—or maybe it's just that they've outgrown each other. Anyway, it's back to his first transportation love. Now well past 80, Mr. B. was champion cyclist of Nuckolls County and offered some pretty stiff competition in other towns all over southern Nebraska, winning his share of honors wherever he chanced to pedal, and still possessing the trophies to prove it.

Usually the races in those days were one mile, but sometimes they were two, three or even five miles, and it took a good man, sound of wind and limb, to complete such a stretch. Mr. Bottenfield tells of other expert riders then, too, among them the late I. J. Wehrman and Frank Scherzinger of Nelson.

His own racing career began in 1887, and for several years after that he was a leading contender in nearly all of the important bike races in this section of the country. And there was some pulse-stirring episodes to remember, too. There was the Red Cloud race, for example, with five of them crowding in for the home stretch, so close that when one fell, the effect was that of toppling dominoes in a row. Five of them in one spectacular pile-up was the answer to a long-shot's prayer that day.

Then there was that late June day of 1893 when Superior planned a big event with a good list of races. "Bicycling Bottenfield" did a little quiet training for a few evenings ahead of time and then drove over to the neighboring town determined to capture the prize. His success was a complete surprise to everyone—except himself, of course—and put him into championship league and Nelson into the distinctive spot of being home country for the champ. Winning the two-mile free-for-all, his time was clocked at: first half 1:30, second 3:17, third 4:55 and fourth 6:26.

So Mr. Bottenfield is in the market for a good second-hand bicycle to wheel leisurely up and down the fine paved streets of Superior where now resides. It would beat walking, he thinks. The only stick in the spokes, though, is Mrs. Bottenfield. Womanlike, she's ag'in it.

Of Men And Things

(No. 3 of a Series)

By J. E. LAWRENCE

On a late sunny fall afternoon I was accompanying the late Dr. A. E. Sheldon on a trip outstate to the Nebraska Sandhills. Dr. Sheldon had a capacity, a real genius, to make history come alive. We had been talking of old Ft. Robinson which Uncle Sam will transfer if desired to the people of Nebraska for a state park or for other uses.

★

There was a certain January afternoon in 1879 when for a brief hour old Ft. Robinson came to the attention of the American people. Mari Sandoz had told about it in a very fascinating book. Dr. Sheldon during that ride gave me his impressions as a spectator of an incident that strengthened my impressions of the historic significance of Ft. Robinson. It will be recalled that Dull Knife and his warriors had embarked on a flight to the north. They were taken prisoner in their wanderings in a region of the Nebraska Sandhills, returned to Ft. Robinson to be held in custody until disposition had been made of their case. There on that January afternoon, Dr. Sheldon told me, on the old parade ground, with federal troopers standing in one line and the Indians some paces away in an irregular formation, somebody fired a shot. Who that somebody was is still a question of debate. But the guns spoke out and before the firing ended, several braves fell to the earth.

When The Guns Spoke Out

It is difficult to reconstruct early Nebraska as Nebraska was in those years of territorial organization and early statehood. Those beginnings were remarkably free from bloodshed when it is to be recalled that the Indian resented, understandably, his ouster from his favorite buffalo hunting ground. But Ft. Robinson lived in history, and as we said earlier with the single exception of Ft. Laramie was for a time the most important outpost of settlement by the white man in all the region to the west of the Missouri. Its presence, coupled with the labors of missionaries and other understanding men, did much to preserve peace during that settlement.

★

We have no notion how much or how little the people of Nebraska feel they can afford to spend in a longe-range program in development of a state park system. They now have the nucleus, starting in 1923, for a program which 50 years hence will certainly bring satisfaction and gratitude for the foresight which present-day Nebraskans bestowed upon recreational facilities. Once Ft. Robinson passes into private hands, if that is what finally happens, the opportunity to preserve its historical associations and to dedicate its natural beauty to the people of Nebraska will be lost forever. If that is the will of the people of this state, there can be no criticism voiced. But Nebraskans at least should know the facts. If possible, there should be a full understanding of the advantages offered in making something out of this truly historic installation which figured so prominently in the life of the Old West.

Once Lost, Never Regained

We have not spent a great deal of money in developing a state park system. We happen to be one of those states where Uncle Sam has spent very little in the development of park facilities, and once again the tradition of the prairie and the rolling plains supply the answer, an inadequate answer, it seems to us, but nevertheless an answer. People simply do not visualize the plains when they think of parks. It will be a wonderful day, that day 50 years hence, should Nebraskans in creative spirit decide that the time has come, filled as the days are with so many demands, to embark deliberately upon a more pretentious program in the development of the state park system. It does not take much imagination to foresee that a half century ahead, people could have a great sense of well-being in what was planned and built for their good living.

Expensive Care

It doesn't always pay to brag about having an in with the court. A St. Louis man was picked up on a traffic charge. Ignoring the officer he commented to a friend, "Watch me take care of the judge." He did all right. He gave the judge $200 and accepted an invitation to spend 90 days as the judge's guest in jail.

Editorial Of The Day

Speaking Of Locarno

From The Denver Post

Present Anglo-American relations are snagged on an argument over the type of southeast Asian pact, if any, that should be undertaken for the protection of that area. Prime Minister Churchill had hardly left the White House when the house foreign affairs committee went on record firmly against a "Locarno type settlement" in southeast Asia. Several days ago Foreign Secretary Eden used Locarno as a symbol of an agreement, saying only that there was, in his opinion a "chance" that such would work out.

The word Locarno carries a sour-connotation, unfortunately. It refers to the treaties of 1925, negotiated in Locarno, Italy among representatives of Great Britain, France, Italy, Belgium, Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia. All but the latter two agreed to the Rhine security pact which bound the signatories to accept the existing frontiers established by the Versailles treaty and to the demilitarization of the Rhineland.

Germany and France and Belgium and Germany agreed to submit any disputes arising between them to conciliatory bodies. But Hitler and the Nazis repudiated the demilitarization of the Rhineland and scrapped the Locarno pacts. And now the thought of trying once again to negotiate a regional concord for mutual assistance and the preservation of peace, and one accepting into membership Communist-controlled nations, is rather more and most of us can abide.

Wallace Helps GOP Farm Program Cause

WASHINGTON—GOP National Chairman Len Hall didn't quite know what to make of it when he first received a letter from Henry Wallace which, in effect, supported the Eisenhower-Benson flexible farm price-support program.

Probably there is no man, not even Harry Truman, whom the Republicans have kicked around more than Henry Wallace. He has been called a pinko and a dreamer. He has been maligned and scoffed at. However, since Wallace was not only vice president of the United States, twice secretary of agriculture under Roosevelt, once secretary of commerce, and his father was secretary of agriculture under Harding, his letter to Len Hall may be political manna from heaven in the present hectic farm debate.

Specifically what the former vice president wrote to Chairman Hall about was his idea of an ever-normal granary. But in the course of the letter he came out for Benson's flexible price supports. He recalls that price supports of between 52 to 75 per cent were what he had advocated as secretary of agriculture and he felt the same supports should be applicable today.

"The problem," Wallace explained to this writer, "is how the farmer can get the greatest net income after a war when the abnormal demand for his products ends."

He went on to explain that whereas the demand for wheat and cotton is fairly stable in times of peace, the demand for corn should increase because of the growing demand for pork and beef.

"Furthermore," explained Wallace, "we've cut down the expense of raising corn. We've curtailed the necessary man-hours per acre through the use of machinery. We will double synthetic nitrogen in a few years, so that a 15-cent pound of nitrogen will produce 20 pounds of grain. So corn is going to be a lot cheaper to produce and the price has got to come down.

"Wheat," said the man who started acreage limitation and price supports, "is differene. Lowering the price of wheat won't increase consumption, because it's consumed by humans, not animals."

Ever Normal Granary

Wallace said that he believed the ever-normal granary for corn would be about one billion bushels a year. This amount should be kept on hand every year as a holdover to insure a steady supply of animal food and a steady price.

Asked how he felt about the Benson-Eisenhower farm program, Wallace said the administration had now come pretty close to his own farm program, therefore he couldn't help but support it.

Wallace is now living north of New York city where he is getting much more fun out of his chief interest in life—agriculture—than he ever got out of politics. The man who revolutionized the nation's corn crop with the discovery of hybrid corn is now working to develop a new type of strawberry which will be both big and sweet; a new type of gladiola which will resist disease; and a new type of chicken that will both lay eggs and put on weight.

Note—What makes farm leaders and Midwest Congressmen sore at the administration is Ike's many promises during the election campaign that he would back rigid farm price supports. At Kasson, Minn., on Sept. 6, 1952, he talked about 100 per cent of parity price supports, while on Sept. 18, 1952, he promised: "I have pledged that the Republican party will provide farmers with economic protection without putting them in federal chains." Later the same day he said: "The government must help agriculture achieve stability in ways which minimize federal controls and protect the farmer's freedom to run his own business."

Midshipman Strayed

More information is now available on one of the midshipmen whose commission was suddenly held up just before being graduated from the naval academy last month.

It is now learned that Paul Shimek, Jr., of Hazen, Ark., had visited the Russian embassy in Washington last December and, by his own admission, given the Russians information about the naval academy.

Shimek came to Washington with two other midshipmen, left the two at a hotel, went around to the Russian embassy, rang the bell and went in.

The FBI, which, as most of Washington knows, has a long-range-lens camera across the street taking pictures of everyone entering the embassy, immediately photographed Shimek, and he was later quizzed by naval officers. Apparently the visit was motivated by curiouity. But while in the embassy he was asked questions by the Russians and admitted that he had told them about the naval academy, its studies, morale, etc.

Actually no information of a security nature was revealed, but naval officers didn't like the idea that Shimek would use such poor judgment as to visit the embassy and submit to cross-examination there.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Honeymoon Between Ike And Press Fades

WASHINGTON—The increasingly critical tone of the press toward the Eisenhower administration in recent months has produced a strong reaction within the administration. The feeling is growing that with a press which is privately accused of being both irresponsible and overly critical the conduct of both foreign and domestic policy—particularly the former—becomes all the more difficult in a time of grave crisis.

In speaking off the record to the National War College during the term that ended in mid-June, four members of cabinet rank in the administration took the line that the press was putting the administration under a heavy handicap. This attitude is strongly reminiscent of the resentment toward the press felt by former President Truman and his secretary of state, Dean Acheson, during the last year and a half or two years of Truman's tenure in office when his administration was confronted with a sea of troubles at home and abroad.

One reason for the strong reaction today may lie in the contrast with two years ago and even a year ago. Seldom has a presidential candidate had such an adulatory press as did candidate Dwight Eisenhower. Likewise, in the first phase of the presidency the great majority of newspapers treated Mr. Eisenhower with extraordinary kindness both in the news and editorial columns.

The change has been abrupt, and it may explain the intensity of the feeling that the press imposes an added burden on those who are trying to make policy. This feeling is especially acute in the area of conflict over the need for secrecy, as seen by top policy-makers, and the insistence of newspaper reporters on bringing out news even though it means prying behind or ignoring a "top secret" label.

Some time ago the columnists, Joseph Alsop and Stewart Alsop, published information which they said was based on a National Security Council document dealing with the relative military strength of the Soviet Union and the United States. They gave the official number of this "top secret" document.

Government officials reading their column inferred that one or both of the writers had seen the document. An investigation has been going forward to determine whether there was a violation of the provision of the espionage act covering the publication of secret information. The Alsops say they did not see the document, adding that the information it contained was more or less common knowledge in the Pentagon and the State Department.

What is most serious, from the viewpoint of the relationship between press and government, is the attitude of Eisenhower officials familiar with this investigation. They say that for a reporter or columnist to advertise he is giving out secret information because he believes it to be in the national interest that the public obtain such information is equivalent to the attitude of Sen. McCarthy in appealing to government employees to give him secret documents. These officials say that in both attitudes the individual presumes to put himself above the law in determining what is good for the country.

Secrecy restrictions have long been resented by newsmen here. One of the persistent complaints against the Truman administration was that the secret label was put on when it was desired to hold back unpleasant facts. The Eisenhower administration announced that under a new policy the right to apply the classification of secret and top secret was being withdrawn from many government departments. But reporters complain that this order is merely a gesture, since top officials maintain a barrier of silence increasingly hard to get through.

The feeling among some policy-makers is strong that the press should uphold American negotiators when in trying to arrive at critical decisions they are in conflict with other powers. Thus, there was deep resentment over the interpretation of many commentators that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles suffered a major diplomatic defeat at the Geneva conference. The blame, it is felt, should have been put on the British for refusing to go along with the Dulles proposal for presenting the Communists with a strong front for "united action" in Indo-China.

President Truman several times wanted to prosecute reporters whom he believed guilty of violating secrecy laws. He was kept from doing this by advisers who told him that such action would serve only to touch off an open feud with the press.

The present attitude in Washington may be merely a phase of adjustment to the harsh realities of government in a period of crisis and revolutionary upheaval. The Eisenhower administrators may get accustomed to the slings and arrows of misfortune which, in their view, the press goes out of its way to hurl. But the present feeling is undeniably sharp and bitter.

BILL DOBLER At City Hall

City Feels Need For More Help

When Mayor Clark Jeary stated during the past week that more administrative help is needed at the City Hall, he said a mouthful.

Bill Dobler

The mayor hit at the heart of what is a rapidly developing unhealthy situation in city government. This situation is the mergence of administrative and legislative functions.

Jeary may have been thinking of the dangers of this development when he stated he did not know how much longer Lincoln could go on in this manner. It is nothing new to point out that the basis of any good government lies in a clear-cut distinction between the administrative and legislative bodies. This very theory is at the bottom of one of the most bitter controversies in the nation's history in Washington between Sen. Joseph McCarthy, other Senate members and the White House.

The mergence of these two governmental functions can do as much, if not more, than any other single thing to undermine an otherwise efficient and effective organization. Administrators rightfully object to an assumption of their duties and responsibilities by a legislative group.

In Lincoln, legislation or policy-making is done on a supposedly part time basis by the mayor and City Council. This body is made up of people who have generally had no previous municipal government experience and are only a part of the city's legislative body for short periods of time.

Members of the City Council do not have the time and experience to deal with administrative problems while the various city departmental heads gain the needed experience through years of work on their respective jobs.

Yet, more and more administrative work is being handled every day by the mayor particularly and the City Council. This is no desire on the part of Jeary or the Council to be in a position of power nor does it show any lack of faith in the ability of the directors.

It is something that has happened because the city is growing while the organization of city government remains the same.

It means just what Jeary said—more help is needed to handle administrative work that is now falling on the shoulders of the mayor and Council.

Present conditions could develop some dangerous precedents which have already shown themselves in several cases. Jeary was called upon last week to settle one administrative matter that was a clearcut case calling for a decision on the part of a director. Yet, the director was either not consulted by one of his departmental heads or else when consulted, he referred the matter to the mayor.

Either way, the matter was settled in the wrong way. It was a case involving a small expenditure of money that the mayor should never even have heard about.

And things could get worse. The more the mayor is called upon to do, the more important and powerful becomes the job of mayor. This could get to the point where the mayor was the only one with any authority in the city.

This has happened in other cities so it can't be ruled out as an impossibility here. Lincoln's own city government has been in a highly unsatifactory state in times past so if conditions were right, it could get there again.

With two exceptions—the legal and personnel departments—the entire city administration is now vested in three directors whose total salaries are less than $30,000. Those three jobs cover a whale of a lot of territory.

Included under the engineering department with one director are streets, paving repair, engineering, sewers, flood control, building and plumbing inspection, special improvement districts and water and light department. Under the finance department with one direcor are the city clerk and auditor, purchasing department, city assessor and city treasurer. Under welfare and safety with one director are the police and fire departments, special permits, superintendent of buildings and grounds, printing, parks and recreation.

And that simple breakdown does not tell the whole story. Many of the above activities could be broken down into a number of smaller groups.

There has been no change in recent years in the number of activities but each division has increased measurably. More books and help are needed to keep the records; there are more properties to assess, more tax statements to mail out, more purchases to be made, more streets to sweep, more sewers to build, more paving to be laid, more traffic to patrol, more park work needed and more of everything in each department.

When the growth in activities reaches a certain saturation point, more help is about the only answer.

Current Fire Danger

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: A lack of rain accompanied by high temperatures has caused the fire hazard to become critical. There will be many people from the states of Nebraska and Kansas who will journey to the higher mountain areas of Colorado, Wyoming and South Dakota as well as parts of Nebraska over the week end of July 4th on vacation trips. These mountain areas are now tinder dry up to altitudes of 10,000 feet in most cases. One match, one cigarette, one campfire left carelessly may result in a conflagration that will lay waste vast areas of the high mountain forest-clothed watersheds. The major resources of these watersheds is the production of water for numerous mountain lakes, streams and rivers so vital to human survival. These same forests supply timber, forage for livestock and wildlife and provide recreational areas. Everyone traveling or using forest, brush or grassland areas is urged to be very careful and observe the following precautions:

Observe "No Smoking" and "No Campfire" signs. If in an area of high fire hazard, do not build campfires, whether it is in a restricted area or not.

Smoke only in places that you know are safe. Be sure your match is out. When driving, be certain to use your ash tray. It is unlawful in most states to throw burning material from your car.

Observe the "No Fireworks in National Forests" signs.

At regular camp and picnic areas, build fires only at designated places. Scrape all litter and inflammable material down to mineral soil at least three feet from all sides of the fire in areas not having fire grates. Keep your fire small. Never leave it unattended. Use water to drown your fire and test the ashes with your hands to make certain your campfire is dead out before you leave.

The national forests are for the use and enjoyment of all, and the co-operation and assistance of everyone in protecting them and reducing the number of man-caused fires is urgently needed.

DORIS FLEESON

West Facing Split Over Red Coexistence

WASHINGTON—The fat is in the fire with respect to President Eisenhower's efforts to temporize with the perilous and pressing differences between this country and its major European allies.

It appears not impossible that a chain reaction will start which will force the President either to abandon his China policy or risk the loss of the Anglo-French alliance.

Three powerhouses of Republican support—the Henry Luce publications, The Wall Street Journal and Senate Majority Leader William Knowland—in various ways have called for a showdown on the situation which has so clearly been developing in world diplomacy.

That situation is that the British and French are headed toward a peaceful co-existence with Russia of which the corollary almost surely will be the admission of Red China into the United Nations. The question which in effect is being put to the President is: "What are you going to do about it?

Sen. Knowland, speaking in the Senate, bluntly put China first. He said that, if Red China were admitted to the United Nations, he would resign his post as Senate leader and work to get this country out of the U.N.

Mr. Luce, it appears from Time Magazine, would also prefer going it alone to abandoning Nationalist China. The Wall Street Journal, much more reserved, did not give its own answers but it demanded an end to present "shaky optimism" and an inquiry into what current realities portend for America's alliances.

The curbstone reaction in the Senate supported Knowland, who spoke without advance warning of his intentions. It could not be judged with certainty—since the Senate quickly moved on to the tax bill—whether such reaction took into account the spreading consequences of any such moves as Knowland desires.

However, a leading isolationist, Sen. Pat McCarran (D.) of Nevada, seized the chance to try to nail down the Knowland thesis. Sen. McCarran, within an hour, had offered a resolution directing the President to withdraw this country from the U.N. if Red China were admitted as a member.

The senator apprehended—no doubt correctly—that Red China recognition is involved in the settlement the French are now attempting to make on Indo-China. What he fears is that Congress will be in session when the issue comes before the U.N.

Unquestionably, the President is now faced with the greatest issue of his presidency, short of war. He has to make up his mind among cruel risks, and face the possibility of a break-up of those European alliances into which so much blood and treasure have been poured and which once saved the free world.

He cannot afford to wait to take his position. So long as he does not speak forcefully and plainly, he will be permitting the Senate leader to set the pattern for his party. He must challenge Knowland or accept the Knowland policy.

There has been some feeling in the Senate that the White House had hoped quietly to drift into the position where siding with Britain and France, and acceptance of co-existence and of Red China, would be inevitable, natural and necessary. If that illusion was ever held by the administration, it now appears doomed.

Senator Byrd Says He Will Oppose Increase In Debt Limit

Announcement Jolts Administration

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Byrd (D-Va) jolted administration hopes of obtaining a financial breather Sunday by announcing he will oppose any increase in the 275 billion dollar federal debt limit.

Byrd, a key member of the Senate Finance Committee, said in an interview that Senate passage of the administration's tax bill in his opinion makes it unnecessary to raise the legal limit on government borrowing.

"The revenue loss from this bill is not as much as had been anticipated," the Virginia senator said. "I don't think it is necessary to raise the limit now, particularly since the Treasury has about six billion dollars on hand and can borrow another five billion under the present limit.

"The Treasury said last year when it didn't get the increase that it would be in all kinds of financial difficulties. But they cut back expenditures by two billion dollars and the country hasn't gone to pot."

Administration officials have made it clear they will ask the Finance Committee to act on a bill approved by the House last year to lift the limit to 290 billion dollars. They have indicated they will be willing to compromise on a lesser increase.

Chairman Ferguson (Mich) of the Senate Republican Policy Committee said he expects a formal administration request for action soon. He said attempts will be made to bring the issue to a vote in the Senate before Congress adjourns, around the end of July.

But Republican leaders were not at all certain of holding their ranks intact in a controversy involving the political issue of further deficit spending.

Sen. Williams (R-Del), a Finance Committee member and one of the Senate conferees on the tax bill, said he has yet to be convinced the debt limit ought to be raised. Although the Senate version of the tax bill would mean only about 100 million dollars in revenue loss in the next year, in subsequent years the loss might exceed one billion dollars annually.

Sen. George (D-Ga), another key member of the Finance Committee, said he wants to see what sort of agreement can be reached on compromising Senate - House differences in the tax measure before he decides finally how he will vote on a debt limit increase.

Compromise Possible

There are indications that Treasury officials would be willing to settle for some sort of compromise under which some government debts could be taken out from under the statutory limitation but Byrd said he wants none of that and would rather vote for a straight increase.

There also was a possibility that a boost of from 5 to 8 billion dollars in the ceiling would be proposed within the Senate committee, rather than the 15 billion increase which the House has approved.

Cochran, Yeager Harmon Winners

NEW YORK (AP)— Miss Jacqueline Cochran and Air Force Maj. Charles E. Yeager Sunday were named the winners of the 1954 Harmon International Aviation Awards.

Miss Cochran, of New York City, was selected, the Harmon trustees said, "for becoming the first woman to break through the sound barrier on May 18, 1953, at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., when she set a closed course speed record of 652 miles per hour in an F86 Sabre jet."

Yeager, U.S. Air Force test pilot attached to the Edwards Base, was cited "for outstanding contributions to the field of supersonic flight achieved through piloting the X1A, a rocket - powered experimental aircraft, to a speed of more than 1,600 miles per hour Dec. 12, 1953" at his home base.

14 Little Feet Occupy Green

Enthusiastic Democrats were urging James Green, their nominee for U. S. Senator, to take time out from receiving congratulations long enough to telephone his wife in Omaha and advise her of the action of the state central committee.

"Tell her to dress up the children as befits the family of a senatorial candidate," one advised. Green has seven children under the age of 13.

"Tell her she can now serve butter to the family rather than oleo," another was advising while Green was attempting to carry on a telephone conversation with a well wisher.

"Keep quiet," Green grinned and then offered a dour face. "If I follow your advice, when I get home she will insist that I repair the screen door. If you don't have small children you can't know how often the little feet kick holes in screens."

Earthquake Hits Island Of Java

JAKARATA, Indonesia (INS)—A locally severe earthquake shook parts of the Pacific island of Java.

The tremor reportedly smashed warehouses at the rail center and seaport of Semarang on the north central coast. Quays were swept away by gigantic waves apparently caused by the quake.

The Indonesian Meteorological Service reported the tremor broke its seismograph at Jakarata at the island's northwest corner.

Col. Armas Is Collecting 'Atrocity Proof'

GUATEMALA (AP)—Guatemala's new man of the hour, Col. Carlos Castillo Armas, said Sunday his victorious rebel command is collecting "much information" on alleged atrocity charges against ousted President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman and his Communist-backed regime.

He said in an interview the data probably will be submitted to the United Nations.

He said his rebel forces, whose two-week campaign after an invasion from exile June 18 toppled the former leftist govrenment, consider Arbenz and a number of his colleagues "criminals" and declared they "must be punished."

Take Refuge

Arbenz and Foreign Minister Guillermo Toriello have taken refuge in the steel-shuttered Mexican Embassy and have been reported preparing to fly out of the country Monday.

The declaration by Castillo Armas today indicated the junta may be building up a court case against Arbenz.

No 2 Post

Castillo Armas has agreed to take a secondary post on the junta, with Col. Elfrego H. Monzon holding the presidency until July 17 when a "permanent" president is chosen. It is unprecedented in Latin America for the leader of a successful rebellion not to insist upon getting the top post. Castillo Armas's supporters are openly disgruntled with the present junta arrangement and want him to be president even though he has said emphatically he doesn't want the job.

Even though the rebel leader has spurned the top seat for the moment, there was no doubt in this Central American capital that he is the new public idol.

Sale Of 'Crackers By Firemen Halted

OMAHA (AP) — Chief Douglas County Deputy Sheriff Gordon Falkenberg Sunday ordered an end to sale of fireworks at the Irvington Fire Station.

The Irvington volunteer fire department had moved out its rescue squad unit to make way for a fireworks stand.

Falkenberg ordered an end to the fireworks sales because they were taking place in an unincorporated village. He explained all explosive fireworks are banned by state law but said enforcement of the law in incorporated places is up to the local law enforcement agency.

Signs at the western outskirts of Omaha advertised fireworks sales in Waterloo, also. Waterloo is incorporated, Falkenberg said.

Man Hurt By 10-Foot Leap Into Shallows

Dale Nelson, 21, of 1509 Rose suffered head and back injuries when he jumped off a 10 foot wall into three feet of water at Linoma Beach Sunday.

He was reported early Monday morning in "good condition" at St. Elizabeth's Hospital where he is being held.

Candidates, Officials Issue Statements

After the meetings of state central committees as provided by law to select candidates for the vacancy caused by the death of Sen. Hugh Butler, the following statements were made by those named or would be nominees.

James F. Green, Democratic nominee: "All of us feel a sense of the tragic that the decision was foisted on us so soon by law after the passing of a great American. We are proud of him as a Senator even though he was from the other party."

Sam Reynolds, appointed by the governor to succeed Sen. Butler until the November election: "Needless to say, I am very appreciative of the great honor. I am very humble." He explained that he was breaking a life-long rule, "Whenever I have been asked to run for public office I have said, 'No thanks; I'd rather be the cussor than the cussee.'"

Rep. Roman Hruska, GOP committee choice: "We are not today naming a United States Senator. We are naming someone who is given the privilege which—with a lot of hard work by right-thinking people—will result in the election of a United States Senator in November."

Howard Buffett, whose late filing was rejected as was his nomination by the committee, made his statement in writing in a motion filed with the Supreme Court seeking to mandamus the secretary of state to put his name on the ballot.

STAN DELAPLANE'S

POSTCARD

London's unpredictable weather has been blowing hot and cold again. Cold one day, sweltering the next.

This makes little difference to the English. An Englishman dresses by the calendar rather than by the weather. Easter marks the beginning of spring. And though it may be snowing in the streets out come the bicycle riders in shorts.

The businessman on the commuter special leaves off his Burberry and appears in starched collar, Oxford gray pinstripes, bowler hat and furled umbrella.

His only concession to color is The Tie.

On bustling Regent Street, the shop windows are filled with the most startling spring apparel. Blue velvet hunting caps. Gray toppers. Tweed caps. Yellow corduroy caps. Caps in violent plaids.

I could not tell you who wears them. For I have never seen them on trains, streets or the big red doubledeck buses.

The Tie is another matter.

I had lunch the other day at at the Royal Air Club with Mr. E. A. Chris Wren. Mr. Wren wears the blue tie with tiny golden, red-crowned propellers of the club.

"The Tie," said Mr. Wren, "is the Englishman's method of swank in a sort of left-handed way.

"The Old School Tie has been expanded to the Regimental Tie, the Squadron Tie, the Tie for Men Who Were Shot Down in the Channel. The golden caterpillars of the Caterpillar Club who bailed out of planes. And so on.

The English are very reticent. If an Englishman speaks to you on the train, he usually mentions the weather.

"Now with all The Ties, it makes a great conversational gambit.

"Somebody speaks to you. He says: 'By the way, old boy, what is that tie you're wearing? The Daily Mail Abominable Snowman Expedition?'

"You say, modestly of course: 'No, chappie, the Daily Twenty Club. For the chaps who splashed 20 Huns a day. Jolly place and rather good food, what?'"

☆ ☆ ☆

As I get it, The Tie wedges you into a guarded conversation as the commute trains rattle toward London.

You may then take up sundry subjects in the news of the day.

The Daily Mail's expedition into the high Himalayas in search of the Abominable Snowman has sent back three Tibetan wolf cubs, two snowcocks, a game bird that lives at 12,000 feet, two satyr tragopan pheasants from Nepal and a small panda.

Princess Margaret has ridden a helicopter.

A four-column picture of the Queen at Ascot shows her with a long, slim white tube in her hand. This has started a fountain of printer's ink: "Was the Queen Really Smoking a Cigarette?"

There are two schools of thought. The conservative side says the Queen was holding a white pencil. Presumably for working out the Daily Double.

Marlene Dietrich opened at a West End cabaret. Frederick Alfred Short, 26, Jamaica Road, Bermondsey will appear in court after appearing in a mob of fans at the stage entrance. Charges: Insulting words and behavior and assaulting a constable.

The Sunday Express begins "The Woman Who Might Have Been Queen." In Paris, the Duke of Windsor issues a statement—"that he does not know the author, Mr. Bocca; the first article was filled with inaccurate statements; Mr. Bocca had no access to his records or documents."

An East London father appears in court, asking help in controlling his five-year-old son "who has got in with the roughs of Cable street."

This precocious youngster "kicked and pushed his mother until she was black-and-blue, used violent and bad language and wore out three pairs of trousers every week."

☆ ☆ ☆

All this could not be discussed without the opening afforded by The Tie. Quantas, the Australian air line, has a tie. Little white flying Kangaroos on a maroon base. I can hardly wait for someone to ask me about mine. "For a few of us chaps who HOPPED out of France," I'll say. Then we will go on to the news.

Costa Rica To Receive U.S. 'Modern Arms'

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—Foreign Minister Mario Esquivel said Costa Rica will receive "modern arms" from the United States next week.

Esquivel said the arms will be delivered during the week by U.S. military planes and that the head of the U.S. military mission in Costa Rica will have charge of training the country's Civil Guard in their use.

U.S. Bases May Train Advanced Jap Pilots

TOKYO (AP)—Some pilots of Japan's new Air Force may take advanced training in the United States.

Kyodo News Service said the Defense Board is considering the plan. The service also reported that five present U.S. Air Force bases in Japan—Bofu, Chikujo, Ota, Mito and Yaizu—will be either turned over to the Japanese or used jointly.

Ex-Movie Director, Communist Relates Hard Times Story

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Frank W. Tuttle, 61, who once earned $50,000 a year as a movie director, said that since admitting he was once a Communist, he has been reduced to living off the "bounty" of two daughters.

The Yale-educated Tuttle, once one of Hollywood's top directors, told Los Angeles Superior Judge Elmer D. Doyle of his downfall in seeking a modification of support payments to his former wife, Tatiana.

At the same time, an attorney declared that he would start "appropriate legal action" against Tuttle for assertedly leaving his third wife, Clara, stranded in Italy.

Tuttle, who appeared before the House Un-American Activities Committee in 1951 as a "friendly" witness and admitted having been a Communist for 10 years, said in an affidavit presented in the support hearing that he has earned an average of only $75 a week during the last six years.

The document added that at present, "I have been reduced to the state where I am living on the bounty of my two adult daughters by a former marriage, through whose kindness I have been able to maintain myself."

Nebraska Battle Ground

By J. E. Lawrence

Events appeared to be shaping themselves for a ding-dong showdown battle between the liberal and conservative wings of the Republican party in Nebraska.

That was the thinly disguised undertone of the Quinn statement accompanying the attempted filing by one Republican following an earlier effort by former Rep. Howard Buffett of Omaha to launch his candidacy for the seat in the United States Senate vacated by the sudden death of Sen. Hugh Butler. Buffett, is the most uncompromising conservative, an implacable foe of so-called "new deal policy" both along domestic and international lines. As a member of the House he was more vocal in expressing himself on foreign policy particularly in criticism of foreign aid.

But there has been no reason to conclude that the conservatism which has characterized his utterances of foreign policy, a conservatism that in the eyes of some people has set him aside as a member of the isolationist bloc, is offset by a more liberal view on matters of purely domestic concern. It has been no party secret that Nebraska leadership which classes itself as pro-Eisenhower has looked down its nose on Buffett. It will go all out against him in the event he succeeds in getting his name on the ballot. Buffett, it will be recalled, took a post on the pre-convention staff working for the nomination of the late Robert Taft in advance of the Chicago convention of 1952.

There are the legal issues yet to be determined which naturally will be settled in due time.

At the same time it was clear that Sen. Butler's death would have an important bearing on the tight contest for the other senate seat. Rep. Curtis was reputed to have the support of Butler's formidable organization in the wide open race between Gov. Crosby, Mr. Curtis, State Sen. Terry Carpenter and former GOP State Chairman Dave Martin.

It still was too early for any estimate of the undercurrents.

Bottenfield Rides Again

F. E. Bottenfield is looking around for a good second-hand bicycle these days. Nothing fancy, mind you, but something with plenty of speed left, substantial of frame and superior of workmanship, as well befitting its passenger.

Mr. Bottenfield has outgrown cars, or they have outgrown him—or maybe it's just that they've outgrown each other. Anyway, it's back to his first transportation love. Now well past 80, Mr. B. was champion cyclist of Nuckolls County and offered some pretty stiff competition in other towns all over southern Nebraska, winning his share of honors wherever he chanced to pedal, and still possessing the trophies to prove it.

Usually the races in those days were one mile, but sometimes they were two, three or even five miles, and it took a good man, sound of wind and limb, to complete such a stretch. Mr. Bottenfield tells of other expert riders then, too, among them the late I. J. Wehrman and Frank Scherzinger of Nelson.

His own racing career began in 1887, and for several years after that he was a leading contender in nearly all of the important bike races in this section of the country. And there was some pulse-stirring episodes to remember, too. There was the Red Cloud race, for example, with five of them crowding in for the home stretch, so close that when one fell, the effect was that of toppling dominoes in a row. Five of them in one spectacular pile-up was the answer to a long-shot's prayer that day.

Then there was that late June day of 1893 when Superior planned a big event with a good list of races. "Bicycling Bottenfield" did a little quiet training for a few evenings ahead of time and then drove over to the neighboring town determined to capture the prize. His success was a complete surprise to everyone — except himself, of course — and put him into championship league and Nelson into the distinctive spot of being home country for the champ. Winning the two-mile free-for-all, his time was clocked at: first half 1:30, second 3:17, third 4:55 and fourth 6:26.

So Mr. Bottenfield is in the market for a good second-hand bicycle to wheel leisurely up and down the fine paved streets of Superior where now resides. It would beat walking, he thinks. The only stick in the spokes, though, is Mrs. Bottenfield. Womanlike, she's ag'in it.

Of Men And Things

(No. 3 of a Series)

By J. E. LAWRENCE

On a late sunny fall afternoon I was accompanying the late Dr. A. E. Sheldon on a trip outstate to the Nebraska Sandhills. Dr. Sheldon had a capacity, a real genius, to make history come alive. We had been talking of old Ft. Robinson which Uncle Sam will transfer if desired to the people of Nebraska for a state park or for other uses.

★

There was a certain January afternoon in 1879 when for a brief hour old Ft. Robinson came to the attention of the American people. Mari Sandoz had told about it in a very fascinating book. Dr. Sheldon during that ride gave me his impressions as a spectator of an incident that strengthened my impressions of the historic significance of Ft. Robinson. It will be recalled that Dull Knife and his warriors had embarked on a flight to the north. They were taken prisoner in their wanderings in a region of the Nebraska Sandhills, returned to Ft. Robinson to be held in custody until disposition had been made of their case. There on that January afternoon, Dr. Sheldon told me, on the old parade ground, with federal troopers standing in one line and the Indians some paces away in an irregular formation, somebody fired a shot. Who that somebody was is still a question of debate. But the guns spoke out and before the firing ended, several braves fell to the earth.

It is difficult to reconstruct early Nebraska as Nebraska was in those years of territorial organization and early statehood. Those beginnings were remarkably free from bloodshed when it is to be recalled that the Indian resented, understandably, his ouster from his favorite buffalo hunting ground. But Ft. Robinson lived in history, and as we said earlier with the single exception of Ft. Laramie was for a time the most important outpost of settlement by the white man in all the region to the west of the Missouri. Its presence, coupled with the labors of missionaries and other understanding men, did much to preserve peace during that settlement.

★

We have no notion how much or how little the people of Nebraska feel they can afford to spend in a longe-range program in development of a state park system. They now have the nucleus, starting in 1923, for a program which 50 years hence will certainly bring satisfaction and gratitude for the foresight which present-day Nebraskans bestowed upon recreational facilities. Once Ft. Robinson passes into private hands, if that is what finally happens, the opportunity to preserve its historical associations and to dedicate its natural beauty to the people of Nebraska will be lost forever. If that is the will of the people of this state, there can be no criticism voiced. But Nebraskans at least should know the facts. If possible, there should be a full understanding of the advantages offered in making something out of this truly historic installation which figured so prominently in the life of the Old West.

Once Lost, Never Regained

We have not spent a great deal of money in developing a state park system. We happen to be one of those states where Uncle Sam has spent very little in the development of park facilities, and once again the tradition of the prairie and the rolling plains supply the answer, an inadequate answer, it seems to us, but nevertheless an answer. People simply do not visualize the plains when they think of parks. It will be a wonderful day, that day 50 years hence, should Nebraskans in creative spirit decide that the time has come, filled as the days are with so many demands, to embark deliberately upon a more pretentious program in the development of the state park system. It does not take much imagination to foresee that a half century ahead, people could have a great sense of well-being in what was planned and built for their good living.

Expensive Care

It doesn't always pay to brag about having an in with the court. A St. Louis man was picked up on a traffic charge. Ignoring the officer he commented to a friend, "Watch me take care of the judge." He did all right. He gave the judge $200 and accepted an invitation to spend 90 days as the judge's guest in jail.

Editorial Of The Day

From The Denver Post

Present Anglo-American relations are snagged on an argument over the type of southeast Asian pact, if any, that should be undertaken for the protection of that area. Prime Minister Churchill had hardly left the White House when the house foreign affairs committee went on record firmly against a "Locarno type settlement" in southeast Asia. Several days ago Foreign Secretary Eden used Locarno as a symbol of an agreement, saying only that there was, in his opinion a "chance" that such would work out.

The word Locarno carries a sour-connotation, unfortunately. It refers to the treaties of 1925, negotiated in Locarno, Italy among representatives of Great Britain, France, Italy, Belgium, Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia. All but the latter two agreed to the Rhine security pact which bound the signatories to accept the existing frontiers established by the Versailles treaty and to the demilitarization of the Rhineland.

Germany and France and Belgium and Germany agreed to submit any disputes arising between them to conciliatory bodies. But Hitler and the Nazis repudiated the demilitarization of the Rhineland and scrapped the Locarno pacts. And now the thought of trying once again to negotiate a regional concord for mutual assistance and the preservation of peace, and one accepting into membership Communist-controlled nations, is rather more and most of us can abide.

Wallace Helps GOP Farm Program Cause

WASHINGTON — GOP National Chairman Len Hall didn't quite know what to make of it when he first received a letter from Henry Wallace which, in effect, supported the Eisenhower-Benson flexible farm price-support program.

Probably there is no man, not even Harry Truman, whom the Republicans have kicked around more than Henry Wallace. He has been called a pinko and a dreamer. He has been maligned and scoffed at. However, since Wallace was not only vice president of the United States, twice secretary of agriculture under Roosevelt, once secretary of commerce, and his father was secretary of agriculture under Harding, his letter to Len Hall may be political manna from heaven in the present hectic farm debate.

Specifically what the former vice president wrote to Chairman Hall about was his idea of an ever-normal granary. But in the course of the letter he came out for Benson's flexible price supports. He recalls that price supports of between 52 to 75 per cent were what he had advocated as secretary of agriculture and he felt the same supports should be applicable today.

"The problem," Wallace explained to this writer, "is how the farmer can get the greatest net income after a war when the abnormal demand for his products ends."

He went on to explain that whereas the demand for wheat and cotton is fairly stable in times of peace, the demand for corn should increase because of the growing demand for pork and beef.

"Furthermore," explained Wallace, "we've cut down the expense of raising corn. We've curtailed the necessary man-hours per acre through the use of machinery. We will double synthetic nitrogen in a few years, so that a 15-cent pound of nitrogen will produce 20 pounds of grain. So corn is going to be a lot cheaper to produce and the price has got to come down.

"Wheat," said the man who started acreage limitation and price supports, "is differene. Lowering the price of wheat won't increase consumption, because it's consumed by humans, not animals."

Ever Normal Granary

Wallace said that he believed the ever-normal granary for corn would be about one billion bushels a year. This amount should be kept on hand every year as a holdover to insure a steady supply of animal food and a steady price.

Asked how he felt about the Benson-Eisenhower farm program, Wallace said the administration had now come pretty close to his own farm program, therefore he couldn't help but support it.

Wallace is now living north of New York city where he is getting much more fun out of his chief interest in life—agriculture—than he ever got out of politics. The man who revolutionized the nation's corn crop with the discovery of hybrid corn is now working to develop a new type of strawberry which will be both big and sweet; a new type of gladiola which will resist disease; and a new type of chicken that will both lay eggs and put on weight.

Note—What makes farm leaders and Midwest Congressmen sore at the administration is Ike's many promises during the election campaign that he would back rigid farm price supports. At Kasson, Minn., on Sept. 6, 1952, he talked about 100 per cent of parity price supports, while on Sept. 18, 1952, he promised: "I have pledged that the Republican party will provide farmers with economic protection without putting them in federal chains." Later the same day he said: "The government must help agriculture achieve stability in ways which minimize federal controls and protect the farmer's freedom to run his own business."

Midshipman Strayed

More information is now available on one of the midshipmen whose commission was suddenly held up just before being graduated from the naval academy last month.

It is now learned that Paul Shimek, Jr., of Hazen, Ark., had visited the Russian embassy in Washington last December and, by his own admission, given the Russians information about the naval academy.

Shimek came to Washington with two other midshipmen, left the two at a hotel, went around to the Russian embassy, rang the bell and went in.

The FBI, which, as most of Washington knows, has a long-range-lens camera across the street taking pictures of everyone entering the embassy, immediately photographed Shimek, and he was later quizzed by naval officers. Apparently the visit was motivated by curiouity. But while in the embassy he was asked questions by the Russians and admitted that he had hold them about the naval academy, its studies, morale, etc.

Actually no information of a security nature was revealed, but naval officers didn't like the idea that Shimek would use such poor judgment as to visit the embassy and submit to cross-examination there.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Honeymoon Between Ike And Press Fades

WASHINGTON—The increasingly critical tone of the press toward the Eisenhower administration in recent months has produced a strong reaction within the administration. The feeling is growing that with a press which is privately accused of being both irresponsible and overly critical the conduct of both foreign and domestic policy—particularly the former—becomes all the more difficult in a time of grave crisis.

In speaking off the record to the National War College during the term that ended in mid-June, four members of cabinet rank in the administration took the line that the press was putting the administration under a heavy handicap. This attitude is strongly reminiscent of the resentment toward the press felt by former President Truman and his secretary of state, Dean Acheson, during the last year and a half or two years of Truman's tenure in office when his administration was confronted with a sea of troubles at home and abroad.

One reason for the strong reaction today may lie in the contrast with two years ago and even a year ago. Seldom has a presidential candidate had such an adulatory press as did candidate Dwight Eisenhower. Likewise, in the first phase of the presidency the great majority of newspapers treated Mr. Eisenhower with extraordinary kindness both in the news and editorial columns.

The change has been abrupt, and it may explain the intensity of the feeling that the press imposes an added burden on those who are trying to make policy. This feeling is especially acute in the area of conflict over the need for secrecy, as seen by top policy-makers, and the insistence of newspaper reporters on bringing out news even though it means prying behind or ignoring a "top secret" label.

Some time ago the columnists, Joseph Alsop and Stewart Alsop, published information which they said was based on a National Security Council document dealing with the relative military strength of the Soviet Union and the United States. They gave the official number of this "top secret" document.

Government officials reading their column inferred that one or both of the writers had seen the document. An investigation has been going forward to determine whether there was a violation of the provision of the espionage act covering the publication of secret information. The Alsops say they did not see the document, adding that the information it contained was more or less common knowledge in the Pentagon and the State Department.

What is most serious, from the viewpoint of the relationship between press and government, is the attitude of Eisenhower officials familiar with this investigation. They say that for a reporter or columnist to advertise he is giving out secret information because he believes it to be in the national interest that the public obtain such information is equivalent to the attitude of Sen. McCarthy in appealing to government employees to give him secret documents. These officials say that in both attitudes the individual presumes to put himself above the law in determining what is good for the country.

Secrecy restrictions have long been resented by newsmen here. One of the persistent complaints against the Truman administration was that the secret label was put on when it was desired to hold back unpleasant facts. The Eisenhower administration announced that under a new policy the right to apply the classification of secret and top secret was being withdrawn from many government departments. But reporters complain that this order is merely a gesture, since top officials maintain a barrier of silence increasingly hard to get through.

The feeling among some policy-makers is strong that the press should uphold American negotiators when in trying to arrive at critical decisions they are in conflict with other powers. Thus, there was deep resentment over the interpretation of many commentators that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles suffered a major diplomatic defeat at the Geneva conference. The blame, it is felt, should have been put on the British for refusing to go along with the Dulles proposal for presenting the Communists with a strong front for "united action" in Indo-China.

President Truman several times wanted to prosecute reporters whom he believed guilty of violating secrecy laws. He was kept from doing this by advisers who told him that such action would serve only to touch off an open feud with the press.

The present attitude in Washington may be merely a phase of adjustment to the harsh realities of government in a period of crisis and revolutionary upheaval. The Eisenhower administrators may get accustomed to the slings and arrows of misfortune which, in their view, the press goes out of its way to hurl. But the present feeling is undeniably sharp and bitter.

BILL DOBLER At City Hall

City Feels Need For More Help

When Mayor Clark Jeary stated during the past week that more administrative help is needed at the City Hall, he said a mouthful.

Bill Dobler

The mayor hit at the heart of what is a rapidly developing unhealthy situation in city government. This situation is the mergence of administrative and legislative functions.

Jeary may have been thinking of the dangers of this development when he stated he did not know how much longer Lincoln could go on in this manner. It is nothing new to point out that the basis of any good government lies in a clear-cut distinction between the administrative and legislative bodies. This very theory is at the bottom of one of the most bitter controversies in the nation's history in Washington between Sen. Joseph McCarthy, other Senate members and the White House.

The mergence of these two governmental functions can do as much, if not more, than any other single thing to undermine an otherwise efficient and effective organization. Administrators rightfully object to an assumption of their duties and responsibilities by a legislative group.

In Lincoln, legislation or policy-making is done on a supposedly part time basis by the mayor and City Council. This body is made up of people who have generally had no previous municipal government experience and are only a part of the city's legislative body for short periods of time.

Members of the City Council do not have the time and experience to deal with administrative problems while the various city departmental heads gain the needed experience through years of work on their respective jobs.

Yet, more and more administrative work is being handled every day by the mayor particularly and the City Council. This is no desire on the part of Jeary or the Council to be in a position of power nor does it show any lack of faith in the ability of the directors.

It is something that has happened because the city is growing while the organization of city government remains the same.

It means just what Jeary said—more help is needed to handle administrative work that is now falling on the shoulders of the mayor and Council.

Present conditions could develop some dangerous precedents which have already shown themselves in several cases. Jeary was called upon last week to settle one administrative matter that was a clearcut case calling for a decision on the part of a director. Yet, the director was either not consulted by one of his departmental heads or else when consulted, he referred the matter to the mayor.

Either way, the matter was settled in the wrong way. It was a case involving a small expenditure of money that the mayor should never even have heard about.

And things could get worse. The more the mayor is called upon to do, the more important and powerful becomes the job of mayor. This could get to the point where the mayor was the only one with any authority in the city.

This has happened in other cities so it can't be ruled out as an impossibility here. Lincoln's own city government has been in a highly unsatisfactory state in times past so if conditions were right, it could get there again.

With two exceptions—the legal and personnel departments—the entire city administration is now vested in three directors whose total salaries are less than $30,000. Those three jobs cover a whole of a lot of territory.

Included under the engineering department with one director are streets, paving repair, engineering, sewers, flood control, building and plumbing inspection, special improvement districts and water and light department. Under the finance department with one direcor are the city clerk and auditor, purchasing department, city assessor and city treasurer. Under welfare and safety with one director are the police and fire departments, special permits, superintendent of buildings and grounds, printing, parks and recreation.

And that simple breakdown does not tell the whole story. Many of the above activities could be broken down into a number of smaller groups.

There has been no change in recent years in the number of activities but each division has increased measurably. More books and help are needed to keep the records; there are more properties to assess, more tax statements to mail out, more purchases to be made, more streets to sweep, more sewers to build, more paving to be laid, more traffic to patrol, more park work needed and more of everything in each department.

When the growth in activities reaches a certain saturation point, more help is about the only answer.

Current Fire Danger

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: A lack of rain accompanied by high temperatures has caused the fire hazard to become critical. There will be many people from the states of Nebraska and Kansas who will journey to the higher mountain areas of Colorado, Wyoming and South Dakota as well as parts of Nebraska over the week end of July 4th on vacation trips. These mountain areas are now tinder dry up to altitudes of 10,000 feet in most cases. One match, one cigarette, one campfire left carelessly may result in a conflagration that will lay waste vast areas of the high mountain forest-clothed watersheds. The major resources of these watersheds is the production of water for numerous mountain lakes, streams and rivers so vital to human survival. These same forests supply timber, forage for livestock and wildlife and provide recreational areas. Everyone traveling or using forest, brush or grassland areas is urged to be very careful and observe the following precautions:

Observe "No Smoking" and "No Campfire" signs. If in an area of high fire hazard, do not build campfires, whether it is in a restricted area or not.

Smoke only in places that you know are safe. Be sure your match is out. When driving, be certain to use your ash tray. It is unlawful in most states to throw burning material from your car.

Observe the "No Fireworks in National Forests" signs.

At regular camp and picnic areas, build fires only at designated places. Scrape all litter and inflammable material down to mineral soil at least three feet from all sides of the fire in areas not having fire grates. Keep your fire small. Never leave it unattended. Use water to drown your fire and test the ashes with your hands to make certain your campfire is dead out before you leave.

The national forests are for the use and enjoyment of all, and the co-operation and assistance of everyone in protecting them and reducing the number of man-caused fires is urgently needed.

West Facing Split Over Red Coexistence

WASHINGTON—The fat is in the fire with respect to President Eisenhower's efforts to temporize with the perilous and pressing differences between this country and its major European allies.

It appears not impossible that a chain reaction will start which will force the President either to abandon his China policy or risk the loss of the Anglo-French alliance.

Three powerhouses of Republican support—the Henry Luce publications, The Wall Street Journal and Senate Majority Leader William Knowland — in various ways have called for a showdown on the situation which has so clearly been developing in world diplomacy.

That situation is that the British and French are headed toward a peaceful co-existence with Russia of which the corollary almost surely will be the admission of Red China into the United Nations. The question which in effect is being put to the President is: "What are you going to do about it?

Sen. Knowland, speaking in the Senate, bluntly put China first. He said that, if Red China were admitted to the United Nations, he would resign his post as Senate leader and work to get this country out of the U.N.

Mr. Luce, it appears from Time Magazine, would also prefer going it alone to abandoning Nationalist China. The Wall Street Journal, much more reserved, did not give its own answers but it demanded an end to present "shaky optimism" and an inquiry into what current realities portend for America's alliances.

The curbstone reaction in the Senate supported Knowland, who spoke without advance warning of his intentions. It could not be judged with certainty—since the Senate quickly moved on to the tax bill—whether such reaction took into account the spreading consequences of any such moves as Knowland desires.

However, a leading isolationist, Sen. Pat McCarran (D.) of Nevada, seized the chance to try to nail down the Knowland thesis. Sen. McCarran, within an hour, had offered a resolution directing the President to withdraw this country from the U.N. if Red China were admitted as a member.

The senator apprehended—no doubt correctly—that Red China recognition is involved in the settlement the French are now attempting to make on Indo-China. What he fears is that Congress will be in session when the issue comes before the U.N.

Unquestionably, the President is now faced with the greatest issue of his presidency, short of war. He has to make up his mind among cruel risks, and face the possibility of a break-up of those European alliances into which so much blood and treasure have been poured and which once saved the free world.

He cannot afford to wait to take his position. So long as he does not speak forcefully and plainly, he will be permitting the Senate leader to set the pattern for his party. He must challenge Knowland or accept the Knowland policy.

There has been some feeling in the Senate that the White House had hoped quietly to drift into the position where siding with Britain and France, and acceptance of co-existence and of Red China, would be inevitable, natural and necessary. If that illusion was ever held by the administration, it now appears doomed.

How This Delicious Laxative Cereal May Help You

Read how this user praises Uncle Sam Laxative Breakfast Food: "For many years, I had struggled with an aggravated case of constipation that required daily assistance for elimination. At the advice of a friend, in fact a doctor, I began using your product as sort of a last hope, and within two weeks seemed to be normal in every way and have had no trouble since."
—J.R.M., South Dakota.

Uncle Sam is a delicious ready-to-eat laxative cereal containing toasted whole wheat flakes and toasted whole flaxseed. Medical authorities have long recognized that flaxseed tends to stimulate peristaltic action of the intestines (bowel action). Flaxseed helps serve as a LUBRICANT.

Big Wheat Step Lies Ahead

Decision On Crop Support Lies With Ike Or Congress

WASHINGTON (INS)—Within the next few weeks either Congress or the Eisenhower Administration must make a momentous election-year farm decision—the establishment of a government support price for the 1955 wheat crop.

If Congress approves the House Agriculture Committee's omnibus farm bill and if President Eisenhower signs the legislation into law, the decision will have been made. Wheat will be supported at 90 percent of parity as it is today.

If, however, Congress fails to pass any legislation, if it enacts a flexible support bill, or if Mr. Eisenhower vetoes the one-year extension of rigid, high price supports voted by the House Committee, the decision wil fall directly on the shoulders of Agriculture Secretary Benson.

In any case, the decision must be announced before the nation's wheat farmers go to the polls in a national referendum July 23 to vote on a national marketing quota for next years' crop.

In that election they will be deciding whether to accept production controls and government supports, or whether to shun both and plant as much wheat as they desire.

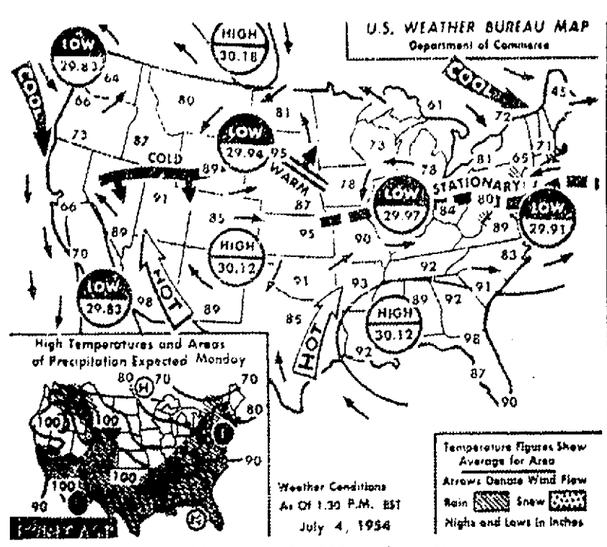
If acreage is reduced from this year's 63 million acres to 55 million acres in 1955, farmers will be entitled to government supports either at the 90 percent level proposed by the House Committee or at a lower level somewhere between 75 and 90 percent of parity as advocatd by Benson and Mr. Eisenhower.

If production controls are rejected, farmers who still plant within their acreage allotment will be entitled to supports at 50 percent of parity. Those who fail to cooperate will not be eligible for supports.

But, farmers must know before they vote what the level of support will be.

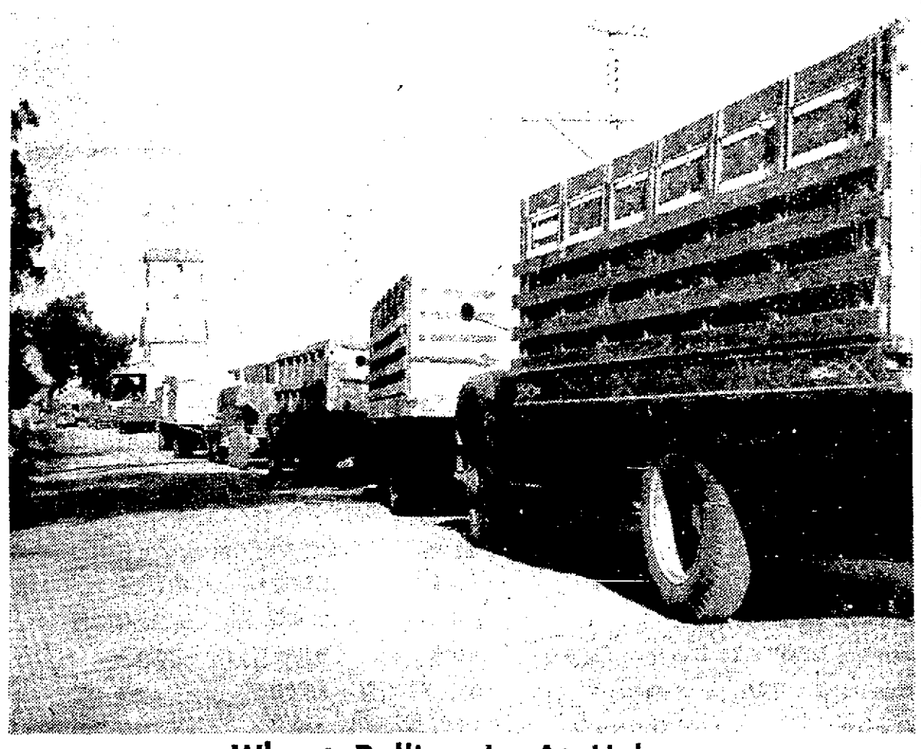
For instance, if Benson sets wheat supports at the national minimum of 75 percent of parity under the flexible system, wheat farmers may feel they can do better by selling their product in the open market rather than depending on supports.

Benson points out that the average May price for wheat in the commercial market was two dollars per bushel—which reflects 80 percent of parity.



Little Change In Weather Seen

Showers and thunderstorms are forecast for most of Atlantic states Monday except for New England where generally fair weather will prevail. Showers and thunderstorms are expected also over the Appalachians, the Ohio and Tennessee Valleys, the Gulf states, the lower Mississippi Valley and the Southern Plains, the Rocky Mountain states, the eastern slopes of the Cascades and the Far Southwest. Little temperature change is expected. (AP Wirephoto Map.)



Wheat Rolling In At Hebron

An estimated 50,000 bushels of wheat daily was rolling into the Hebron elevators as the Nebraska wheat harvest got underway. Trucks above are lined up for several blocks waiting to unload at the Burlington Elevator Company which has elevators on both the Rock Island and Burlington tracks. New equipment makes it possible to load a railroad car in 20 minutes. Most wheat is shipped elsewhere for storage but a shortage of cars delays shipment. Wheat in the Hebron area is reported running about 30 bushels to the acre, weighing 60 pounds per bushel and test-in 12 per cent moisture. (Star Staff Photo.)

Red Cloud Pool Opened

RED CLOUD, Neb. — Special dedication services Sunday, attended by more than 1,000 persons, formally opened Red Cloud's first municipal swimming pool.

The Rev. Edwin Burlingame of the Congregational Church here made the dedicatory address, stressing the importance of everyone learning to swim.

Red Cloud citizens are taking his message to heart as Mayor K. L. Bowen reported, "The pool was just alive with kids Sunday. There was hardly room for another person to get into the pool."

Included in the $50,000 bond issue for the pool and park improvements was a bath house and separate wading pool. The main pool has a full depth of 11 feet.

The dedication service Sunday climaxed a long battle to attain the pool. The first bond election was held in 1939, the mayor added.

Red Cloud residents, who wished to swim, prior to the construction of the new pool, had to go to Superior, 28 miles away, or Franklin, 24 miles away from Red Cloud.

Spring, Fall Crop Of Pigs Boosted

The Crop Reporting Board of the U.S. Department of Agriculture expects the combined spring and fall pig crops this year to total about 12 per cent more than last year, but 2 per cent less than average.

The Board reported the spring crop represented a 13 per cent increase from last spring. It says that if farmers carry out their present plans, they seem likely to have a fall pig crop about 10 per cent larger than last fall. Western States will have about 19 per cent more. The East North Central and South Central States 12 per cent more; South Atlantic 9 per cent; West North Central 8 per cent, and North Atlantic one per cent more than last fall.

DR. GUYER

Guyer Appointed N.U. Husbandman

The University of Nebraska Board of Regents has announced the appointment of Dr. Paul Q. Guyer to the position of Extension Animal Husbandman.

Dr. Guyer will interpret the results of the extensive research program pertaining to animal husbandry carried on at the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture. This involves not only the training of agriculture extension agents but also the preparing of publications for popular consumption by livestock people in the state. This task of keeping people informed of the latest developments in nutritional problems will cause him to work with group conferences and demonstrational meetings

Dr. Guyer has been employed by the University of Missouri where his duties included teaching animal husbandry, livestock judging, and meat courses; coaching of the junior livestock judging teams; and judging and classifying livestock at county shows and consignment sales. All of his academic work has been at the University of Missouri, where he recently obtained his Doctor of Philosophy degree.

Grasshopper Nymphs Abundant In Gardens

Grasshopper nymphs are very abundant in home gardens in certain areas, said Bob Roselle, extension entomologist at the University of Nebraska.

These hoppers may be controlled by using a chlordane 5 per cent dust, or 45 per cent emulsion concentrate at the rate of 4 teaspoons per gallon of water, Roselle said. Spray or dust the borders and weedy patches near the garden

Chlordane may be used on potatoes, strawberries when they are not bearing, and ornamental plants. Chlordane should not be used on tomatoes, cucurbits, and other tender plants because of phytotoxic properties of chlordane. It should not be used on cabbages, lettuce, greens or other edible plants and plant parts.

Big Wheat Step Lies Ahead

Decision On Crop Support Lies With Ike Or Congress

WASHINGTON (INS)—Within the next few weeks either Congress or the Eisenhower Administration must make a momentous election-year farm decision—the establishment of a government support price for the 1955 wheat crop.

If Congress approves the House Agriculture Committee's omnibus farm bill and if President Eisenhower signs the legislation into law, the decision will have been made. Wheat will be supported at 90 percent of parity as it is today.

If, however, Congress fails to pass any legislation, if it enacts a flexible support bill, or if Mr. Eisenhower vetoes the one-year extension of rigid, high price supports voted by the House Committee, the decision wil fall directly on the shoulders of Agriculture Secretary Benson.

In any case, the decision must be announced before the nation's wheat farmers go to the polls in a national referendum July 23 to vote on a national marketing quota for next years' crop.

In that election they will be deciding whether to accept production controls and government supports, or whether to shun both and plant as much wheat as they desire.

If acreage is reduced from this year's 63 million acres to 55 million acres in 1955, farmers will be entitled to government supports either at the 90 percent level proposed by the House Committee or at a lower level somewhere between 75 and 90 percent of parity as advocatd by Benson and Mr. Eisenhower.

If production controls are rejected, farmers who still plant within their acreage allotment will be entitled to supports at 50 percent of parity. Those who fail to cooperate will not be eligible for supports.

But, farmers must know before they vote what the level of support will be.

For instance, if Benson sets wheat supports at the national minimum of 75 percent of parity under the flexible system, wheat farmers may feel they can do better by selling their product in the open market rather than depending on supports.

Benson points out that the average May price for wheat in the commercial market was two dollars per bushel—which reflects 80 percent of parity.

Wheat Rolling In At Hebron

An estimated 50,000 bushels of wheat daily was rolling into the Hebron elevators as the Nebraska wheat harvest got underway. Trucks above are lined up for several blocks waiting to unload at the Burlington Elevator Company which has elevators on both the Rock Island and Burlington tracks. New equipment makes it possible to load a railroad car in 20 minutes. Most wheat is shipped elsewhere for storage but a shortage of cars delays shipment. Wheat in the Hebron area is reported running about 30 bushels to the acre, weighing 60 pounds per bushel and testin 12 per cent moisture. (Star Staff Photo.)

Red Cloud Pool Opened

RED CLOUD, Neb. — Special dedication services Sunday, attended by more than 1,000 persons, formally opened Red Cloud's first municipal swimming pool.

The Rev. Edwin Burlingame of the Congregational Church here made the dedicatory address, stressing the importance of everyone learning to swim.

Red Cloud citizens are taking his message to heart as Mayor K. L. Bowen reported, "The pool was just alive with kids Sunday. There was hardly room for another person to get into the pool."

Included in the $50,000 bond issue for the pool and park improvements was a bath house and separate wading pool. The main pool has a full depth of 11 feet.

The dedication service Sunday climaxed a long battle to attain the pool. The first bond election was held in 1939, the mayor added.

Red Cloud residents, who wished to swim, prior to the construction of the new pool, had to go to Superior, 28 miles away, or Franklin, 24 miles away from Red Cloud.

Spring, Fall Crop Of Pigs Boosted

The Crop Reporting Board of the U.S. Department of Agriculture expects the combined spring and fall pig crops this year to total about 12 per cent more than last year, but 2 per cent less than average.

The Board reported the spring crop represented a 13 per cent increase from last spring. It says that if farmers carry out their present plans, they seem likely to have a fall pig crop about 10 per cent larger than last fall. Western States will have about 19 per cent more. The East North Central and South Central States 12 per cent more; South Atlantic 9 per cent; West North Central 8 per cent, and North Atlantic one per cent more than last fall.

All of his academic work has been at the University of Missouri, where he recently obtained his Doctor of Philosophy degree.

Grasshopper Nymphs Abundant In Gardens

Grasshopper nymphs are very abundant in home gardens in certain areas, said Bob Roselle, extension entomologist at the University of Nebraska.

These hoppers may be controlled by using a chlordane 5 per cent dust, or 45 per cent emulsion concentrate at the rate of 4 teaspoons per gallon of water, Roselle said. Spray or dust the borders and weedy patches near the garden

Chlordane may be used on potatoes, strawberries when they are not bearing, and ornamental plants. Chlordane should not be used on tomatoes, cucurbits, and other tender plants because of phytotoxic properties of chlordane. It should not be used on cabbages, lettuce, greens or other edible plants and plant parts.

'Parks Need Local Funds'

Interior Secretary Declares

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (AP)— Secretary of the Interior McKay said Sunday that if people want more parks and recreational areas they should look to state and local governments rather than to the federal government for help.

"Too long—far too long—have the people looked to Washington for solutions to all their problems," McKay said in an address prepared for the 200th anniversary celebration here of the Battle of Ft. Necessity during the French and Indian War.

McKay said the Battle of Ft. Necessity seemingly was a defeat for George Washington, who commanded a detachment of Virginia troops fighting for the British, yet it marked a turning point in national history by bringing Washington into world prominence for the first time.

State and Local

He said the state joined with local citizens and the federal government to preserve this historic shrine, dedicated as a national battlefield site.

McKay said this demonstrates understanding of the need for states and local communities to share with the federal government in the development of national resources.

McKay said it costs great sums of money to safeguard the safety and convenience of the millions of visitors each year to the national park system.

"Difficulty"

"There has always been difficulty in securing adequate appropriations to maintain properly the facilities already a part of the system," he said.

"I am reluctant therefore, to support any request for additions to the system until the present facilities can be brought up to standard.

"This can only be done by bigger appropriations, and in view of the administration's determined effort to balance the budget any expansions in the park system in the immediate future appear to be foreclosed."

Young Man Of The Family

Eight-year-old Michael Disney of 3330 L is getting an early start at paying a parking ticket, as he's shown doing above, which was given his father, Jack Disney. Michael needed a boost to get up on the counter, but needed no help in signing the waiver at the Police Department as Clerk Irene Husted gives him some moral support. Michael is the youngest ticket-payer in the memory of the department. (Star Staff Photo.)

Sea-Day Near For Navy's Fission Fleet

WASHINGTON (AP)— This country's first fission fleet sailors are polishing off—by land and by sea—the training they need to operate the world's first atomic submarine.

They've been dry land sailors almost three years, but the time is approaching when they will take the USS Nautilus on the first critical trials of a long series of tests.

During much of the last three years, the men have lived and worked on an arid plain in Idaho, while they helped to build and learned to operate the original, land-based prototype of the nuclear power plant that will drive the Nautilus.

Refresher Course

So with their skipper, Cmdr. Eugene P. Wilkinson of Long Beach, Calif., they are taking a refresher course in seamanship as well as practicing up for operating a vessel unlike anything that has sailed before.

At the Navy's New London, Conn., submarine base the crew trains daily either in boats operating out of the base or in an amazing piece of machinery called the Askania Device. The Askania Device is to the submarine service what the Link Trainer is to airmen. While firmly grounded, it contains all the controls and simulates all the conditions of a submarine operating at sea.

The Nautilus' testing begins even before the crew casts off the lines and she moves out for the first time under her own, unique power from the fitting-out dock of the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp. at Groton, Conn.

Using compressed air supplied from dockside high-pressure lines, the men are trying out every tank, pipe, conduit and compartment in the huge hull. Soap, applied to all fittings and seams, shows the tiniest bubble of air that could cause trouble later.

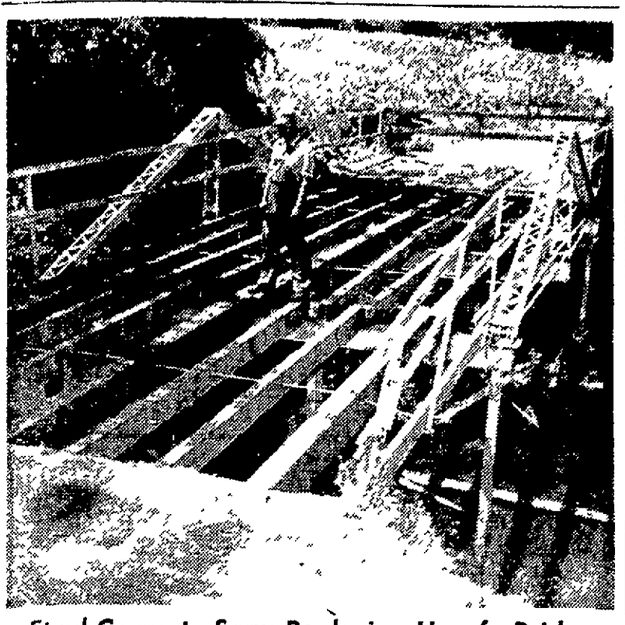
Christmas Tree

The vessel's controls and indicator system — including the "Christmas tree" board of red and green lights to show whether innumerable valves are closed or open—will be checked out thoroughly..

Then the Nautilus will be ready for the big day, probably sometime later this summer or early fall when she heads down the Thames River for Long Island Sound where the initial trials will be run.

Long Island Sound is only about 150 feet deep in the area used for shallow water tests.

When and if the Nautilus proves out to the satisfaction of all her technical and operating hands she will put out to the open sea for the deep dive trials. Only then will the Navy know definitely whether she will fulfill the specifications for a submarine that can travel deeper, farther and faster under water than any submersible ever built.



Steel-Concrete Span Replacing Unsafe Bridge

This old steel bridge over the Haines Branch on Burlington Avenue south of Pioneers Park will be replaced by a new concrete and steel structure as authorized in an emergency resolution by the Lancaster County Board. County Engineer L. W. Weaver estimated construction could not begin for at least a month, pointing out plans are just being readied by his office in the asking for construction bids, requiring two weeks. The old structure was found to be in "unsafe condition" when recent high waters in the creek uncovered deterioration in supporting steel piling, probably caused by a salt or alkali condition in the water. Adolph Priess of 4102 Prescott, who farms nearby land, is shown looking over the bridge. The wooden planks have been removed by county crews, which will also salvage the steel in the bridge. (Star Photo.)

Becker In Organ Playing Contest

Paul Becker, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Becker, will enter the national student organ playing contest sponsored by the American Guild of Organists at Minneapolis July 12.

The winner will receive a $2,000 scholarship to study in Paris under Marcel Dupre.

Becker, a graduate of Henderson State Teachers College, Arkadelphia, Ark., will enter graduate school at the University of Michigan this fall unless he wins the contest.

Winning state and regional contests last summer gave him the opportunity to enter the national competition.

He will leave Lincoln Wednesday for Minneapolis.

Radke Enters Commissioner Post Race

Franz C. Radke, 65, Lincoln attorney, has entered the race for County Commissioner from the Second District.

He filed acceptance of a petition to put him on the ballot as a Democratic candidate for the Commission post from which Chauncey Barney is retiring.

Radke is the twelfth candidate to file for the board. Five Republicans who have filed for the Second District post are Del Lienemann, Marshall Stahnke, Ira Vorhies, James C. Weaver and Harold Hamlin.

Radke said he thinks the board "should continue to have a lawyer member, who should be a Democrat to make the board bipartisan and insure good county government."

A practicing attorney, he has lived in Lincoln since 1931.

He is a former Johnson County judge and city attorney at Tecumseh.

FRANZ C. RADKE

A University of Nebraska College of Law graduate, he served in the state Legislature constitutional convention.

Husband Battles Attacker, But Wife Hacked To Death

CLEVELAND (AP)— The attractive, 30-year-old wife of a Bay Village osteopath was found hacked to death in her bedroom Sunday. Her husband told a grim tale of battling her attacker in the house, down an outside stairway to a private beach and along the shore of Lake Erie in the plush suburb which lies west of Cleveland.

First word of the crime came when Dr. Samuel G. Sheppard phoned the suburb's mayor, J. Spencer Houk, and gasped:

"For God's sake, Spence, get over here quick. I think they have killed Marilyn!"

Houk and his wife rushed to the osteopath's house to find him lying in a semiconscious condition against a chair in the living room. Upstairs was the pajama-clad body of his blond wife, sprawled on a bed with about 30 wounds from a sharp object about her face and head.

The Sheppards' 6-year-old son, Samuel Jr., was sound asleep in the next room.

Dr. Sheppard, 30, who was taken to Bay View Hospital for treatment of head injuries, told police the following story:

He had fallen asleep while listening to the Cleveland Indians-Chicago White Sox baseball game on the radio. Some time later he awakened with the feeling that he had heard his wife scream. He rushed upstairs only to have something crack across his head as he reached the top.

He blacked out and next recalled that he was chasing one man, or perhaps two, through weeds in the back yard, down the stairway to the beach, fighting and grappling as he went. Then he blacked out again and when he aroused, discovered that he had fallen into the water at the edge of the shore.

He returned to the house and saw his wife's body and then lost consciousness again before finally getting to the phone and calling Mayor Houk.

Hacked To Death

Mrs. Samuel Sheppard, 30, was found hacked to death by her husband after he battled one or two men in the house, down an inside stairway and along a lake beach after he heard her scream. (AP Wirephoto.)

Police said two desks and Dr. Sheppard's medicine kit had been ransacked, leading to a theory that the intruder or intruders may have been seeking narcotics. A green cotton bag, containing the osteopath's blood-stained wristwatch, his ring and his fraternity chain was found behind the house. The watch had stopped at 4:15 a.m.

Coroner Samuel R. Gerber said Mrs. Sheppard had not been attacked sexually and died from multiple skull fractures.

Indians 'Pow Wow'

REDBY, Minn., (AP) — Indians from four states and Canada gathered here for a big "pow wow" and Independence Day celebration that is expected to last until Wednesday. Among the hundreds of Indians dressed in full regalia for the singing and dancing on the Red Lake Reservation are Sac and Fox from Iowa, Sioux from the Dakotas and some 75 Canadian tribesmen.

Ike And Mamie 'Take It Easy'

THURMONT, Md. (AP)—President Eisenhower spent a quiet, restful Fourth of July in the seclusion of the Catoctin Mountains.

It was a dull, overcast day, at Camp David, the presidential retreat near here.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower slept late and then spent part of the day lounging on the terrace of their rustic cabin with weekend guests.

'Parks Need Local Funds'

Interior Secretary Declares

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Secretary of the Interior McKay said Sunday that if people want more parks and recreational areas they should look to state and local governments rather than to the federal government for help.

"Too long—far too long—have the people looked to Washington for solutions to all their problems," McKay said in an address prepared for the 200th anniversary celebration here of the Battle of Ft. Necessity during the French and Indian War.

McKay said the Battle of Ft. Necessity seemingly was a defeat for George Washington, who commanded a detachment of Virginia troops fighting for the British, yet it marked a turning point in national history by bringing Washington into world prominence for the first time.

State and Local

He said the state joined with local citizens and the federal government to preserve this historic shrine, dedicated as a national battlefield site.

McKay said this demonstrates understanding of the need for states and local communities to share with the federal government in the development of national resources.

McKay said it costs great sums of money to safeguard the safety and convenience of the millions of visitors each year to the national park system.

"Difficulty"

"There has always been difficulty in securing adequate appropriations to maintain properly the facilities already a part of the system," he said.

"I am reluctant therefore, to support any request for additions to the system until the present facilities can be brought up to standard.

"This can only be done by bigger appropriations, and in view of the administration's determined effort to balance the budget any expansions in the park system in the immediate future appear to be foreclosed."

Young Man Of The Family

Eight-year-old Michael Disney of 3330 L is getting an early start at paying a parking ticket, as he's shown doing above, which was given his father, Jack Disney. Michael needed a boost to get up on the counter, but needed no help in signing the waiver at the Police Department as Clerk Irene Husted gives him some moral support. Michael is the youngest ticket-payer in the memory of the department. (Star Staff Photo.)

Sea-Day Near For Navy's Fission Fleet

WASHINGTON (AP)— This country's first fission fleet sailors are polishing off—by land and by sea—the training they need to operate the world's first atomic submarine.

They've been dry land sailors almost three years, but the time is approaching when they will take the USS Nautilus on the first critical trials of a long series of tests.

During much of the last three years, the men have lived and worked on an arid plain in Idaho, while they helped to build and learned to operate the original, land-based prototype of the nuclear power plant that will drive the Nautilus.

Refresher Course

So with their skipper, Cmdr. Eugene P. Wilkinson of Long Beach, Calif., they are taking a refresher course in seamanship as well as practicing up for operating a vessel unlike anything that has sailed before.

At the Navy's New London, Conn., submarine base the crew trains daily either in boats operating out of the base or in an amazing piece of machinery called the Askania Device. The Askania Device is to the submarine service what the Link Trainer is to airmen. While firmly grounded, it contains all the controls and simulates all the conditions of a submarine operating at sea.

The Nautilus' testing begins even before the crew casts off the lines and she moves out for the first time under her own, unique power from the fitting-out dock of the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp. at Groton, Conn.

Using compressed air supplied from dockside high-pressure lines, the men are trying out every tank, pipe, conduit and compartment in the huge hull. Soap, applied to all fittings and seams, shows the tiniest bubble of air that could cause trouble later.

Christmas Tree

The vessel's controls and indicator system — including the "Christmas tree" board of red and green lights to show whether innumerable valves are closed or open—will be checked out thoroughly.

Then the Nautilus will be ready for the big day, probably sometime later this summer or early fall when she heads down the Thames River for Long Island Sound where the initial trials will be run.

Long Island Sound is only about 150 feet deep in the area used for shallow water tests.

When and if the Nautilus proves out to the satisfaction of all her technical and operating hands she will put out to the open sea for the deep dive trials. Only then will the Navy know definitely whether she will fulfill the specifications for a submarine that can travel deeper, farther and faster under water than any submersible ever built.

Steel-Concrete Span Replacing Unsafe Bridge

This old steel bridge over the Haines Branch on Burlington Avenue south of Pioneers Park will be replaced by a new concrete and steel structure as authorized in an emergency resolution by the Lancaster County Board. County Engineer L. W. Weaver estimated construction could not begin for at least a month, pointing out plans are just being readied by his office in the asking for construction bids, requiring two weeks. The old structure was found to be in "unsafe condition" when recent high waters in the creek uncovered deterioration in supporting steel piling, probably caused by a salt or alkali condition in the water. Adolph Priess of 4102 Prescott, who farms nearby land, is shown looking over the bridge. The wooden planks have been removed by county crews, which will also salvage the steel in the bridge. (Star Photo.)

Becker In Organ Playing Contest

Paul Becker, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Becker, will enter the national student organ playing contest sponsored by the American Guild of Organists at Minneapolis July 12.

The winner will receive a $2,000 scholarship to study in Paris under Marcel Dupre.

Winning state and regional contests last summer gave him the opportunity to enter the national competition.

He wil lleave Lincoln Wednesday for Minneapolis.

Radke Enters Commissioner Post Race

Franz C. Radke, 65, Lincoln attorney, has entered the race for County Commissioner from the Second District.

He filed acceptance of a petition to put him on the ballot as a Democratic candidate for the Commission post from which Chauncey Barney is retiring.

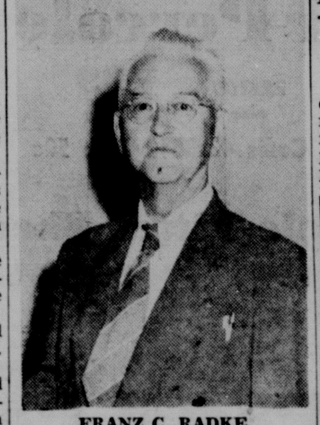
Radke is the twelfth candidate to file for the board. Five Republicans who have filed for the Second District post are:

Del Lienemann, Marshall Stahnke, Ira Vorhies, James C. Weaver and Harold Hamlin.

Radke said he thinks the board "should continue to have a lawyer member, who should be a Democrat to make the board bipartisan and insure good county government."

A practicing attorney, he has lived in Lincoln since 1931.

He is a former Johnson County judge and city attorney at Tecumseh.



FRANZ C. RADKE

A University of Nebraska College of Law graduate, he served in the state Legislature constitutional convention.

Radke, a World War I veteran, is married and has two children.

Husband Battles Attacker, But Wife Hacked To Death

CLEVELAND (AP)— The attractive, 30-year-old wife of a Bay Village osteopath was found hacked to death in her bedroom Sunday. Her husband told a grim tale of battling her attacker in the house, down an outside stairway to a private beach and along the shore of Lake Erie in the plush suburb which lies west of Cleveland.

First word of the crime came when Dr. Samuel G. Sheppard phoned the suburb's mayor, J. Spencer Houk, and gasped:

"For God's sake, Spence, get over here quick. I think they have killed Marilyn!"

Houk and his wife rushed to the osteopath's house to find him lying in a semiconscious condition against a chair in the living room. Upstairs was the pajama-clad body of his blond wife, sprawled on a bed with about 30 wounds from a sharp object about her face and head.

The Sheppards' 6-year-old son, Samuel Jr., was sound asleep in the next room.

Dr. Sheppard, 30, who was taken to Bay View Hospital for treatment of head injuries, told police the following story:

He had fallen asleep while listening to the Cleveland Indians-Chicago White Sox baseball game on the radio. Some time later he awakened with the feeling that he had heard his wife scream. He rushed upstairs only to have something crack across his head as he reached the top.

He blacked out and next recalled that he was chasing one man, or perhaps two, through weeds in the back yard, down the stairway to the beach, fighting and grappling as he went. Then he blacked out again and when he aroused, discovered that he had fallen into the water at the edge of the shore.

He returned to the house and saw his wife's body and then lost consciousness again before finally getting to the phone and calling Mayor Houk.

Police said two desks and Dr. Sheppard's medicine kit had been ransacked, leading to a theory that the intruder or intruders may have been seeking narcotics. A green cotton bag, containing the osteopath's blood-stained wristwatch, his ring and his fraternity chain was found behind the house. The watch had stopped at 4:15 a.m.

Corner Samuel R. Gerber said Mrs. Sheppard had not been attacked sexually and died from multiple skull fractures.

Hacked To Death

Mrs. Samuel Sheppard, 30, was found hacked to death by her husband after he battled one or two men in the house, down an inside stairway and along a lake beach after he heard her scream. (AP Wirephoto.)

Indians 'Pow Wow'

REDBY, Minn., (AP) — Indians from four states and Canada gathered here for a big "pow wow" and Independence Day celebration that is expected to last until Wednesday. Among the hundreds of Indians dressed in full regalia for the singing and dancing on the Red Lake Reservation are Sac and Fox from Iowa, Sioux from the Dakotas and some 75 Canadian tribesmen.

Ike And Mamie 'Take It Easy'

THURMONT, Md. (AP)—President Eisenhower spent a quiet, restful Fourth of July in the seclusion of the Catoctin Mountains.

It was a dull, overcast day, at Camp David, the presidential retreat near here.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower slept late and then spent part of the day lounging on the terrace of their rustic cabin with weekend guests.

Has Church Ceremony

MRS. MARVIN K. LAWTON

Spreading arrangements of white gladioli appointed the altar of St. Paul's Memorial Chapel for the 2:30 o'clock wedding ceremony of Miss Joan Alyce Brenneman, daughter of Mrs. Alice D. Brenneman, and Marvin K. Lawton, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Lawton which was solemnized Sunday, July 4, by the Rev. Richard Nutt.

As the candles were lighted by Miss Connie Lindly of Broken Bow, and Miss Ruth Green of Lincoln who were frocked in pastel blue, Miss Shirley Kinsel sang, accompanied by Houghton Furr, organist, who also played the wedding music.

Miss Norma Setzkorn of Great Lakes, Ill., was the maid of honor and chose a Horizon blue taffeta frock. The tucked bodice featured a V neckline and the flared skirt was emphasized by a pleated hip yoke. She wore a frock-toned bandeau dotted with rhinestones. The bridesmaids, Miss Bobbie Schmidt and Miss Beverly Jackson wore blue ballerina-length frocks fashioned of embroidered net over taffeta. The strapless basques were finished with crushed net fichus and attached shoulder stoles and the petal overskirts, widely ruffled in net, were worn over extremely full taffeta and net petticoats. They wore frock-toned bandeaux and all of the attendants carried colonial bouquets of red and white feathered carnations. Anne Thompson and Diane Thompson of Grand Island, were the flower girls and Jimmy Moses of Norwalk, Calif., was ringbearer.

The bride chose a white gown of Chantilly-type lace and tulle over satin. A low, wide neckline accented the fitted lace and pleated tulle bodice, and the tulle skirt was fashioned with a circular hip yoke of lace graduating to wider length at the back above the whisper train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held by a templet lace clip traced with iridescent paillettes and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of red roses on a white Bible.

David Lindeman served as best man and the ushers were William Griffin, Norman McIntosh of Sargent, William E. Thompson of Grand Island and John R. Thompson.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony after which the couple left for a wedding trip to the Ozarks.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Lawton are graduates of the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Kappa Phi, Pi Lambda Theta and Towne Club. In the fall, Mr. Lawton will enter the University of Nebraska College of Medicine in Omaha where he will be affiliated with Phi Rho Sigma.

To Live In Germany

Spending several weeks as a houseguest at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Brickson, is Mrs. Lester Greener, from Seattle, Wash. Mrs. Greener and her children, Bobby and Dick, who arrived with Mrs. Greener's and Mrs. Brickson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Buck on Wednesday, from Wessington Springs, S. D., will leave on July 6 for Salzburg, Germany to join Mr. Greener. They will live in Germany for two years while Mr. Greener is with the United States Department of Immigration.

Mr. and Mrs. Buck will accompany the threesome abroad and will vacation in Germany.

No Worries Today

IF WE employed a Worry Bird, which of course we don't, he would be out of a job today, for after thumbing through our little red book we found a deluge of news upon us, part of which at least we shall pass on to you this morning.

* * *

DIDN'T GET a chance to tell you before about some of the visitors in Lincoln—Mr and Mrs. Richard Lodge and their children, Judy and Harry of Phoenix Ariz., who are the houseguests of Mrs. Lodge's mother Mrs. Harry Colton. Mrs. Lodge will be remembered as Patty Colton, Kappa Alpha Theta at the University of Nebraska.

Among the courtesies for the guests was an informal supper on Wednesday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. Harry Megginis were host and hostess at their home. Then on Friday, July 2, Mrs. James Swanson entertained at a luncheon in honor of Mrs Lodge.

Included on the guest list at a family picnic on Monday at Pioneer Park will be Mr. and Mrs. John Lessenhop, Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey McIntyre, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Weil and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lodge.

* * *

HAVE A couple new addresses this morning too, one of which is that of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Wilson and their daughter Jane who are now residing at 3000 So. 17. Mrs. Wilson is the former Joan Forbes of Chadron, a Delta Gamma at the University.

* *

AND THE other new house number is 4325 B and after July 15 will be the address of Mr. and Mrs. Allen B. Edee III, and their two children.

* * *

NO DAY would be complete without some news of brides-elect, and since we didn't get to tell you before about another courtesy for Miss Ruth Ann Curtiss, whose marriage to Wayne Swalley will take place July 21, we'll do it now.

On Saturday, Miss Curtiss was an honoree when Miss Jane Deppen was a luncheon hostess at the Lincoln Country Club.

* * *

ANOTHER of our popular brides is Miss Dixie Lee Borgaard whose marriage to Murray Backhaus will take place on Sunday afternoon, Aug. 1, in the chapel of the Westminster Presbyterian Church.

Miss Borgaard has chosen her sister, Mrs. Thomas G. Tobin, as her matron of honor and only attendant. Mrs. Barclay Bailey, also a sister, and Miss Marilyn Pedersen, will light the candles.

James Cederdahl will serve Mr. Backhaus as best man, and ushers will include Robert Kremke, Duane Hess, William Nelson, all of Millard, and Thomas Tobin.

Miss Borgaard will be honored on Tuesday, July 13, when her sister, Mrs. Thomas Tobin and Miss Rita Angell are co-hostesses at at 7.30 o'clock dessert supper at the Borgaard home.

Then on Sunday, July 25, the bride-elect will be honored by her fiance's mother, Mrs. Herman Backhaus who will entertain at her home

Late Afternoon Bride

MRS. PAUL E. GALTER

At a 5:30 o'clock ceremony, solemnized on Sunday, July 4 at Hotel Cornhusker, Miss Audrey Marx, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Jay Marx became the bride of Lt. Paul E. Galter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Galter. The aisle, marked with white satin swags and bows of lavender and white on tall candelabra and a white satin bridal canopy decorated with lavender orchid blossoms and garlands of greenery, formed the decor in the Ballroom of the Hotel. for the ceremony, the lines of which were read by the Rabbi Harold I. Stern in the presence of 200 guests.

The maid of honor, Miss Carole Marx, and the bridesmaids, Miss Donna Steinberg and Miss Theonne Klotz, both of Omaha and Mrs. Herman Shyken, the bridesmatron, wore identical waltz-length frocks of silk iridescent organza in jewel tones of amethyst to jade. The fitted, shirred bodices featured abbreviated sleeves and the skirts had extreme fullness from waist to hemline. They wore soft-crown picture hats of frock-toned organza and the bridesmaids and bridesmatron carried butterflies formed with orchids and silver tricotine wings and lavender feathered carnations. The maid of honor carried an all white butterfly bouquet with white carnations.

The bride chose a gown of imported candlelight Alencon lace over satin. The long-sleeved, fitted bodice was contoured with a low, rounded neckline and trimmed with miniature embroidered lace flowers and iridescent sequins. The circular skirt, which ended in a train, was designed with front panels of pleated tulle. Her tiered fingertip veil of imported French illusion was held by a crown of lace decorated with iridescent sequins and seed pearls and she carried a prayer book marked with a white orchid and stephanotis.

Following the ceremony, a dinner was held at the Hotel Cornhusker, after which the couple left for a wedding trip.

The bride attended the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Sigma Delta Tau.

Mr. Galter is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and the University of Nebraska College of Law where he is a member of Sigma Alpha Mu and Phi Delta Phi.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Robertson are graduates of the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Delta Delta Delta Sorority and he is a member of Delta Upsilon Fraternity.

Guest From California

Visiting at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. D. David Nefsky, and her cousin, Miss Eleanor Nefsky (at right) is Miss Judy Kopman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Kopman of Los Angeles.

Miss Kopman, who arrived on Saturday, June 26, will be in Lincoln until mid-August.

THE WAY MY FAMILY LIKES IT

Mrs. Clarence Hinds has a delicious recipe for Corn Relish made with frozen corn, which her family likes especially with a pork chop dinner. It involves little work besides actually cutting up the vegetables, which is a breeze if you can come by a friend's food chopper. Although Mrs. Hinds is not absolutely sure, she thinks this receipt makes enough for five or six pint jars, but it seldom lasts long on the pantry shelf.

CORN RELISH

3 12 oz. packages frozen corn, (or the kernels from 2 doz. ears)
4 large onions, minced
3 green peppers, finely chopped
1 med. head cabbage, chopped
6 red peppers, chopped
2 quarts vinegar
3 c. sugar
2 oz. dry mustard
¾ c. flour
½ c. salt.
1 t. turmeric
2 oz. celery seed
1 t. paprika

Bring vinegar and dry ingredients to a boil. Add vegetables, except corn, and simmer for 20 minutes, stirring often. Add corn and cook another 20 minutes. Seal right away in sterile jars.

We Hear That

Mrs. Edward Longacre and her 18-months-old son left by plane early last week to join Mr. Longacre in Hackensack, N.J. En route to Hackensack, Mrs. Longacre spent two days in Detroit with her sister, Mrs. F. A. Dixon, and family.

Mr. Longacre was released from the Armed Forces last September and was graduated from Wesleyan University in January.

Receives Honors

MISS CHARLOTTE HERVERT

One of Lincoln's very talented musicians, Miss Charlotte Hervert, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. William Hervert, who will receive her masters degree in music from the Northwestern School of Music, in Evanston, Ill., has recently been awarded several honors.

By audition, Miss Hervert was selected to appear as piano soloist with the Northwestern University Symphony Orchestra at the annual Commencement Concert late in May. The concert was held in the Cahn Auditorium, and the honor, according to Dr. George Howerton, Dean of the Northwestern School of Music, is "one of the greatest accolades the school has to offer its distinguished students."

Miss Hervert presented her graduate recital for her master's degree in Lutkin Hall on May 17, 1954. Previous to this, she attended and was graduated from the University of Nebraska School of Music where she was a member of Singers, Madrigals, University Symphony Orchestra, and also is a member of Sigma Alpha Iota, Pi Kappa Lambda and Kappa Alpha Theta. She was senior piano soloist with the University of Nebraska's Symphony Orchestra and also a graduate assistant at the School of Music during the summer of 1953.

Also among her achievements are a Performer's Diploma in piano and Bronze Medal which she received after a year's study at the Royal Academy of Music in London, England, after which she attended and was graduated from Ward-Belmont School of Music where she is a member of Mu Sigma Phi, and was the recipient of the Jane Moreley Award, given annually to the most outstanding music student at Ward-Belmont.

Miss Hervert plans to do further studying in music in the fall, possibly at Northwestern University.

Change Tuesday Plans At LCC

Ladies Golf Day will be held Tuesday, July 6 at the Lincoln Country Club as scheduled, but the Club will be closed so no luncheon or breakfast will be held in conjuction with the golf day.

Committee members for the day will be Mrs. C. J. Botsford, Mrs. Fred Sidles Jr., and Mrs. M. C. Wieland.

Attending Music Camp

MISS LAUREL ANN PROKOP

Representing Lincoln at the National Music Camp at Interlochen, Mich., this summer are Miss Laurel Ann Prokop, daughter of Lt Col. and Mrs. John J. Prokop, Gayle Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Anderson and Alexander Gordon, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Gordon.

Miss Prokop is studying clarinet under the direction of Robert Harrison at the camp which provides an opportunity for advanced instruction for unusually talented young musicians.

The camp, which runs from June 27 until Aug. 23, has six symphony orchestras, three symphonic bands, twelve choral organizations and an opera company producing 50 operas each summer. Approximately 1100 students will attend the camp this summer.

Has Church Ceremony

MRS. MARVIN K. LAWTON

Spreading arrangements of white gladioli appointed the altar of St. Paul's Memorial Chapel for the 2:30 o'clock wedding ceremony of Miss Joan Alyce Brenneman, daughter of Mrs. Alice D. Brenneman, and Marvin K. Lawton, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Lawton which was solemnized Sunday, July 4, by the Rev. Richard Nutt.

As the candles were lighted by Miss Connie Lindly of Broken Bow, and Miss Ruth Green of Lincoln who were frocked in pastel blue, Miss Shirley Kinsel sang, accompanied by Houghton Furr, organist, who also played the wedding music.

Miss Norma Setzkorn of Great Lakes, Ill., was the maid of honor and chose a Horizon blue taffeta frock. The tucked bodice featured a V neckline and the flared skirt was emphasized by a pleated hip yoke. She wore a frock-toned bandeau dotted with rhinestones. The bridesmaids, Miss Bobbie Schmidt and Miss Beverly Jackson wore blue ballerina-length frocks fashioned of embroidered net over taffeta. The strapless basques were finished with crushed net fichus and attached shoulder stoles and the petal overskirts, widely ruffled in net, were worn over extremely full taffeta and net petticoats. They wore frock-toned bandeaux and all of the attendants carried colonial bouquets of red and white feathered carnations. Anne Thompson and Diane Thompson of Grand Island, were the flower girls and Jimmy Moses of Norwalk, Calif., was ringbearer.

The bride chose a white gown of Chantilly-type lace and tulle over satin. A low, wide neckline accented the fitted lace and pleated tulle bodice, and the tulle skirt was fashioned with a circular hip yoke of lace graduating to wider length at the back above the whisper train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held by a templet lace clip traced with iridescent paillettes and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of red roses on a white Bible.

David Lindeman served as best man and the ushers were William Griffin, Norman McIntosh of Sargent, William E. Thompson of Grand Island and John R. Thompson.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony after which the couple left for a wedding trip to the Ozarks.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Lawton are graduates of the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Kappa Phi, Pi Lambda Theta and Towne Club. In the fall, Mr. Lawton will enter the University of Nebraska College of Medicine in Omaha where he will be affiliated with Phi Rho Sigma.

No Worries Today

IF WE employed a Worry Bird, which of course we don't, he would be out of a job today, for after thumbing through our little red book we found a deluge of news upon us, part of which at least we shall pass on to you this morning.

* * *

DIDN'T GET a chance to tell you before about some of the visitors in Lincoln—Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lodge and their children, Judy and Harry of Phoenix, Ariz., who are the houseguests of Mrs. Lodge's mother, Mrs. Harry Colton. Mrs. Lodge will be remembered as Patty Colton, Kappa Alpha Theta at the University of Nebraska.

Among the courtesies for the guests was an informal supper on Wednesday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. Harry Meginnis were host and hostess at their home. Then on Friday, July 2, Mrs. James Swanson entertained at a luncheon in honor of Mrs. Lodge.

Included on the guest list at a family picnic on Monday at Pioneer Park will be Mr. and Mrs. John Lessenhop, Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey McIntyre, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Weil and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lodge.

* * *

HAVE A couple new addresses this morning too, one of which is that of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Wilson and their daughter Jane who are now residing at 3000 So. 17. Mrs. Wilson is the former Joan Forbes of Chadron, a Delta Gamma at the University.

* * *

AND THE other new house number is 4325 B and after July 15 will be the address of Mr. and Mrs. Allen B. Edee III, and their two children.

* * *

NO DAY would be complete without some news of brides-elect, and since we didn't get to tell you before about another courtesy for Miss Ruth Ann Curtiss, whose marriage to Wayne Swalley will take place July 21, we'll do it now.

On Saturday, Miss Curtiss was an honoree when Miss Jane Deppen was a luncheon hostess at the Lincoln Country Club.

* * *

ANOTHER of our popular brides is Miss Dixie Lee Borgaard whose marriage to Murray Backhaus will take place on Sunday afternoon, Aug. 1, in the chapel of the Westminster Presbyterian Church.

Miss Borgaard has chosen her sister, Mrs. Thomas G. Tobin, as her matron of honor and only attendant. Mrs. Barclay Bailey, also a sister, and Miss Marilyn Pedersen, will light the candles.

James Cederdahl will serve Mr. Backhaus as best man, and ushers will include Robert Kremke, Duane Hess, William Nelson, all of Millard, and Thomas Tobin.

Miss Borgaard will be honored on Tuesday, July 13, when her sister, Mrs. Thomas Tobin and Miss Rita Angell are co-hostesses at at 7:30 o'clock dessert supper at the Borgaard home.

Then on Sunday, July 25, the bride-elect will be honored by her fiance's mother, Mrs. Herman Backhaus who will entertain at her home

Late Afternoon Bride

MRS. PAUL E. GALTER

At a 5:30 o'clock ceremony, solemnized on Sunday, July 4 at Hotel Cornhusker, Miss Audrey Marx, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Jay Marx became the bride of Lt. Paul E. Galter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Galter. The aisle, marked with white satin swags and bows of lavender and white on tall candelabra and a white satin bridal canopy decorated with lavender orchid blossoms and garlands of greenery, formed the decor in the Ballroom of the Hotel, for the ceremony, the lines of which were read by the Rabbi Harold I. Stern in the presence of 200 guests.

The maid of honor, Miss Carole Marx, and the bridesmaids, Miss Donna Steinberg and Miss Theonne Klotz, both of Omaha and Mrs. Herman Shyken, the bridesmatron, wore identical waltz-length frocks of silk iridescent organza in jewel tones of amethyst to jade. The fitted, shirred bodices featured abbreviated sleeves and the skirts had extreme fullness from waist to hemline. They wore soft-crown picture hats of frock-toned organza and the bridesmaids and bridesmatron carried butterflies formed with orchids and silver tricotine wings and lavender feathered carnations. The maid of honor carried an all white butterfly bouquet with white carnations.

The bride chose a gown of imported candlelight Alencon lace over satin. The long-sleeved, fitted bodice was contoured with a low, rounded neckline and trimmed with miniature embroidered lace flowers and iridescent sequins. The circular skirt, which ended in a train, was designed with front panels of pleated tulle. Her tiered fingertip veil of imported French illusion was held by a crown of lace decorated with iridescent sequins and seed pearls and she carried a prayer book marked with a white orchid and stephanotis.

Following the ceremony, a dinner was held at the Hotel Cornhusker, after which the couple left for a wedding trip.

The bride attended the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Sigma Delta Tau.

Mr. Galter is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and the University of Nebraska College of Law where he is a member of Sigma Alpha Mu and Phi Delta Phi.

West Coast Ceremony

MRS. WILLIAM GRAY ROBERTSON, the former Marilyn Luce, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. P. Luce of Fairbury, was married on Saturday, June 19 at the First Presbyterian Church in Concord, Calif., to William G. Robertson, son of Mrs. W. A. Robertson of Lincoln, and the late Judge Roberston.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Robertson are graduates of the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Delta Delta Delta Sorority and he is a member of Delta Upsilon Fraternity.

Guest From California

Visiting at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. D. David Nefsky, and her cousin, Miss Eleanor Nefsky (at right) is Miss Judy Kopman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Kopman of Los Angeles.

Miss Kopman, who arrived on Saturday, June 26, will be in Lincoln until mid-August.

THE WAY MY FAMILY LIKES IT

Mrs. Clarence Hinds has a delicious recipe for Corn Relish made with frozen corn, which her family likes especially with a pork chop dinner. It involves little work besides actually cutting up the vegetables, which is a breeze if you can come by a friend's food chopper. Although Mrs. Hinds is not absolutely sure, she thinks this receipt makes enough for five or six pint jars, but it seldom lasts long on the pantry shelf.

CORN RELISH

3 12 oz. packages frozen corn, (or the kernels from 2 doz. ears)
4 large onions, minced
3 green peppers, finely chopped
1 med. head cabbage, chopped
6 red peppers, chopped
2 quarts vinegar
3 c. sugar
2 oz. dry mustard
¾ c. flour
½ c. salt.
1 t. turmeric
2 oz. celery seed
1 t. paprika

Bring vinegar and dry ingredients to a boil. Add vegetables, except corn, and simmer for 20 minutes, stirring often. Add corn and cook another 20 minutes. Seal right away in sterile jars.

We Hear That

Mr. Longacre was released from the Armed Forces last September and was graduated from Wesleyan University in January.

To Live In Germany

Spending several weeks as a houseguest at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Brickson, is Mrs. Lester Greener, from Seattle, Wash. Mrs. Greener and her children, Bobby and Dick, who arrived with Mrs. Greener's and Mrs. Brickson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Buck on Wednesday, from Wessington Springs, S. D., will leave on July 6 for Salzburg, Germany to join Mr. Greener. They will live in Germany for two years while Mr. Greener is with the United States Department of Immigration.

Mr. and Mrs. Buck will accompany the threesome abroad and will vacation in Germany.

Receives Honors

MISS CHARLOTTE HERVERT

One of Lincoln's very talented musicians, Miss Charlotte Hervert, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. William Hervert, who will receive her masters degree in music from the Northwestern School of Music, in Evanston, Ill., has recently been awarded several honors.

By audition, Miss Hervert was selected to appear as piano soloist with the Northwestern University Symphony Orchestra at the annual Commencement Concert late in May. The concert was held in the Cahn Auditorium, and the honor, according to Dr. George Howerton, Dean of the Northwestern School of Music, is "one of the greatest accolades the school has to offer its distinguished students."

Miss Hervert presented her graduate recital for her master's degree in Lutkin Hall on May 17, 1954. Previous to this, she attended and was graduated from the University of Nebraska School of Music where she was a member of Singers, Madrigals, University Symphony Orchestra, and also is a member of Sigma Alpha Iota, Pi Kappa Lambda and Kappa Alpha Theta. She was senior piano soloist with the University of Nebraska's Symphony Orchestra and also a graduate assistant at the School of Music during the summer of 1953.

Also among her achievements are a Performer's Diploma in piano and Bronze Medal which she received after a year's study at the Royal Academy of Music in London, England, after which she attended and was graduated from Ward-Belmont School of Music where she is a member of Mu Sigma Phi, and was the recipient of the Jane Moreley Award, given annually to the most outstanding music student at Ward-Belmont.

Miss Hervert plans to do further studying in music in the fall, possibly at Northwestern University.

Change Tuesday Plans At LCC

Ladies Golf Day will be held Tuesday, July 6 at the Lincoln Country Club as scheduled, but the Club will be closed so no luncheon or breakfast will be held in conjuction with the golf day.

Committee members for the day will be Mrs. C. J. Botsford, Mrs. Fred Sidles Jr., and Mrs. M. C. Wieland.

Attending Music Camp

MISS LAUREL ANN PROKOP

Representing Lincoln at the National Music Camp at Interlochen, Mich., this summer are Miss Laurel Ann Prokop, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. John J. Prokop, Gayle Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Anderson and Alexander Gordon, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Gordon.

Miss Prokop is studying clarinet under the direction of Robert Harrison at the camp which provides an opportunity for advanced instruction for unusually talented young musicians.

The camp, which runs from June 27 until Aug. 23, has six symphony orchestras, three symphonic bands, twelve choral organizations and an opera company producing 50 operas each summer. Approximately 1100 students will attend the camp this summer.

White Sox Lose Again As Indians Sweep Series

Pale Hose Held Hitless Until Ninth Inning By Three Cleveland Hurlers

CLEVELAND (AP)—Three Cleveland hurlers kept the Chicago White Sox hitless for nearly nine innings Sunday and won a 2-1 victory for a sweep of a four-game series.

Minnie Minoso spoiled the no-hitter bid with two out in the ninth when he singled off reliefer Early Wynn, but then was out stealing to end the game.

Larry Doby drove in both Cleveland runs with a home run and a single. He has accounted for a total of eight runs in the four-game series and the homer, his 15th, puts him one ahead of his teammate, Al Rosen.

Sunday's victory left the Indians well established in first place on July 4, said to be the crucial date in any pennant race. Records show that seven times out of 10, the team in first on Independence Day is there at the end of the season.

The Chicago run was scored on a walk, a wild pitch and a wild throw. In the eighth inning, Sherm Lollar walked. Fred Marsh, running for him, took second on a wild pitch and moved to third when Willard Marshall grounded out. Marsh scored when Johnny Groth grounded to Bill Glynn, who threw wild to Wynn, covering first, on what should have been the third out.

Cleveland's first run came in the fourth when Bill Glynn hit the second of his three singles, moved to second on a sacrifice by Bob Avila and scored on Doby' single. Doby's homer in the sixth added the other Tribe counter.

Rookie Ray Narleski, who got out 17 batters in a relief stretch that began in the second inning and ended in the eighth, got credit for the victory. Narleski took over after starter Mike Garcia was removed when he was found to have a hemorrhage in the middle finger of his pitching hand.

Red Sox Stop Athletics 8-0

BOSTON (AP) — Sammy White drove in three runs with a home run and a single Sunday as the Boston Red Sox blanked the Philadelphia Athletics 8-0 behind Lefty Leo Kiely's eight-hit pitching.

Kiely, in gaining his second victory of the year against five defeats, posted shutout No. 2 for Boston pitchers as his teammates collected 15 hits. The Red Sox have been blanked eight times to date.

Leo gave up three singles in the first inning but a double play and an inning-ending fly ball by Gus Zernial got him out of trouble. With runners on second and third in the sixth, Kiely fanned Joe DeMaestri, one of his five strikeouts, for the third out.

In an unusual feature, not a single outfield putout was made against Boston.

White's single accounted for the second of Boston's two runs in the first inning after Karl Olson bounced a safety off Spook Jacobs' shoulder to send home Ted Williams.

Sammy crashed a two-run homer into the top of the left field screen above the scoreboard on loser Al Sima's first pitch to make it 5-0 in the third.

Billy Goodman, who got three singles, sent home the doubling Milt Bolling in the second.

Jackie Jensen's infield single and DeMaestri's throwing error scored two runs for Boston in the fourth following a walk, a balk and a force play.

The final Red Sox tally came in the seventh as rookie Hal Raether, third of the A's hurlers making his first major league appearance gave up a single, committed a balk and walked three batters to force in a run.

Grim Blanks Senators 3-0

NEW YORK (AP) — Rookie Bob Grim blanked Washington with five hits Sunday for his first major league shutout as the New York Yankees downed the Senators 3-0. Yogi Berra drove in the first two Yank runs with a single in the sixth and successive doubles by Bill Skowron and Andy Carey added the other run in the seventh.

Grim settled down after a shaky start to win his ninth game to three defeats. Johnny Pesky's double and a walk to Pete Runnels put him in trouble in the first. Tom Umphlett's single and a walk to Joe Tipton provided another threat in the second but Grim helped himself by covering first base to complete a double play.

The Yanks were held to two hits in the first five innings. With one out in the sixth, lefty Maury McDermott walked Grim. Singles by Jerry Coleman and Irv Noren loaded the bases, but Eddie Yost made a great play on Mickey Mantle's trickling grounder to force Grim at the plate. Berra then came through with a bloop single to center, scoring both Coleman and Noren.

Skowron and Carey opened the seventh with successive doubles to make it 3-0.

Orioles Drop Tigers, 3-1

BALTIMORE (AP) — Lou Kretlow scattered five hits—one of them Walt Dropo's pinch-hit home run — as the Baltimore Orioles turned back the Detroit Tigers Sunday 3-1 and swept the three-game series.

Except for Dropo's eight-inning blow, Kretlow was in little trouble posting his second victory of the year against four defeats.

He walked only two and struck out six Tigers before the holiday crowd of 11,506 fans.

The Orioles got to Steve Gromek for two runs in the second inning, then added an insurance run off reliefer Dick Marlowe in the eighth.

Clint Courtney started the second with a single and raced home on Vin Garcia's triple. Jim Brideweser followed with a single past Tiger second baseman Frank Bolling, driving in Garcia.

Optimists Trip Ogallala Nine

Lincoln Star Special

OGALLALA — Dick Welch, 14-year-old righthander, fanned 15 men and allowed five hits as the Lincoln Optimists beat the Ogallala Legion team, 5-2, here Sunday night.

Welch, in scoring his third victory, pitched his best game of the season. His pitching opponent, Larry Kalkowski, also pitched good ball and suffered his first loss.

For the second straight night, the hitting of Larry Littrell sparked the Optimists.

In the seventh inning, Littrell's line double over the shortstop's head scored two runs.

Littrell started a two-run rally in the sixth by doubling with one out. Al Newbill walked after Littrell's hit, and Jon Lutz hit into a force play. Then John Douthit banged a triple to deep left, scoring two runs.

Lincoln got one run in the third when Phil Miller walked, went to second on anerror, took third on an infield hit and scored on a wild pitch by Kalkowski.

Errors led to both Ogallala runs. In the third, Kalkowski lived on Littrell's boot. He stole second and scored when Robinson doubled.

An error, a force play and Howard McVey's two-bagger accounted for an Ogallala run in the eighth. McVey was outstanding for Ogallala.

Lincoln plays at North Platte today at 2 p.m. Denny Curtin (3-1) will pitch for the Optimists.

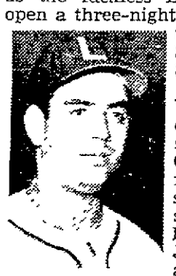
Jackie Price Features Lincoln-Sioux City Tilt

By NORRIS ANDERSON
Sports Editor, The Star

Jackie Price, king of the baseball clowns, will provide Sherman Field comedy relief tonight as the luckless Lincoln Chiefs open a three-night stand against the rising Sioux City Soos.



Noel Oquendo

Manager Whitey Wietelman, after seeing his Chiefs plunge from first to sixth within six weeks, is hoping that Jackie will be a good omen.

"We're certainly entitled a change of luck," moaned Whitey. Look at all the games we've lost in the late innings. It really hurts when you lose one like we lost to Omaha (5-4) Saturday night with Andy Bush, our best pitcher, doing the throwing."

Noel Oquendo (1-3), fiery Puerto Rico native, will be on the mound for the Chiefs. In his last start, Oquendo pitched a three-hit masterpiece, yet was edged by Des Moines.

General Manager Bill Herring announced that Pitcher Tom Keating (1-3) had been given his outright release. Keating had been slow rounding into shape and had been heavily shelled in recent appearances.

New faces in the Chiefs raiment will be pitchers Frank Stewart and Ed Wright. Another pitcher, Bob Stoker, and an infielder, Bobby Myers, are expected to join the club soon.

Norm Brown (6-11) is out of action indefinitely with a sore pitching apparatus. Wietelmann is hoping that Wright, who yielded 11 hits in 3⅔ innings against Des Moines Thursday night, and Stewart will fill Brown's shoes.

Price will start his exhibition at 7:45.

It is now slightly over seven years since Jackie Price first brought his bag of baseball tricks to the nation's fans. But in that time the slight, blond-haired Tennessean has gained the reputation of being baseball's foremost trick artist who can accomplish unusual feats with a ball, bat and glove.

During the past few winters, Price has completed triumphant tours of Korea as well as the Carribean Islands and Central and South America.

Price was a better than ordinary minor league infielder for nearly a decade before Bill Veeck moved him up to the Cleveland Indians in August of 1946.

BOSTON (AP) — Wilmer Shantz, Philadelphia Athletics catcher, had eight stitches taken in his right arm Sunday after a play at the plate in which Boston's Grady Hatton was thrown out. Shantz received a gash below his right elbow as Hatton slid into the plate attempting to score from first on Milt Bolling's double in the second inning. He was taken to Sancta Maria Hospital for the stitching.

Gordon Still of Kearney dominated the Class A field in a registered shoot at the Lincoln Gun Club Sunday.

The Kearney shooter hit 96 out of 100 targets at 16 yards.

Lincoln's Al Behrens won the Class B event with 98 out of 100, and Tal Edwards of Alvo and Loren Hall of Beatrice tied for Class C honors with 96 successful shots.

Lincoln's Johnnie Johnsen captured Class D with 93 out of 100.

Alvo's Edwards shot from 20 yards in the handicap event and beat the fairly large field with 94 out of 100. Bernie Knudson of Lincoln was second with 93

A league trapshoot will be held here later this summer. Lincoln is a member of Eastern Nebraska Sportsmen's Associations. Other members are Beatrice, Fremont, Omaha, Tekemah, and Scribner.

Stan Musial returned to first base for the first time since 1952 because of rookie Tom Alston's batting slump.

Stan 'The Man' Musial Top 'Star' Vote-Getter

CHICAGO (AP)— Stan (The Man) Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals emerged Sunday as the highest individual vote getter in the final tabulation of the All-Star baseball poll.

Musial, six-time National League batting champion, polled 1,468,377 of the 4,272,470 votes cast by baseball fans throughout the world. Trailing Musial as first choice were Cleveland's Al Rosen, 1,452,736, and the New York Yankees' Yogi Berra, 1,449,386.

Three National Leaguers and five American Leaguers repeated as winners from last year's vote for starting berths in the 21st annual classic July 13 at Cleveland.

In the National League, Musial received the nod again for right field while Roy Campanella of the Brooklyn Dodgers repeated as catcher with Ted Kluszewski of the Cincinnati Redlegs the choice at first base.

In the American, Berra joined two other members of the Yankees' world champion team as repeaters by remaining first choice as catcher. Mickey Mantle annexed the center field position for a second year in a row. Hank Bauer matched his Yankee teammate as starting right fielder.

Slick-fielding Chico Carresquel of the Chicago White Sox repeated as starting shortstop. Rosen, a starter last year at third base, moved across the diamond to first base.

Minnie Minoso of the White Sox took the left field starting berth with a commanding 300,000 vote bulge over Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox, a perennial selection. Bobby Avila of the league-leading Indians and Ray Boone of Detroit round out the starting junior circuit lineup.

Joining Musial, Campanella and Kluszewski as National League starters are: Granny Hamner of Philadelphia, second base; Ray Jablonski of St. Louis, third base; Alvin Dark of New York, shortstop; and Jackie Robinson and Duke Snider of Brooklyn as left and center fielders.

Manager Casey Stengel of the Yankees and Walter Alston of the Dodgers are expected to announce their selection of pitchers and reserve players Monday. The Nationals won last year 5 to 1 at Cincinnati for their fourth straight victory.

Rules of the voting poll require that players named as starters be permitted to play the first three innings before being replaced.

Yanks Hook Marlin

BALTIMORE (INS)—The Baltimore Orioles Sunday sold veteran relief specialist Marlin Stuart to the New York Yankees for the waiver price of $10,000.

Stuart, who will be 36 in August, had a record of one victory and two defeats in 22 relief appearances for the Orioles this season. Last year he won eight games—the most on the St. Louis Browns' pitching staff—and lost two as he appeared in 60 games in relief. The veteran righthander will report to the Yankees Monday.

Record Omaha Crowd Watches Chiefs Absorb 7 To 1 Defeat

OMAHA (AP)—The Omaha Cardinals moved into undisputed second place in the Western League by downing Lincoln, 7-1, Sunday night at Omaha.

A season record crowd saw the Cards sweep the three-game series. Paid attendance was 5,317 and 1,177 kids were admitted free.

Gordon Jones won his sixth game but he had considerable trouble. He allowed 11 hits and several times in the middle innings was threatened with a trip to the showers.

The Cardinals hopped on Roger Wright for a five-run third inning. A triple by Jim King crashed the deep rightfield corner and sent two runners hurrying across the plate.

Wright was relieved by Vance Carlson with Bob Mathieson and Frank Stewart also getting a shot at the Lincoln pitching chores.

The other two Omaha runs came in the seventh with Don McLennan. Barney Elser, Neal Hertweck and King getting consecutive singles.

Jones was wobbly at the start, filling the bases on two singles and a walk in the first inning. He was nicked for a run in the third on singles by Billy Smith, Mel Rue and John Jones. The run, however, scored during a double play.

Lincoln got two men on in the fourth, left the bases full in the fifth and stranded two more men in the seventh.

Gordon Homer Gives Pirates Split With Giants

New York's Lead Cut By Half Game Despite 9 To 2 Victory In Opener

PITTSBURGH (AP)— Pinch-hitter Sid Gordon socked a three-run homer in the eighth inning Sunday to give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 7-6 victory over the league-leading New York Giants in the second game of a doubleheader. The Giants took the first game 9-2.

The victory and the loss shaved the Giants' lead over the second-place Brooklyn Dodgers to 3½ games. The Dodgers, playing only one game Sunday, defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 5-3.

Gordon's pinch homer in the nightcap came with two out, runners on first and second and the Pirates trailing by two runs.

Gordon batted for pitcher Paul LaPalme who had given up 6 runs and 12 hits in 7⅓ innings. LaPalme was credited with the victory, his first of the season. He has five losses.

The Pirates belted four Giant hurlers for 11 hits. Larry Jansen started the game but was knocked out of the box in the fourth inning. Hoyt Wilhelm replaced him but was taken out for a pinch hitter in the sixth frame. Marv Grissom, who replaced Wilhelm, was charged with the loss. John McCall finished the Giants' pitching chores.

Gordon's homer was his first this season at Forbes Field. It was his third round-tripper of the year. Until he swatted the winning blow, Gordon had not driven in a run in 15 games.

The Giants' Don Liddle, a southpaw, allowed only three hits in the 8 2-3 innings that he pitched in the first game. With two out and the bases loaded in the ninth frame, Liddle was replaced by McCall who retired the last Pirate batter. Liddle's record now stands at three victories and two losses.

The Giants got 14 hits off three Pirate hurlers. The starter, Max Surkont gave up 7 runs and 8 hits in 3 2-3 innings. Bob Purkey and Laurin Pepper absorbed the rest of the Giant slugging, giving up a total of six hits.

Surkont was charged with the loss, making his season record six victories and 10 defeats.

Dusty Rhodes replaced Monte Irvin in left field for the Giants in the first game. Rhodes drove in three runs with two hits, including his second homer of the year.

Hank Thompson hit his 13th homer of the season in the Giants half of the seventh inning in the second game. The blow scored two runners ahead of Thompson and gave the Giants a three-run edge.

Redlegs Tip Braves, 4-3

MILWAUKEE (AP)— Jim Greengrass' bases-loaded single highlighted a four-run sixth inning Sunday as the Cincinnati Redlegs chased Lew Burdette to beat the Milwaukee Braves, 4-3, and climb to within a half-game of the National League's first division.

Burdette, riding a one-hitter through the first five innings in which he faced only 15 batters, fell apart with two out in the sixth. It was the second straight game in which the rubber-armed righthander had blown in the middle innings.

Bums Defeat Phils In Ten

PHILADELPHIA (AP)— The Brooklyn Dodgers blasted Robin Roberts for a pair of triples and two doubles in the 10th inning Sunday to score four runs and beat the Philadelphia Phillies 5-3 at Connie Mack Stadium. Carl Erskine earned his eighth win against the same number of defeats, while for Roberts it was loss number eight against 11 victories.

The Dodgers, fighting desperately to keep from losing any more ground to the league-leading New York Giants, broke up a 1-1 tie with their 10th-inning onslaught.

Park Valley's 18-Hole Mark Tied By Maul

Par was battered and a course record was shaken out at Park Valley's nine-hole course Sunday when John Maul played one of the best rounds in the Capital City this season.

The Lincoln golfer went around in 33, then shot a 31 and tied the course record for 18 holes with his 64. The mark was set by Stan Stroh of Lincoln two summers back.

On his big day Stroh also established the nine hole mark of 30. Maul missed that record by one stroke Sunday.

Leo Ostermiller led over 600 Pioneers golfers with his 73. Don Hoff and Joe Gifford, Sr., trailed with 74's.

Gifford also shot a 75 while Ed Dosek came through with two 75's.

Other scores at Pioneers: 76—Ken Odle, Vern Vogt, Bo Bullock; 77—Clayton Anderson, Wilbert Everett; 79—Oscar Wisbey, Joe Dworak; 80—Paul Lang; 87—Thelma Wood.

Dick Peters got an eagle on the 14th and finished with an 82.

Activity at the Lincoln Country Club was the first half of holiday play which will close Monday. Don Pegler, Sr., shot a 69 to lead the field into the final day.

Don Pegler, Jr., and Bill Mowbray had 71's; Dr. F. W. Ahlbrecht and Jerry Hunt 73's; Wheaton Battey, Steve Flansburg and Herb Duermeyer 74's; Ralph Ireland 83 and Charlie Miller 84.

Ireland led in low net for 18 with a 62. Don Pegler Sa., had low net for nine with 29½ and low gross for nine with 32.

Four Hillcrest golfers came in with their best scores of the summer.

Jerry Jones and H. P. Swedeburg did the 18 in 74's. The score for Swedeburg may have been the best game of his golfing life.

Jim Carrier's 79 was his season low as was the 83 of Dr. R. P. Marshall.

Special events went to Ed Smith and Jack McCuistion for longest drives on Nos. 9 and 10 respectively.

Mick McCuistion won the closest-to-pin award on No. 3, while Pat Mulligan took it on No. 8, George Albin on No. 12 and C. E. Squire on No. 16.

Dr. Marshall was the Sweepstakes winner with a net 62. Jim Carrier with second with 63, George Albin third with 66 and C. S Kirk fourth with 67.

Tied for fifth with 68 were Bud Woolman, Ray Becker, E. F. Bechtold and Jack Morris.

Cards Split With Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals exploded for five runs in the fifth inning to blank Chicago 7-0 in the second game of a doubleheader after the Cubs won the opener 4-2 here Sunday.

Snapping a six-game losing streak against the Cubs, the Cardinals completed three weeks of travel to seven National League cities with a 7 won, 11 lost record.

Royce Lint, pitching the distance the first time this season, evened his record at 2-2 by yielding nine hits. Johnny Klippstein drew the loss, his seventh. It marked the eighth straight time the fast-balling righthander has started and failed to finish.

Rookie Joe Cunningham paced St. Louis' 13-hit assault in the second game with three singles.

A Bad Deal For Both Participants

Middlecoff Whips Slump To Capture Motor City Open Golf

DETROIT (AP)— Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, Tenn.—who almost quit in the first round — smashed Meadowbrook's par and a strange one-year slump Sunday when he fired a three-under-par 68 to win the Motor City Open with a 72-hole total of 278.

The 33-year-old dentist, winless since the Carlings Open last summer, dismantled Meadowbrook's par 71 with rounds of 72-68-70-68—278, six under par. It gave him a two-stroke edge over Gene Littler, the promising newcomer from Palm Springs, Calif., veteran Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill., and Tommy Bolt, Houston, Texas.

Littler and Furgol topped Middlecoff's 68 with a pair of hot 67s but the good doctor's steadiness in the four-day tournament was the turning point.

In winning his third Motor City title, Middlecoff picked up first prize of $3,000. He shared the crown with Lloyd Mangrum in 1949 and won it outright in 1952.

Only last Thursday, when the $17,500 event started, Middlecoff broke his pet putter and said he "felt like picking up and quitting."

But he quieted his momentary flare of temper, steadied his game and completely spoiled the tournament for the other 156 players with his cold, calculating shotmaking.

Three players were bracketed at 281 for fourth place — Wally Burkmo, Franklin, Mich.; Ted Kroll, New Hartford, N. Y., and Rudy Horvath, Windsor, Ont.

Following at 282 were veteran Johnny Palmer from Charlotte, N.C., and Smiley Quick of Los Angeles, who shot the best round of the tournament, a seven-under-par 64.

Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg, Fla., who held a one-stroke lead going into the final round, slipped to a three-over 74 and finished with 283.

Bolt, the reformed club thrower, made a game effort to follow up his victory in the Insurance City Open last weekend. He had rounds of 72-69-70-69—280. And not once did he become annoyed with his game or the gallery.

The 36-year-old Furgol, known as a "streaky" player, streaked in only one direction—under par. He started with a one-over 72 and followed with a par 71, a one-under 70 and a four-under 67.

All of the high finishers won money prizes except the 23-year-old Littler, who played for the practice. The former National Amateur champion turned professional last January and under PGA rules is prohibited from accepting prizes for a six-month period.

SIOUX CITY, Ia. (AP) — Sioux City's home run power exploded in the sixth inning of the opener to provide a 7-3 victory but the Des Moines Bruins came back behind Hy Cohen's stingy pitching to take the nightcap 6-1 Sunday night in a Western League doubleheader.

Harvey Haddix Not Ready, Needs Rest

CHICAGO (AP) — Harvey Haddix, the St. Louis Cardinals' lefthanded pitcher who leads both major leagues with 12 victories and four losses, will be unable to take his regular turn Monday as expected.

Haddix, who was hit on the right leg by a Joe Adcock liner in Milwaukee last Thursday, had hoped to resume pitching against the Braves in Monday's double-header at St. Louis.

Cardinal Manager Eddie Stanky said Sunday that the injury has not responded to treatment as rapidly as expected, and Haddix would have to rest a couple more days.

Saddler, Olson Tiffs Top Skimpy Week Of Boxing

NEW YORK (AP)— Featherweight champion Sandy Saddler and middleweight king Bobo Olson appear in non-title bouts topping a skimpy boxing program for the holiday week.

With no Friday show from Madison Square Garden and the Saturday night series turning to amateurs for a week, professional bouts are few and far between.

Saddler, who has not been too impressive since his return from the Army, boxes Libby Manzo, a New York youngster with only 22 pro fights in the 10-round main event at New York's St. Nicholas Arena tomorrow night. Saddler was upset by Hoacine Khalfi, the Algerian, in his last start, May 17.

Olson takes on another warmup fight for his Aug. 20 title defense against Rocky Castellani when he meets Pedro Gaonzales, the clever Rankin, Pa. middleweight Wednesday at Oakland, Calif.

Paul Andrews of Buffalo, N. Y. who sent Danny Nardico into retirement, keeps busy at Miami Beach Tuesday against Chubby Wright in a heavyweight battle.

Eastern Parkway in Brooklyn offers an all-New York middlweight main event tomorrow with Jackie LaBua and Billy McNeece going to work in 10 rounds.

Joey Giardello, Olson's third-ranking contender, tops a Wednesday show at Philadelphia against Billy Kilgore, who stopped Ernie Durando recently. It will be Giardello

White Sox Lose Again As Indians Sweep Series

Pale Hose Held Hitless Until Ninth Inning By Three Cleveland Hurlers

CLEVELAND (AP)—Three Cleveland hurlers kept the Chicago White Sox hitless for nearly nine innings Sunday and won a 2-1 victory for a sweep of a four-game series.

Minnie Minoso spoiled the no-hitter bid with two out in the ninth when he singled off reliefer Early Wynn, but then was out stealing to end the game.

Larry Doby drove in both Cleveland runs with a home run and a single. He has accounted for a total of eight runs in the four-game series and the homer, his 15th, puts him one ahead of his teammate, Al Rosen.

Sunday's victory left the Indians well established in first place on July 4, said to be the crucial date in any pennant race. Records show that seven times out of 10, the team in first on Independence Day is there at the end of the season.

The Chicago run was scored on a walk, a wild pitch and a wild throw. In the eighth inning, Sherm Lollar walked. Fred Marsh, running for him, took second on a wild pitch and moved to third when Willard Marshall grounded out. Marsh scored when Johnny Groth grounded to Bill Glynn, who threw wild to Wynn, covering first, on what should have been the third out.

Cleveland's first run came in the fourth when Bill Glynn hit the second of his three singles, moved to second on a sacrifice by Bob Avila and scored on Doby' single. Doby's homer in the sixth added the other Tribe counter.

Rookie Ray Narleski, who got out 17 batters in a relief stretch that began in the second inning and ended in the eighth, got credit for the victory. Narleski took over after starter Mike Garcia was removed when he was found to have a hemorrhage in the middle finger of his pitching hand.

Grim Blanks Senators 3-0

NEW YORK (AP) — Rookie Bob Grim blanked Washington with five hits Sunday for his first major league shutout as the New York Yankees downed the Senators 3-0. Yogi Berra drove in the first two Yank runs with a single in the sixth and successive doubles by Bill Skowron and Andy Carey added the other run in the seventh.

Grim settled down after a shaky start to win his ninth game to three defeats. Johnny Pesky's double and a walk to Pete Runnels put him in trouble in the first. Tom Umphlett's single and a walk to Joe Tipton provided another threat in the second but Grim helped himself by covering first base to complete a double play.

The Yanks were held to two hits in the first five innings. With one out in the sixth, lefty Maury McDermott walked Grim. Singles by Jerry Coleman and Irv Noren loaded the bases, but Eddie Yost made a great play on Mickey Mantle's trickling grounder to force Grim at the plate. Berra then came through with a bloop single to center, scoring both Coleman and Noren.

Skowron and Carey opened the seventh with successive doubles to make it 3-0.

Orioles Drop Tigers, 3-1

BALTIMORE (AP) — Lou Kretlow scattered five hits—one of them Walt Dropo's pinch-hit home run — as the Baltimore Orioles turned back the Detroit Tigers Sunday 3-1 and swept the three-game series.

Except for Dropo's eight-inning blow, Kretlow was in little trouble posting his second victory of the year against four defeats.

He walked only two and struck out six Tigers before the holiday crowd of 11,506 fans.

The Orioles got to Steve Gromek for two runs in the second inning, then added an insurance run off reliefer Dick Marlowe in the eighth.

Clint Courtney started the second with a single and raced home on Vin Garcia's triple. Jim Brideweser followed with a single past Tiger second baseman Frank Bolling, driving in Garcia.

Optimists Trip Ogallala Nine

Lincoln Star Special

OGALLALA — Dick Welch, 14-year-old righthander, fanned 15 men and allowed five hits as the Lincoln Optimists beat the Ogallala Legion team, 5-2, here Sunday night.

Welch, in scoring his third victory, pitched his best game of the season. His pitching opponent, Larry Kalkowski, also pitched good ball and suffered his first loss.

For the second straight night, the hitting of Larry Littrell sparked the Optimists.

In the seventh inning, Littrell's line double over the shortstop's head scored two runs.

Littrell started a two-run rally in the sixth by doubling with one out. Al Newbill walked after Littrell's hit, and Jon Lu' hit into a force play. Then John Douthit banged a triple to deep left, scoring two runs.

Lincoln got one run in the third when Phil Miller walked, went to second on anerror, took third on an infield hit and scored on a wild pitch by Kalkowski.

Errors led to both Ogallala runs. In the third, Kalkowski lived on Littrell's boot. He stole second and scored when Robinson doubled.

An error, a force play and Howard McVey's two-bagger accounted for an Ogallala run in the eighth. McVey was outstanding for Ogallala.

Lincoln plays at North Platte today at 2 p.m. Denny Curtin (3-1) will pitch for the Optimists.

Red Sox Stop Athletics 8-0

BOSTON (AP) — Sammy White drove in three runs with a home run and a single Sunday as the Boston Red Sox blanked the Philadelphia Athletics 8-0 behind Lefty Leo Kiely's eight-hit pitching.

Kiely, in gaining his second victory of the year against five defeats, posted shutout No. 2 for Boston pitchers as his teammates collected 15 hits. The Red Sox have been blanked eight times to date.

Leo gave up three singles in the first inning but a double play and an inning-ending fly ball by Gus Zernial got him out of trouble. With runners on second and third in the sixth, Kiely fanned Joe DeMaestri, one of his five strikeouts, for the third out.

In an unusual feature, not a single outfield putout was made against Boston.

White's single accounted for the second of Boston's two runs in the first inning after Karl Olson bounced a safety off Spook Jacobs' shoulder to send home Ted Williams.

Sammy crashed a two-run homer into the top of the left field screen above the scoreboard on loser Al Sima's first pitch to make it 5-0 in the third.

Billy Goodman, who got three singles, sent home the doubling Milt Bolling in the second.

Jackie Jensen's infield single and DeMaestri's throwing error scored two runs for Boston in the fourth following a walk, a balk and a force play.

The final Red Sox tally came in the seventh as rookie Hal Raether, third of the A's hurlers making his first major league appearance gave up a single, committed a balk and walked three batters to force in a run.

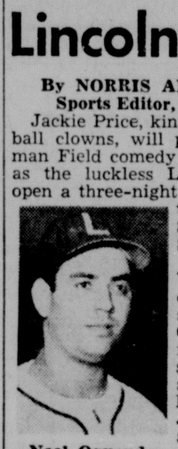
Jackie Price Features Lincoln-Sioux City Tilt

By NORRIS ANDERSON
Sports Editor, The Star

Jackie Price, king of the baseball clowns, will provide Sherman Field comedy relief tonight as the luckless Lincoln Chiefs open a three-night stand against the rising Sioux City Soos.



Noel Oquendo

Manager Whitey Wietelman, after seeing his Chiefs plunge from first to sixth within six weeks, is hoping that Jackie will be a good omen.

"We're certainly entitled a change of luck," moaned Whitey. Look at all the games we've lost in the late innings. It really hurts when you lose one like we lost to Omaha (5-4) Saturday night with Andy Bush, our best pitcher, doing the throwing."

Noel Oquendo (1-3), fiery Puerto Rico native, will be on the mound for the Chiefs. In his last start, Oquendo pitched a three-hit masterpiece, yet was edged by Des Moines.

General Manager Bill Herring announced that Pitcher Tom Keating (1-3) had been given his outright release. Keating had been slow rounding into shape and had been heavily shelled in recent appearances.

New faces in the Chiefs raiment will be pitchers Frank Stewart and Ed Wright. Another pitcher, Bob Stoker, and an infielder, Bobby Myers, are expected to join the club soon.

Norm Brown (6-11) is out of action indefinitely with a sore pitching apparatus. Wietelmann is hoping that Wright, who yielded 11 hits in 3⅔ innings against Des Moines Thursday night, and Stewart will fill Brown's shoes.

Price will start his exhibition at 7:45.

It is now slightly over seven years since Jackie Price first brought his bag of baseball tricks to the nation's fans. But in that time the slight, blond-haired Tennessean has gained the reputation of being baseball's foremost trick artist who can accomplish unusual feats with a ball, bat and glove.

During the past few winters, Price has completed triumphant tours of Korea as well as the Carribean Islands and Central and South America.

Price was a better than ordinary minor league infielder for nearly a decade before Bill Veeck moved him up to the Cleveland Indians in August of 1946.

Record Omaha Crowd Watches Chiefs Absorb 7 To 1 Defeat

OMAHA (AP)—The Omaha Cardinals moved into undisputed second place in the Western League by downing Lincoln, 7-1, Sunday night at Omaha.

A season record crowd saw the Cards sweep the three-game series. Paid attendance was 5,317 and 1,177 kids were admitted free.

Gordon Jones won his sixth game but he had considerable trouble. He allowed 11 hits and several times in the middle innings was threatened with a trip to the showers.

The Cardinals hopped on Roger Wright for a five-run third inning. A triple by Jim King crashed the deep rightfield corner and sent two runners hurrying across the plate.

Wright was relieved by Vance Carlson with Bob Mathieson and Frank Stewart also getting a shot at the Lincoln pitching chores.

The other two Omaha runs came in the seventh with Don McLennan, Barney Elser, Neal Hertweck and King getting consecutive singles.

Jones was wobbly at the start, filling the bases on two singles and a walk in the first inning. He was nicked for a run in the third on singles by Billy Smith, Mel Rue and John Jones. The run, however, scored during a double play.

Lincoln got two men on in the fourth, left the bases full in the fifth and stranded two more men in the seventh.

Stan 'The Man' Musial Top 'Star' Vote-Getter

CHICAGO (AP)— Stan (The Man) Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals emerged Sunday as the highest individual vote getter in the final tabulation of the All-Star baseball poll.

Musial, six-time National League batting champion, polled 1,468,377 of the 4,272,470 votes cast by baseball fans throughout the world. Trailing Musial as first choice were Cleveland's Al Rosen, 1,452,736, and the New York Yankees' Yogi Berra, 1,449,386.

Three National Leaguers and five American Leaguers repeated as winners from last year's vote for starting berths in the 21st annual classic July 13 at Cleveland.

In the National League, Musial received the nod again for right field while Roy Campanella of the Brooklyn Dodgers repeated as catcher with Ted Kluszewski of the Cincinnati Redlegs the choice at first base.

In the American, Berra joined two other members of the Yankees' world champion team as repeaters by remaining first choice as catcher. Mickey Mantle annexed the center field position for a second year in a row. Hank Bauer matched his Yankee teammate as starting right fielder.

Minnie Minoso of the White Sox took the left field starting berth with a commanding 300,000 vote bulge over Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox, a perennial selection. Bobby Avila of the league-leading Indians and Ray Boone of Detroit round out the starting junior circuit lineup.

Joining Musial, Campanella and Kluszewski as National League starters are: Granny Hamner of Philadelphia, second base; Ray Jablonski of St. Louis, third base; Alvin Dark of New York, shortstop; and Jackie Robinson and Duke Snider of Brooklyn as left and center fielders.

Manager Casey Stengel of the Yankees and Walter Alston of the Dodgers are expected to announce their selection of pitchers and reserve players Monday. The Nationals won last year 5 to 1 at Cincinnati for their fourth straight victory.

Rules of the voting poll require that players named as starters be permitted to play the first three innings before being replaced.

Kearney Man Tops Gunners

By BILL FITZGERALD
Star Sports Staff Member

Gordon Still of Kearney dominated the Class A field in a registered shoot at the Lincoln Gun Club Sunday.

The Kearney shooter hit 96 out of 100 targets at 16 yards.

Lincoln's Al Behrens won the Class B event with 98 out of 100, and Tal Edwards of Alvo and Loren Hall of Beatrice tied for Class C honors with 96 successful shots.

Lincoln's Johnnie Johnsen captured Class D with 93 out of 100.

Alvo's Edwards shot from 20 yards in the handicap event and beat the fairly large field with 94 out of 100. Bernie Knudson of Lincoln was second with 93

A league trapshoot will be held here later this summer. Lincoln is a member of Eastern Nebraska Sportsmen's Associations. Other members are Beatrice, Fremont, Omaha, Tekemah, and Scribner.

Stan Musial returned to first base for the first time since 1952 because of rookie Tom Alston's batting slump.

'Patriotism Ideas Need To Be Refined'

"Each of us should refine our ideas about the noble virtues of patriotism and loyalty," the Rev. Michell M. Kaczmarek said in a July 4 sermon at St. Teresa's Catholic Church.

"We cannot overcome the very real dangers to which we are exposed," he said, "unless we rethink the ideals for which we stand."

Rev. Kaczmarek

Patriotism is "the well-ordered love of one's country and of his fellow citizens," the Rev. Mr. Kaczmarek said.

Independence Day, he said, offers an occasion to suggest ten norms by which to distinguish true from bogus patriotism.

He said the true patriot does these things:

1. Seldom labels himself a patriot, but has an exalted idea of what patriotism demands of him and an acute realization of how far he falls short of his own ideals.

2. Embraces under "love of country" everything that preserves and promotes its moral and material, spiritual and temporal character.

3. Keeps his eye on the common good, properly conceived, of his local community, state and nation.

4. Sees his own country and other countries as members of the family of nations, united by the indestructible moral bond of a common human nature.

5. Defends the rights of every person and has only one set of principles of justice which he applies to everyone.

6. Upholds constitutional government and the rule of law.

7. Tempers his zeal in order to avoid imputing unpatriotic motives to his fellow citizens unless their conduct leaves no alternative.

8. Devotes himself to the public good as far as his time and talents allow.

9. Counts the cost of his contributions to his country not according to their size but according to their necessity.

10. Encourages patriotism in others in every way he can.

Second Presbyterian

"Now the Lord is the Spirit, and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is freedom," Paul wrote in II Corinthians 3:17.

The Rev. A. Myrvin De Lapp, pastor of Second Presbyterian Church, cited this quotation as a summary of the true nature of freedom.

Rev. De Lapp

"To know the ultimate Source of creation and destiny and to be related to that Source is to possess freedom," the Rev. Mr. De Lapp said.

But we are tempted to a false view of freedom, he said, "because we have a small view of God and His character and a badly distorted concept of freedom."

We have sought to create God in our own image, he said, and "when our petty, selfish desires have clashed with the sovereignty of His holy will, we have accused God of tyrannical arbitrariness."

We would be removed from such a low view, he said, "by knowing Jesus, in whom we know God as a Person who treats us as persons by granting and honoring our freedom."

Bethany Christian

The Rev. W. Howard Holverson in his sermon at Bethany Christian Church quoted the Psalmist:

"The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein."

Rev. Holverson

Even the friends of God, the Rev. Mr. Holverson said, need the Psalmist to remind them not to push God into the "religious" corner of life while facing practical issues.

As we manufacture our minor shibboleths of "one hundred per cent Americanism," "anti-communism" and the like, he said, "we need to remember the true measure of a man is the integrity of his heart."

Likewise, he said, "the measure of any nation is the freedom and justice for which it stands."

History is neither the rhythmic rise and fall of men and nations nor the outcome of blind chance, he said.

It is the unfolding of a purpose — God's purpose — as it drives toward a goal, the Rev. Mr. Holverson said.

The goal, he said, is the ultimate acceptance by men that "The earth is the Lord's."

Southminster EUB

"If any man will come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me."

Rev. Herrick

The Rev. Marvin V. Herrick quoted these words of Jesus in his first sermon at Southminster Evangelical United Brethren Church.

The cross of which Jesus was speaking he said, is not the suffering that comes from illness, nor a financial crash or any similar misfortunes.

These, he said, come to non-Christians as well as Christians, and are burdens, but not crosses.

When Jesus spoke of denying oneself, the Rev. Mr. Herrick said, He was not referring to the denying of ourselves of things.

What Jesus was speaking of, he said, was denying "the self" —the stubborn self, the angry self, the ego.

The true meaning of Jesus' words, the Rev. Mr. Herrick said, is exemplified by His life.

As He walked upon the earth His concern was not what was going to happen to Him, but rather what was going to happen to you and others just like you, he said.

What is important, the Rev. Mr. Herrick said, is for a man to deny himself (the egocentric self) and take up his cross (voluntarily).

1974	Bond Nos.	1416	to 1500,	85,000.00

Bonds Nos. 336 to 1500 inclusive, maturing on July 1, of each of the years 1960 to 1974, inclusive, shall be redeemable, prior to maturity, as a whole or in part at the option of the City at any time on or after five years from date. If less than all of the bonds numbered 336 to 1500 inclusive, are to be redeemed at any time, the bonds to be redeemed shall be selected by lot in any usual manner. Principal and interest will be payable at the office of the County Treasurer of Lancaster County, at Lincoln, Nebraska.

Said bonds were authorized to be issued by said city pursuant to a charter amendment approved by the voters of said City at an election held in and for said City on May 3, 1949, for the purpose of building and equipping a city auditorium.

Said bonds will be general obligations of the City payable from advalorem taxes levied upon all the taxable property in said city without limitation as to rate or amount. The assessed valuation of taxable property in the city for the year 1953 as equalized and determined is $135,901,747.00. The total aggregate indebtedness of the city of every kind and character whatsoever will be after the issuance of these bonds, $3,460,805.00 of which $1,165,605 is special assessment bonds. The population of the City is approximately 110,000.

Bids must be for all and not a part of said bonds, and said bonds will be awarded to a responsible bidder on the basis of the lowest interest cost to the city, but no bid will be considered providing for more than four interest rates and each interest rate shall be in multiple of one-fourth of one per cent or one-tenth of one per cent. All bonds of the same maturity shall bear interest at the same rate and no bid will be considered for less than par or bearing interest at a greater rate than three per cent (3%) per annum. In determining the best bid, the interest cost to the city will be computed by determining the interest from July 1, 1954 to absolute maturity of the bonds at the rate or rates specified by the bidder after deducting therefrom any premium offered.

Bids will be opened at a meeting of the City Council of said city held in Lincoln, Nebraska, at 10:00 o'clock A.M. on Monday, July 12, 1954, at which time, and place, bids will be publicly read and the award made to the successful bidder.

Said bonds will be delivered with the unqualified approving opinion of Chapman and Cutler, Attorneys, Chicago, Illinois, and said opinion is to be paid for by the said city, the printed bonds to be supplied by the successful bidder, and all bids must be so conditioned. Each bid must be accompanied by a cashier's or certified check drawn on a state or national bank and made payable to Frank J. Miller, City Treasurer, in the sum of $30,000.00, as a guarantee of good faith and for security for the performance of such bid and as liquidated damages in case the successful bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds.

All proposals shall be enclosed in a sealed envelope, marked on the outside, "PROPOSAL FOR BONDS," and addressed to Theo. H. Berg, City Clerk, at the City Hall in the City of Lincoln, Nebraska.

The City reserves the right to reject any or all bids

By order of the City Council of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska.

Gordon Homer Gives Pirates Split With Giants

New York's Lead Cut By Half Game Despite 9 To 2 Victory In Opener

PITTSBURGH (AP)— Pinch-hitter Sid Gordon socked a three-run homer in the eighth inning Sunday to give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 7-6 victory over the league-leading New York Giants in the second game of a double-header. The Giants took the first game 9-2.

The victory and the loss shaved the Giants' lead over the second-place Brooklyn Dodgers to 3½ games. The Dodgers, playing only one game Sunday, defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 5-3.

Gordon's pinch homer in the nightcap came with two out, runners on first and second and the Pirates trailing by two runs.

Gordon batted for pitcher Paul LaPalme who had given up 6 runs and 12 hits in 7½ innings. LaPalme was credited with the victory, his first of the season. He has five losses.

The Pirates belted four Giant hurlers for 11 hits. Larry Jansen started the game but was knocked out of the box in the fourth inning. Hoyt Wilhelm replaced him but was taken out for a pinch hitter in the sixth frame. Marv Grissom, who replaced Wilhelm, was charged with the loss. John McCall finished the Giants' pitching chores.

Gordon's homer was his first this season at Forbes Field. It was his third round-tripper of the year. Until he swatted the winning blow, Gordon had not driven in a run in 15 games.

The Giants' Don Liddle, a southpaw, allowed only three hits in the 8 2-3 innings that he pitched in the first game. With two out and the bases loaded in the ninth frame, Liddle was replaced by McCall who retired the last Pirate batter. Liddle's record now stands at three victories and two losses.

The Giants got 14 hits off three Pirate hurlers. The starter, Max Surkont gave up 7 runs and 8 hits in 3 2-3 innings. Bob Purkey and Laurin Pepper absorbed the rest of the Giant slugging, giving up a total of six hits.

Surkont was charged with the loss, making his season record six victories and 10 defeats.

Dusty Rhodes replaced Monte Irvin in left field for the Giants in the first game. Rhodes drove in three runs with two hits, including his second homer of the year.

Hank Thompson hit his 13th homer of the season in the Giants half of the seventh inning in the second game. The blow scored two runners ahead of Thompson and gave the Giants a three-run edge.

Bums Defeat Phils In Ten

PHILADELPHIA (AP)— The Brooklyn Dodgers blasted Robin Roberts for a pair of triples and two doubles in the 10th inning Sunday to score four runs and beat the Philadelphia Phillies 5-3 at Connie Mack Stadium. Carl Erskine earned his eighth win against the same number of defeats, while for Roberts it was loss number eight against 11 victories.

The Dodgers, fighting desperately to keep from losing any more ground to the league-leading New York Giants, broke up a 1-1 tie with their 10th-inning onslaught.

Park Valley's 18-Hole Mark Tied By Maul

Par was battered and a course record was shaken out at Park Valley's nine-hole course Sunday when John Maul played one of the best rounds in the Capital City this season.

The Lincoln golfer went around in 33, then shot a 31 and tied the course record for 18 holes with his 64. The mark was set by Stan Stroh of Lincoln two summers back.

On his big day Stroh also established the nine hole mark of 30. Maul missed that record by one stroke Sunday.

Ross Holway had a good week end with games of 35 and 36 while Dick Trouton shot a 35 and two 37's. Casey Jones clicked for a 39, and his wife, Betty, fired a 53.

Leo Ostermiller led over 600 Pioneers golfers with his 73. Don Hoff and Joe Gifford, Sr., trailed with 74's.

Gifford also shot a 75 while Ed Dosek came through with two 75's.

Other scores at Pioneers: 76—Ken Odle, Vern Vogt, Bo Bullock; 77—Clayton Anderson, Wilbert Everett; 79—Oscar Wisbey, Joe Dworak; 80—Paul Lang; 87—Thelma Wood.

Dick Peters got an eagle on the 14th and finished with an 82.

Activity at the Lincoln Country Club was the first half of holiday play which will close Monday. Don Pegler, Sr., shot a 69 to lead the field into the final day.

Don Pegler, Jr., and Bill Mowbray had 71's; Dr. F. W. Ahlbrecht and Jerry Hunt 73's; Wheaton Battey, Steve Flansburg and Herb Duermeyer 74's; Ralph Ireland 83 and Charlie Miller 84.

Ireland led in low net for 18 with a 62. Don Pegler Sa., had low net for nine with 29½ and low gross for nine with 32.

Four Hillcrest goifers came in with their best scores of the summer.

Jerry Jones and H. P. Swedeburg did the 18 in 74's. The score for Swedeburg may have been the best game of his golfing life.

Jim Carrier's 79 was his season low as was the 83 of Dr. R. P. Marshall.

Special events went to Ed Smith and Jack McCuistion for longest drives on Nos. 9 and 10 respectively.

Mick McCuistion won the closest-to-pin award on No. 3, while Pat Mulligan took it on No. 8, George Albin on No. 12 and C. E. Squire on No. 16.

Dr. Marshall was the Sweepstakes winner with a net 62. Jim Carrier with second with 63, George Albin third with 66 and C. S. Kirk fourth with 67.

Tied for fifth with 68 were Bud Woolman, Ray Becker, E. F. Bechtold and Jack Morris.

Cards Split With Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals exploded for five runs in the fifth inning to blank Chicago 7-0 in the second game of a doubleheader after the Cubs won the opener 4-2 here Sunday.

Snapping a six-game losing streak against the Cubs, the Cardinals completed three weeks of travel to seven National League cities with a 7 won, 11 lost record.

Royce Lint, pitching the distance the first time this season, evened his record at 2-2 by yielding nine hits. Johnny Klippstein drew the loss, his seventh. It marked the eighth straight time the fast-balling righthander has started and failed to finish.

Rookie Joe Cunningham paced St. Louis' 13-hit assault in the second game with three singles.

Redlegs Tip Braves, 4-3

MILWAUKEE (AP)— Jim Greengrass' bases-loaded single highlighted a four-run sixth inning Sunday as the Cincinnati Redlegs chased Lew Burdette to beat the Milwaukee Braves, 4-3, and climb to within a half-game of the National League's first division.

Burdette, riding a one-hitter through the first five innings in which he faced only 15 batters, fell apart with two out in the sixth. It was the second straight game in which the rubber-armed righthander had blown in the middle innings.

A Bad Deal For Both Participants

Joe Garagiola, Chicago Cubs catcher, smacks into Pitcher Joe Presko (far right) of the St. Louis Cardinals in the second inning of the first game of a doubleheader at Wrigley Field Sunday. Garagiola ended up in the hospital with a sprained ankle and Presko lost his effectiveness soon afterward, being belted hard as the Cubs won 4-2. The action came when Garagiolo grounded out to Cardinal First Baseman Joe Cunningham (left). No. 46 is Cub Coach Bob Scheffing. (AP Wirephoto.)

Middlecoff Whips Slump To Capture Motor City Open Golf

DETROIT (AP)— Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, Tenn.—who almost quit in the first round — smashed Meadowbrook's par and a strange one-year slump Sunday when he fired a three-under-par 68 to win the Motor City Open with a 72-hole total of 278.

The 33-year-old dentist, winless since the Carlings Open last summer, dismantled Meadowbrook's par 71 with rounds of 72-68-70-68—278, six under par. It gave him a two-stroke edge over Gene Littler, the promising newcomer from Palm Springs, Calif., veteran Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill., and Tommy Bolt, Houston, Texas.

Littler and Furgol topped Middlecoff's 68 with a pair of hot 67s but the good doctor's steadiness in the four-day tournament was the turning point.

In winning his third Motor City title, Middlecoff picked up first prize of $3,000. He shared the crown with Lloyd Mangrum in 1949 and won it outright in 1952.

Only last Thursday, when the $17,500 event started, Middlecoff broke his pet putter and said he "felt like picking up and quitting."

But he quieted his momentary flare of temper, steadied his game and completely spoiled the tournament for the other 156 players with his cold, calculating shotmaking.

Three players were bracketed at 281 for fourth place — Wally Burkmo, Franklin, Mich.; Ted Kroll, New Hartford, N. Y., and Rudy Horvath, Windsor, Ont.

Following at 282 were veteran Johnny Palmer from Charlotte, N.C., and Smiley Quick of Los Angeles, who shot the best round of the tournament, a seven-under-par 64.

Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg, Fla., who held a one-stroke lead going into the final round, slipped to a three-over 74 and finished with 283.

Bolt, the reformed club thrower, made a game effort to follow up his victory in the Insurance City Open last weekend. He had rounds of 72-69-70-69—280. And not once did he become annoyed with his game or the gallery.

The 36-year-old Furgol, known as a "streaky" player, streaked in only one direction—under par. He started with a one-over 72 and followed with a par 71, a one-under 70 and a four-under 67.

All of the high finishers won money prizes except the 23-year-old Littler, who played for the practice. The former National Amateur champion turned professional last January and under PGA rules is prohibited from accepting prizes for a six-month period.

Soos, Bruins Split

SIOUX CITY, Ia. (AP) — Sioux City's home run power exploded in the sixth inning of the opener to provide a 7-3 victory but the Des Moines Bruins came back behind Hy Cohen's stingy pitching to take the nightcap 6-1 Sunday night in a Western League doubleheader.

Harvey Haddix Not Ready, Needs Rest

CHICAGO (AP) — Harvey Haddix, the St. Louis Cardinals' lefthanded pitcher who leads both major leagues with 12 victories and four losses, will be unable to take his regular turn Monday as expected.

Haddix, who was hit on the right leg by a Joe Adcock liner in Milwaukee last Thursday, had hoped to resume pitching against the Braves in Monday's double-header at St. Louis.

Cardinal Manager Eddie Stanky said Sunday that the injury has not responded to treatment as rapidly as expected, and Haddix would have to rest a couple more days.

Saddler, Olson Tiffs Top Skimpy Week Of Boxing

NEW YORK (AP)— Featherweight champion Sandy Saddler and middleweight king Bobo Olson appear in non-title bouts topping a skimpy boxing program for the holiday week.

With no Friday show from Madison Square Garden and the Saturday night series turning to amateurs for a week, professional bouts are few and far between.

Saddler, who has not been too impressive since his return from the Army, boxes Libby Manzo, a New York youngster with only 22 pro fights in the 10-round main event at New York's St. Nicholas Arena tomorrow night. Saddler was upset by Hoacine Khalfi, the Algerian, in his last start, May 17.

Olson takes on another warmup fight for his Aug. 20 title defense against Rocky Castellani when he meets Pedro Gaonzales, the clever Rankin, Pa. middleweight Wednesday at Oakland, Calif.

Paul Andrews of Buffalo, N. Y, who sent Danny Nardico into retirement, keeps busy at Miami Beach Tuesday against Chubby Wright in a heavyweight battle.

Eastern Parkway in Brooklyn offers an all-New York middlweight main event tomorrow with Jackie LaBua and Billy McNeece going to

From Lincoln Pulpits:

'Patriotism Ideas Need To Be Refined'

"Each of us should refine our ideas about the noble virtues of patriotism and loyalty," the Rev. Michell M. Kaczmarek said in a July 4 sermon at St. Teresa's Catholic Church.

Rev. Kaczmarek

"We cannot overcome the very real dangers to which we are exposed," he said, "unless we rethink the ideals for which we stand."

Patriotism is "the well-ordered love of one's country and of his fellow citizens," the Rev. Mr. Kaczmarek said.

Independence Day, he said, offers an occasion to suggest ten norms by which to distinguish true from bogus patriotism.

He said the true patriot does these things:

1. Seldom labels himself a patriot, but has an exalted idea of what patriotism demands of him and an acute realization of how far he falls short of his own ideals.

2. Embraces under "love of country" everything that preserves and promotes its moral and material, spiritual and temporal character.

3. Keeps his eye on the common good, properly conceived, of his local community, state and nation.

4. Sees his own country and other countries as members of the family of nations, united by the indestructible moral bond of a common human nature.

5. Defends the rights of every person and has only one set of principles of justice which he applies to everyone.

6. Upholds constitutional government and the rule of law.

7. Tempers his zeal in order to avoid imputing unpatriotic motives to his fellow citizens unless their conduct leaves no alternative.

8. Devotes himself to the public good as far as his time and talents allow.

9. Counts the cost of his contributions to his country not according to their size but according to their necessity.

10. Encourages patriotism in others in every way he can.

Second Presbyterian

"Now the Lord is the Spirit, and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is freedom," Paul wrote in II Corinthians 3:17.

The Rev. A. Myrvin De Lapp, pastor of Second Presbyterian Church, cited this quotation as a summary of the true nature of freedom.

Rev. De Lapp

"To know the ultimate Source of creation and destiny and to be related to that Source is to possess freedom," the Rev. Mr. De Lapp said.

But we are tempted to a false view of freedom, he said, "because we have a small view of God and His character and a badly distorted concept of freedom."

We have sought to create God in our own image, he said, and "when our petty, selfish desires have clashed with the sovereignty of His holy will, we have accused God of tyrannical arbitrariness."

We would be removed from such a low view, he said, "by knowing Jesus, in whom we know God as a Person who treats us as persons by granting and honoring our freedom."

Bethany Christian

The Rev. W. Howard Holverson in his sermon at Bethany Christian Church quoted the Psalmist:

"The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein."

Rev. Holverson

Even the friends of God, the Rev. Mr. Holverson said, need the Psalmist to remind them not to push God into the "religious" corner of life while facing practical issues.

As we manufacture our minor shibboleths of "one hundred per cent Americanism," "anti-communism" and the like, he said, "we need to remember the true measure of a man is the integrity of his heart."

Likewise, he said, "the measure of any nation is the freedom and justice for which it stands."

History is neither the rhythmic rise and fall of men and nations nor the outcome of blind chance, he said.

It is the unfolding of a purpose — God's purpose — as it drives toward a goal, the Rev. Mr. Holverson said.

The goal, he said, is the ultimate acceptance by men that "The earth is the Lord's."

Southminster EUB

"If any man will come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me."

Rev. Herrick

The Rev. Marvin V. Herrick quoted these words of Jesus in his first sermon at Southminster Evangelical United Brethren Church.

The cross of which Jesus was speaking he said, is not the suffering that comes from illness, nor a financial crash or any similar misfortunes.

These, he said, come to non-Christians as well as Christians, and are burdens, but not crosses.

When Jesus spoke of denying oneself, the Rev. Mr. Herrick said, He was not referring to the denying of ourselves of things.

What Jesus was speaking of, he said, was denying "the self"—the stubborn self, the angry self, the ego.

The true meaning of Jesus' words, the Rev. Mr. Herrick said, is exemplified by His life.

As He walked upon the earth His concern was not what was going to happen to Him, but rather what was going to happen to you and others just like you, he said.

What is important, the Rev. Mr. Herrick said, is for a man to deny himself (the egocentric self) and take up his cross (voluntarily).

Bonds Nos. 336 to 1500 inclusive, maturing on July 1, of each of the years 1960 to 1974, inclusive, shall be redeemable, prior to maturity, as a whole or in part at the option of the City at any time on or after five years from date. If less than all of the bonds numbered 336 to 1500 inclusive, are to be redeemed at any time, the bonds to be redeemed shall be selected by lot in any usual manner. Principal and interest will be payable at the office of the County Treasurer of Lancaster County, at Lincoln, Nebraska.

Said bonds were authorized to be issued by said city pursuant to a charter amendment approved by the voters of said City at an election held in and for said City on May 3, 1949, for the purpose of building and equipping a city auditorium.

Said bonds will be general obligations of the City payable from advalorem taxes levied upon all the taxable property in said city without limitation as to rate or amount. The assessed valuation of taxable property in the city for the year 1953 as equalized and determined is $135,901,747.00. The total aggregate indebtedness of the city of every kind and character whatsoever will be after the issuance of these bonds, $3,460,805.00 of which $1,165,805 is special assessment bonds. The population of the City is approximately 110,000.

Bids must be for all and not a part of said bonds, and said bonds will be awarded to a responsible bidder on the basis of the lowest interest cost to the city, but no bid will be considered providing for more than four interest rates and each interest rate shall be in multiple of one-fourth of one per cent or one-tenth of one per cent. All bonds of the same maturity shall bear interest at the same rate and no bid will be considered for less than par or bearing interest at a greater rate than three per cent (3%) per annum. In determining the best bid, the interest cost to the city will be computed by determining the interest from July 1, 1954 to absolute maturity of the bonds at the rate or rates specified by the bidder after deducting therefrom any premium offered.

Bids will be opened at a meeting of the City Council of said city held in Lincoln, Nebraska, at 10:00 o'clock A.M. on Monday, July 12, 1954, at which time, and place, bids will be publicly read and the award made to the successful bidder.

Said bonds will be delivered with the unqualified approving opinion of Chapman and Cutler, Attorneys, Chicago, Illinois, and said opinion is to be paid for by the said city, the printed bonds to be supplied by the successful bidder, and all bids must be so conditioned. Each bid must be accompanied by a cashier's or certified check drawn on a state or national bank and made payable to Frank J. Miller, City Treasurer, in the sum of $30,000.00, as a guarantee of good faith and for security for the performance of such bid and as liquidated damages in case the successful bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds.

All proposals shall be enclosed in a sealed envelope, marked on the outside, "PROPOSAL FOR BONDS," and addressed to Theo. H. Berg, City Clerk, at the City Hall in the City of Lincoln, Nebraska.

The City reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 5 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 5, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

BAERING DOWN ON THE NEWS By Arthur 'Bugs' Baer

(Distributed by International News Service)

This is one of those peculiar chronological mix-max where you get two holidays for the price of one.

☆ ☆ ☆

When the Fourth falls on a Sunday it results in the concentration of the equinox and stutters a bit. It's like using the International Date Line for a skipping rope.

Bugs Baer

☆ ☆ ☆

And although a duplication of effort is not desirable we certainly enjoy two Fourths.

☆ ☆ ☆

If you drove neatly yesterday you have another opportunity to pile up today. Some years ago we said no foreign power would have the nerve to challenge us if it saw what we do to each other on a holiday.

☆ ☆ ☆

So we repeat for the West Coast our warning for yesterday, tomorrow and roads without end.

☆ ☆ ☆

The life you save may be your own. Stay away from the middle of the road. Don't drive like the white line was the Atlantic cable and you are an urgent message.

☆ ☆ ☆

Today we celebrate liberty, independence and the right to drink anything you want. But remember this thing started with a keg of tea in Boston Harbor.

☆

Folks ask me if they shouldn't get sore about that bottle-neck on the Merritt Parkway just short of Mount Vernon. Well, I've been trapped there 11 times in the last six weeks. The contractors haven't made up their minds whether they are building a bridge, a tunnel, a cloverleaf of a permanent detour. It's just possible that some deserving Democrats got hold of an old PWA blue-print and are singing, "Turn back the universe and give me yesterday."

☆ ☆ ☆

It don't bother [illegible]. I've got a head that looks right on a bottle [illegible]. And it's one spot where you have to drive carefully.

☆ ☆ ☆

It was a pretty nice week-end with a good chance of getting educated on the world's finest billboards.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

Here's How To Work It

A Cryptogram Quotation

A Y I D L B A A X E B L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

GEPY SOMDZFI HPLZ TPYOL PWO ID VADPYO P SRTU JO UAF TEZ JOYWELU OWOYSDYO—HOEUT.

Saturday's Cryptoquote: GLORIOUS LAZY DRONE, GROWS FAT WITH FEEDING ON OTHER'S TOIL—MASSINGER.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Here's How To Work It

A X Y U L B A A X E
W L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

BAERING DOWN ON THE NEWS By Arthur 'Bugs' Baer

(Distributed by International News Service)

This is one of those peculair chronological mix-max where you get two holidays for the price of one.

☆ ☆ ☆

When the Fourth falls on a Sunday it results in the c oncentration of the equinox and stutters a bit. It's like using the International Date Line for a skipping rope.

Bugs Baer

☆ ☆ ☆

And although a duplication of effort is not desireable we certainly enjoy two Fourths.

☆ ☆ ☆

If you drove neatly yesterday yeu have another opportunity to pile up today. Some years ago we said no foreign power would have the nerve to challenge us if it saw what we do to each other on a holiday.

☆ ☆ ☆

So we repeat for the West Coast our warning for yesterday, tomorrow and roads without end.

☆ ☆ ☆

The life you save may be your own. Stay away from the middle of the road. Don't drive like the white line was the Atlantic cable and you are an urgent message.

☆ ☆ ☆

Today we celebrate liberty, independence and the right to drink anything you want. But remember this thing started with a bag of tea in Boston Harbor.

☆ ☆ ☆

Folks ask me if they shouldn't get sore about that bottle-neck on the Merritt Parkway just short of Mount Vernon. Well, I've been trapped there 11 times in the last six weeks. The contractors haven't made up their minds whether they are building a bridge, a tunnel, a cloverleaf of a permanent detour. It's just possible that some deserving Democrats got hold of an old PWA blue-print and are singing, "Turn back the universe and give me yesterday."

☆ ☆ ☆

☆ ☆ ☆

It was a pretty nice week-end with a good chance of getting educated on the world's finest billboards.
